ANTRIM.-George McCrea, aged seventy-four years, of Castletown, Abog hill, has been missing since the 22d of May. On this date McCrae left home for Ballymena, and it is thought that he never reached the latter place. He was seen in Ahoghill on the date fudicated, but since then his whereabouts are unknown, although his family and friends have done everything possible. Rev. Ed. and McGuire, Kilskerry. to discover him. The missing man is about five feet eleven inches in height and has a gray beard. When he left vest, dark trousers, cap and red muf-

The workers in the Braidwater spinming mill, Ballymena, who had been out on strike, returned to their work on the 14th of June on what was con sidered a satisfactory basis of settlement. Subsequently some 100 machine boys demanded an increase, and, according to all the information that can be gleaned, it appears that the declined to accept. The result was that they refused to work and marched in a body from the mill premises and subsequently through the principal streets of the town singing, "We'll not go back to the mill again till we get a raise of pay" It is thought that the strike may affect a further stoppage of the works, which give employment free from differences of this sort for a standing considerable number of years

ARMAGH .-- An accident of a most distressing character occurred in Port adown on June 18 While at work in Hamilton Robb's brickyard at Eden derry John McKenna, a laborer, was caught in the huge rollers of the machinery and his body ground to pulp McKenna was a widower about fifty years of age. He resided with his daughter in David street, Portadown, where he kept a lodging house. He had been in Mr Robb's employment for a considerable number of years. Being a most industrious and inoffensive mun, he was esteemed by his fellow workers. The coroner's jury found a verdict of death through an accident.

An accident which resulted in the death of T. Cosgrova, Glennevlin, occurred at the Glan crossroads, near Blacklion, on June 9. Mr Cosgrove, accompanied by two men, was driving home from Blacklion when one of the shafts of the car broke, throwing the occupants on the road. His companions, having regained consciousness went to the assistance of Mr. Cosgrove, but were horrified to find that he was dead. The sad occurrence has thrown gloom over that part of ('avan and the adjoining counties of Leitrim and Fer managh, o where the deceased was known and respected. Mr. Cosgrove had been connected with the public boards of his county for many years and was at the time of his death vice chairman of the Enniskillen No. 2 R.D. council.
