Catholic News From Many Places

Miss Thorold, the oldest daughter of the late Bishop Thorold, a distinguished Anglican divine, has just been received into the Church by Father Maturia, formerly of St. Clement's P. E. Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

It is stated that the names chosen by the Bishop's Council for the vacant see of Manchester, N. H., have been sent to Rome in the following order: Rt. Rev. Mgr. E. M. O'Callaghan of Concord, Rev. A. Guertin of Manchester, and Rev. Andrew T. Timon of Franklin. It is generally conceded that Mgr. O'Callaghan will succeed to the vacant Bishopric.

The Pope appeared amused this week when he was informed that several cable dispatches had arrived from America making inquiries regarding his health and saying that His Holiness was threatened with paralysis of the heart. He remarked: "Under this aspect the journalists lack originality. They continue to treat me as if I were Leo XIII."

A dispatch from Leon, Guanajuato, to El Pais de Mexico, states that Mgr. Don Andres Segura has been appointed Bishop of the Diocese of Tepic in succession to Rt. Rev. Francisco Diaz. Bishop-elect Segura was born in Leon, November 28, 1850, and has spent a number of years as professor in the Conciliar Seminary at that place.

Recently, when Bishop Van de Ven of Natchitoches, La., transferred Rev. C. Mahe to another field the non-Catholics of the town sent up a joint petition to the Bishop asking that the priest be allowed to remain. During the yellow fever episode of last year Father Mahe had visited stricken Protestants as well as Catholics, and thus won their regard. The Bishop yielded and the priest remains.

The scholarship presented to Trinity College, Washington, by the Ladies Aux. of the A. O. H. was won by Miss Molly Murphy of Norwich, Conn. To attain the scholarship one of the requirements was a competitive examination in Latin, French, German, English, Irish and American history, geometry and algebra. In two of these examinations Miss Murphy stood 100.

An Indian edition of the epistles and gospels, in the Chippewa language, will soon be issued. It will contain the gospels for all the Sundays of the year, with short explanations and numerous illustrations. This is the first work of its kind in the Chippewa language, and the author is Rev. Chrysostom Verwilt, a missionary priest of the Franciscan order. Father Verwilt is the author of several Indian prayer-books, as well as a life of Bishop Baraga, one of the pioneer Bishops of the Northwest.

Alphonse G. Koelb, delegate of the American Federation of Catholic Societies reached Germany this week on the Pretoria. He is a representative of the German Catholic Central Society of the United States and will attend the fifty-third annual convention of the Catholics of Germany, which was held August 19 to 23 at Essen. Mr. Koelb will be first delegate to represent the American organization at a convention of Catholics in Germany.

Denmark is one of the most predominantly Protestant countries in the world, having a few years ago, amongst all its 2,000,000 inhabitants, only 3,000 Catholics. But now-a-days the monks and nuns expelled from France are flocking into Denmark just as they are flocking into England, finding apparently a ready welcome. Denmark forty years ago had only three Catholic priests; she now has seventy, besides 400 nuns.

Eighth Week at Champlain Assembly

(Written for The Journal)

The chief event of the eighth week at the Catholic Summer School were the presentation and raising of the flag given by the School to be hoisted on Crab Island in Lake Champlain, which is the burial place of the British and American sailors who fell in the victory of Commodore Maconough over the former on Lake Champlain, September 11, 1814. The island is by an Act of Congress to be converted into a park to be known as the Maconough National Park. The presentation took place in the Auditorium on Thursday. After patriotic songs by members of the Assembly, and short speeches by distinguished visitors and members of the legislatures of Northern New York and Vermont, and the reading of an original poem on Commodore Maconough by the author, John Jerome Rooney of New York, the presentation address was made by the President of the Summer School, Rev. John Talbot Smith, L. L. D. The flag, which is the gift of a patron of the School, Mr. John Flanagan of New York, was accepted on behalf of the U. S. Army by Major General Grant in command of the Department of the East, represented by Captain Hartmann, commanding the Post of Plattsburgh barracks. On Friday, the flag was raised on the island by a detail of soldiers under Captain Hartmann amid the firing of a salute of twenty-one guns from a battery planted on the Summer School grounds with music during the intervals of the firing, by the field musicians of the Fifth Infantry.

The members of the Champlain Assembly viewed the flag raising from the steamer "Ticoenderoga", which circled the island during the ceremony, at the close of which they sang the "Star Spangled Banner" accompanied by the music of Greene's orchestra.

The celebrant at the High Mass on Sunday was the Rev. D. J. Hickey of Brooklyn, treasurer of the School with Rev. J. Doyle as deacon and Rev. Fr. McCaffery, C. S. C., sub-deacon. The Mass, which was Roschweig's in F, was rendered by the volunteer choir, composed of the Misses Sloane, Meehan and Ivers, soprano; Miss Kelly, alto; Dr. Wm. P. Grady, Messrs. Beha and Martin and Rev. J. T. Smith, tenors; and Mr. Merrill Greene, basso.

At the reception given to the distinguished visitors and the lecturers of the coming week, were besides the Rev. President, Mr. J. Harrington, one of the most prominent Knights of Columbus in the District of Columbia, Rev. D. J. Hickey, Rev. Wm. Kerby, Ph. D., of the Catholic University, Washington, Dr. Charles P. Neill, U. S. Commissioner of Labor, and Mr. John Ward of Philadelphia. Songs were sung by the Misses Meehan and Eustace, recitations by Mr. J. McCoy and Miss Maud Brady, and an amusing monologue on music was given by the Rev. B. J. Bogan, of Plainfield, N. Y.

On Tuesday night there was held a camp fire in the camp in which parts were taken by Rev. Thomas McMillan, C. S. P., and Rev. Father Bogan. On Monday and Wednesday nights the usual weekly hops were held at the Champlain and Jersey Clubs.

On Friday evening, a memorial meeting of the residents of Cliff Haven was held for the late Warren E. Mosher, at which prominent members of the School, who had been fellow-laborers with Mr. Mosher in the upbuilding of the School paid tributes to his memory. Many letters were received from distinguished patrons of the Assembly, who though unable to attend the meeting expressed their admiration of Mr. Mosher's work and the regret they felt at the cutting short of his promising career.

The morning lecturer of the week was the Rev. Wm. Kerby, Ph. D., of the Catholic University, one of the best known authorities on social questions, the title of whose lectures was Aspects of American Social Reform. The evening lecturer was the Rev. A. A. Notebaert of Rochester, on the Conditions in the Congo Free State. Father Notebaert, who has been signally honored by the King of the Belgians, is a thorough master of the subject, and pointed out the falsity of the charges of cruelty made against the Belgians in the Congo.

On Saturday evening, W. B. Yeats' play "Kathleen-ni-Hoolihan" will be produced by some of the amateur talent among the Summer School members, and a short musical program will follow.

COOK OPERA HOUSE.

Next week will be the last of the Moore Stock Company at the Cook Opera House. On September 3rd, the company will move to the Baker Theatre, and on the Labor Day matinee will begin an indefinite season. Belasco and DeMille's famous society drama, "The Wife" is to be offered by the company next week. This play is too well known to Rochester showgoers to need extended description.

Starting Monday matinee, Sept. 3rd, the Cook Opera House will commence its winter season of vaudeville. The opening show, it is promised, will be a most attractive one, and will admirably exemplify the high quality of attractions that will be offered during the coming season.

Five Minute Sermon

The Good Samaritan

The Samaritan represented Jesus Christ, and mark well the circumstances. The Samaritan was passing by the place where the wounded man lay; he saw him, he is moved to compassion, and he approaches him to treat his wounds and to help him in any other way. It was the same with Christ; He was the true Samaritan, the eternal Guardian, the Saviour of men, a stranger to us before His incarnation, like unto us with the exception of sin, and separated from sinners. He became a pilgrim and dwelt among us by becoming man; He looked with compassion on the human race, prostrate on the earth and covered with wounds, and He undertook the great task of healing and restoring it to life.

Jesus Christ, having completed the work of redemption, left this world, ascended into heaven, and will return at the end of the end of the world. In the mean time, we are confined to the care of the priests, His ministers, and they in His name must provide for our eternal welfare. But if they, in the discharge of their duties, do more than what they are strictly bound to do, they will receive an especial reward from Christ on the day of judgment, when He will return to this world to punish the wicked and to reward the good for all they have done, the former the former against Him, and the latter for His glory.

Curfew in a Big Dry Goods Store. The department store curfew bell or bugle is seldom heard except by the employees of the large establishments. The curfew of the store, however, is not as in its original definition of the word, a "cover fire," but a cover dry goods signal. The covering process is in the hands of an army of salespeople and cashboys, as well drilled in the quick martial covering process as are the soldiers at an army in obeying the order to "right about face."

If one can sequester himself in some corner of a store at closing time he will find the sight worth while. Waiting for this last signal, hundreds of employees stand with fingers just touching each end of long, green cloths. At the stroke of 6 through the long aisles of the store a clear whistle is heard. Instantly the curfew army is in readiness. Another note from the signal instrument and the long tables and counters are covered quickly with busy hands.

A third note and the ends of the long covers are made taut and tugged with no places hanging and no dust entering places left uncovered. It has taken but a couple of seconds, then still another signal and, the last portion of the day's work is over, the curfew battalion moves toward home.

Virtues of "Sold" Sign.

"Get this parlor suit out at once, John," said the manager.
"Oh, let's just put a 'Sold' tag on it till to-morrow," grumbled Salesman John. "The men are fearful busy."
"John," said the manager, "you know very little about human nature if you're willing to leave a suit of furniture marked 'Sold' in sight of the public. If we left the suit here everybody that came in would be attracted by the 'Sold' sign on it and would want to buy it or its duplicate. The suit can't be duplicated, as you know, and so the people would be dissatisfied. This suit, because they couldn't have it, would seem to them the only desirable one in our stock. They would take no other. We should probably lose half a dozen sales."
"Why, John, there are some dishonest dealers who put 'Sold' signs on goods that are a drug, so as to dispose of those goods quickly, and it is a fact not creditable to human nature that fake 'Sold' will move a slow stock more quickly even than fake reductions."

Religious Reception

Twelve Young Women Receive the Habit of the Order of St. Joseph at Nazareth Convent

At Nazareth convent a religious reception took place last Tuesday, at which twelve young women received the habit of the sisters of St. Joseph and six sisters made their first vows. Rt. Rev. Bishop McQuaid presided at the ceremonies, at the close of which he delivered an address to the young sisters, exhorting them to the constant study and practice of the virtues of the consecrated life of the sisterhood, picturing the sacrifice and labors which that life exacted of them, and also the "hundred-fold" which is promised.

The young women who received the religious habit are: Mary O'Bryne of Auburn, to be called in religion, Sister Mary Emma; Mary McNamara from Ireland, Sister Mary Clarina; Mary Murray of Rochester, Sister Mary Reparata; Alice Kinney of Auburn, Sister Mary Andrea; Marie Howe of Rochester, Sister Mary Rosella; Elizabeth Layton of Rochester, Sister Mary Lioba; Agnes Goodie of Newton, Mass., Sister Mary Mildred; Winifred Casby of Canandaigua, Sister Mary Bernardino; Helen Saffell of Rochester, Sister Mary Andriano; Esther Cunningham of Rochester, Sister Mary Edith; Rose Mesager of Rochester, Sister Mary Assunta; Charlotte Nolan of Rochester, Sister Mary Geraldine; Catherine Sheehan of Elmira, Sister Geraldine Majella.

At the close of the ceremonies an informal reception was held.

SHORT SERMONS.

Truths, like roses, have thorns about them. Heroes are scarce, but the man who makes his poverty respectable is one of them.

We need not be prophets or apostles. The commonest life may be full of perfection. The duties of home are a discipline for the ministries of heaven. It was the great St. Augustine that said, "They are the most uncharitable toward error who have never experienced how hard a matter it is to come at the truth."

God extends a constant and special providence over those who place their confidence in Him, and they who do so may rest assured that no harm will happen to them.

It is only the evil we cherish that has power to chastise us. True prayer wears out the souls faster than the knees.

There are men who never think of glory unless they go by a graveyard. To thank God for the smallest gift an entire lifetime on one's knees would not be long enough.

After the joy which springs from right doing the purest and sweetest is that which is born of compassion with spirits akin to our own.

We may all do in our conflicts as the angel did on the morning of Christ's resurrection: when he rolled away the stone from the mouth of the sepulcher and sat upon it—we may turn a bare head into a throne.

AUBURN, N. Y.

Sunday was a day of unusual interest to the congregation of St. Mary's church on account of celebrating the feast day of the church. The church and altar were prettily decorated with flowers and potted and cut flowers. At 10 o'clock, which was sung at eleven o'clock, Rev. Patrick Smith was celebrated, assisted by Rev. Father Neumaier and John Ganey. A special musical program was given under the direction of the organist, Mrs. Stephen J. Murphy. Singing was of the highest order and did great credit to the efforts of the choir. In the afternoon solemn high mass was sung and at which were present Rev. Father Smith, the organist, and a large number of laymen. The funeral of the late Michael Neumaier was held from his late home, 345 Seymour St., on Monday evening, Sept. 18th, at St. Mary's church at 8 o'clock. The funeral mass was sung by Rev. Auburn Convent, Knights of Columbus held their annual outing at Clifton Point, on Thursday. The outing started out at 9 a. m. to go to Clifton Point. The outing was a very successful one. The day was spent in various amusements. The greatest event was the ball game between the single and married men which resulted in a draw owing to poor umpiring. The shore dinner was served at 4 p. m. and was one of the best ever handed out by Father Wyle of this city. The return was made early in the evening.
