COOK OPERA HOUSE.

One of the main attractions in the bill of vaudeville to be presented next week, at the Cook Opera House, will be Sei Hassan Ben Ali's Toozoonian Arabs. This is a troupe consisting of a dozen or more ducky acrobats from the mysterious Orient who present a series of weird tumbling feats and pyramid building. Egbert Van Alstyne, the man who wrote "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree", will offer a comedy musical act, assisted by Miss Louise Henry. Gertrude Mansfield and Caryle Wilbur, well known sketch players, will have their entertaining comedy "91 Prospect Street." The excellent quartette, which captivated Rochester theatregoers last season, The Village Choir, will again present their delightful programme of old and new songs. The Three Donalds will offer feats of strength on the flying rings. Young and DeVoe will have a dancing novelty, called "Dancing by Book." Quigg, Mackey and Nickerson will entertain with fun and music. Johnny Johns, a comedian, and the kinetograph pictures will round out the bill.

Baker Theatre.

Hal Reid's celebrated romantic rural drama, "The Night Before Christmas," is announced as the offering for next week by the Moore Stock Company, at the Baker Theatre. This play had an immensely successful road career, and has only recently been released for stock purposes. It is promised that the play will be given a beautiful scenic mounting next week. Wilson Melrose will impersonate Jack Phillips, a young man whose one serious fault is that of drinking, but who is all right at heart. Miss Spinney will impersonate Jack's sweetheart Marion Williams, who brings out all of Jack's manly and noble qualities. Arthur Rutledge will be the villainous chap as personified in the character of Bud Means, a village tough. Frank Base will re-join the company next week, and will have an excellent part as old Judge Phillips, who afterwards becomes Governor of the state, and is forced to refuse a pardon to his own son, who is condemned to death. Excellent parts will be provided for the other members. Souvenirs will be given away next Monday afternoon.

News of Fall Cloakings

Many mothers prefer to select materials for their children's cloaks and have them made. The demand for cloaking materials is broader than this—a great many ladies choose to have their coats made to measure.

Cloakings of the cloth order are carried in connection with the Dress Goods. Fall supplies are now ready in ample assortments. Values are as superior as those of our Dress Goods numbers. These are some of them:

56 in. tan, castor, brown and gray covert cloth, $1.50 a yard.
58 in. heavy weight, cloth finished cheviot, in brown and dark gray, $1.50 a yard.

56 in. gray cloakings in pin and wide stripe effects, $1.50 a yard.

56 in. all wool pincheck cloakings in browns and grays, and navy and brown combinations, $1.50 a yard.

56 in. herringbone stripe cloakings in mixtures of white and black, $1.50 a yard.

48 in. knop cloakings, in navy only, $1.50 a yard.

56 in. novelty cloakings in white and gray, and white, gray and green combinations, $1.50 a yard.

56 in. checked cloakings, soft finished cloth in white, black and gray, and gray and black with threads of red, $1.50 a yard.

56 in. novelty cloakings, in white and gray grounds with heavy bars of black forming large checks, $1.50 a yard.

56 in. heavy cloakings in gray and black checks with bright blue overplaid, $1.50 a yard.

56 in. cloaking mixtures in black, navy, and brown grounds flecked with brighter shades—eight color combinations, $1.50 and $2 a yard.

56 in. plaid back, tan-covert cloth, $2 a yard.

56 in. all wool kersey, in garnet, myrtle, navy and brown, $2 a yard.
