Around the Globe.

Plans for a new Cathedral for the Buffalo diocese, to be erected on the site of the present Chapel of the Blessed Sacrament, at the corner of Delaware Avenue and Utica Street, have been drawn up and will be passed upon by Bishop Colton and his council during the present winter. It is said that the new edifice will be in the Italian Renaissance style and will cost upwards of $500,000.

Queen Victoria of Spain, recently attended a ceremony in the Chapel of the Convent of the Ladies of the Sacred Heart in Madrid. Her majesty was received as a Child of Mary and presented with the insignia—a gold medal bearing the royal crown in brilliant. The Bishop of Sion attended and all the chief clergy of Madrid were present at the ceremony. Lunch followed, after which a play was performed by the children in a miniature theater in the convent.

The December consistory, held at the Vatican, was a private instead of a public meeting, as was first planned. The only red hat bestowed was on Cardinal Samassa, Archbishop of Riga, Hungary, who was present, but in greatly enfeebled condition. Eighty-four bishops were preconized by the Pope, among them Bishop Walsh, of Portland, Me.; Co-adjutor Bishop Morris, of Little Rock, Ark.; and Bishop Jones, of Porto Rico.

At a meeting of the Cincinnati Diocesan Committee, held last Friday at the residence of Archbishop Moeller, the expenditure of $1,250,000 for the erection of a Cathedral, a seminary and an archiepiscopal residence was authorized. These buildings will be grouped in the center of a ten-acre tract of land recently donated to the Archbishop of Norwood Heights. They will front on St. Peter's Boulevard, which is expected to make one of the handsomest thoroughfares in Ohio. A temporary church is being constructed on the site and work on the permanent buildings will be begun as soon as possible. Plans for a $1,000,000 Cathedral have been drawn by Samuel Hannaford & Sons and approved by the committee. Bids will be advertised for at once. The proposed seminary will cost $200,000 and the Archbishop's palace $50,000.

Very Rev. M. S. Ryan, the new president of Kenrick Seminary, in St. Louis, is the youngest president the institution ever had, if not the youngest in the country, being only thirty years old.

Mrs. Bartle Teeling, well known to the readers of American Catholic magazines, died at Blackheath, England, a few days ago. Three times during her illness the Holy Father sent her his blessing. She was author of several novels and a play called "The Violet Sellers."

In an article in the Seven Hills Magazine, Rev. Reginald Walsh, O. P., writes: "The number of Irish martyrs whose cause will be presented to the Congregation of Rites is 344. Of these 3 are archbishops, 11 are bishops and 46 are secular priests. Then come 9 Augustinians, 3 Carmelites, 11 Cistercians, 113 Dominicans, 93 Franciscans, 6 Jesuits, 1 Premonstratensian and 56 lay persons."

The Rev. John J. Collins, S. J., formerly president of Fordham University, and now acting Bishop of Jamaica, V. I., has been appointed by the governor of that colony, St. James Swettenham, K. C. M., a member of the Jamaica Board of Education.

In the city of St. Louis there are 62 parochial schools, with an attendance of 10,060 boys and 10,128 girls, or a total of 20,188 pupils. These are taught by 362 sisters, 32 brothers and 18 lay teachers, or a total of 412. In the schools reported outside the city, there are 4,468 boys and 4,439 girls, or a total of 8,907. These are taught by 212 sisters and 54 lay teachers, or a total of 266. A recapitulation of the diocese shows 29,995 pupils, 678 teachers, of which number 606 are religious and 72 lay persons.

Youngstown, December 10.—The death of Mr. and Mrs. George Rudge, Sr., which occurred during the past week, was an occasion of sorrow to the entire community. Both were taken ill on Thanksgiving day with pneumonia and from the first were in a critical condition. Mr. Rudge died on the following Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. His wife bore the news of his death bravely, only expressing the wish that they might not long be separated. On Friday her husband's body was placed in the vault at Calvary Cemetery. On Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock, after she had received the Viaticum from the hands of her son, Rev. Eugene Rudge, S. J., who had arrived in time to administer the last Sacraments to his father also, Mrs. Rudge joined her husband in eternity. It seemed only fitting that the two who had lived together more than half a century in conjugal felicity should not be parted at the threshold of death.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rudge were converts to the Catholic faith, they and all their children having been received into the Church on the occasion of the first Mass celebrated in the old St. Columbia's Church.

An Appeal to Catholics.

To the Editor of the Journal:

In your issue of two weeks ago reference was made of the proposed action on the part of the Knights of Columbus of San Francisco of carrying on a boycott against French products consumed or used in this country in retaliation for the cruel insult to our beloved faith.

The article appealed to me at once and I have thought what a fine opportunity it would be for every Catholic to stand together and in this manner bring France to a realization of what Catholics of America could do when their religion was attacked even in a foreign country.

Many people will say that perhaps it is just and right for the Church and state to be separated; but let any Catholic read Cardinal Gibbon's interview of a few days ago and he will see that it means annihilation of religious liberty instead of separation.

Catholics as a rule are wont to be slow and afraid to stand by their religion when its interests are assailed, but I sincerely hope that not every Catholic will carry on the fight of boycotting French products.

W. E. KEARSE.

Editor of Catholic Journal:

I read with pleasure in the Catholic Journal the suggestion by the "Register," a Knights of Columbus Journal, published in Greater New York, on boycotting French goods, and manufacturers. Cannot the members of the Ladies' Catholic Benevolent Association take up the good work too? We now have a membership of about ninety-five thousand, with one thousand and thirty-three branches situated throughout the United States. Cannot each member influence at least one other person, or more, to refuse to buy any article of French importation? Cannot every Catholic lady in the United States take up the work and at least in this way show France the indignation felt by her insults to our religion and the grief caused to our Holy Father.

A Small Boy's Story.

Dear Santa Claus, I just want to tell you I don't need a wheelbarrow. And in sleep, I don't want a nice, big, fat, red suit.

I want a nice, big, fat, red suit. A mail bag and a pair of shoes. A horse, a pair of spurs. And a box of shaving gear.

I also want a heavy sled. About ten pounds of candy. A gun, a pair of boxing gloves. Ooh, you'll that be Santa?

I want a magic lantern. A baseball glove and bat. A punching bag, some handkerchiefs. And a nice new stocking.

I think that's nearly all I want. And so I'll close my letter. If I get all these things, I'll try to be good.

Yours truly,
A Small Boy.
