On April 27th next Archbishop Williams of Boston, Mass., the oldest member of the hierarchy in America, will celebrate his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary. Already the priests of the Archdiocese have decided to make the occasion a notable one in the history of the Church.

The Catholics of Arizona outnumber professing Christians of all other sects combined, more than two to one, according to a recent census by no means biased in favor of Rome.

The statue of Father Junipero Serra, who brought Christianity to California, is soon to be set up in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco. The statue was modeled by Douglas Tilden, the Oakland sculptor, who was commissioned to do the work by the ex-Mayor of San Francisco.

News has been received from Rome that Miss Ines Goff, only daughter of Supreme Court Judge John W. Goff, of New York, who entered the Ursuline order four years ago, will take the black veil in the Eternal City shortly.

The Mercantile Association of Dallas, Texas, has contributed $15,000, together with a favorable site towards an Ursuline provincialate House of Studies and Novitiate. The Chapter of Ursulines very lately assembled there accepted the offer and decided to make that city the Southern Province of the Order.

Father de la Chapelle, who was born and educated in France and is a member of the Mariist Community of Boston, is delivering a series of conferences to the Catholic students of Harvard University on the relations of Church and State in France.

An Irish peasant girl—a native of Carrigart, County Donegal—has presented the Very Rev. Father Donnelly, S. J., for use in the Church of St. Ignatius, Stamford Hill, N. Y., with a magnificent set of vestments worked by her own hands. The robes, which are of beautiful design, took two years to finish.

For seven years Father Stadelman has published a monthly journal for the blind which he distributed free. It is estimated that there are 25,000 Catholic blind in the United States.

A certain Louis Anapolsky got married the other day in Boston, says the Sacred Heart Review. Now, Louis has no interest for us beyond the fact that he is a pugilist of a sort, and when pursuing his calling he is known as "Kid Hogan." As a Jew with the name Anapolsky his pugilistic qualifications would not be appreciated, so for purely business reasons he appropriates a good old Irish name. Here is something of an abuse for the A. O. H. to tackle.

Vice President Fairbanks of the United States, in a letter addressed to the National Secretary, states that the Resolution of the American Federation of Catholic Societies on France Persecution of the Church in France will be brought to the attention of the United States Senate.

The Catholic Irish are coming to the front in Canada, also. D'Arcy Scott of Ottawa has been elected Mayor of the capital city and Charles R. Devlin has been returned by a large majority to represent the French constituency of Nicolet in the House of Commons.

Several clerical guests at a banquet held in a prominent St. Louis hotel noticed that at the news stand in the lobby of that hotel some very virulent anti-Catholic and filthy books were offered for sale, such as "Maria Monk," and others even more disgusting. Some lewd pictures were also exhibited. A formal complaint was made to the manager of the hotel against the news stand. His attention was called to the fact that his Catholic patrons object to such villenous. As a result of the protest the objectionable books and pictures were removed.

In Memory of Cecilia B. Dougherty of Danville.

Another friend has gone to sleep. Another heart is still. A loving sister old in death—Such has been God's will.

A lovely maiden pure and fair, Pure as the morning dew, Clad in her snowy raiment Has gone with the chosen few.

Called to the home of her Father, To join the angel band, To sleep and rest forever In that bright and beautiful land.

A shadow o'er her home is cast, Where once she dwelt in peace; And there a loving parent And saddened sisters weep.

Another life was blighted, Another rose cut down; Another faithful maiden Has won another crown.

It was when the frosty winter Had her snowy mantle spread, That fair and bright Cecilia Was numbered with the dead.

She was laid beside her mother In the little family plot And her friends shall often wander To that sacred little spot.

Where their precursors one is sleeping They will often kneel in prayer, And may our Heavenly Father Hear the prayers they offer there.

May the memory of our dear one Be to us a guiding star, And like a crown of precious jewels Brightly shine for us all.

May her life so pure and simple, And her innocence sublime, Ever round our pathway, Shed a light divine.

Now her earthly toils are ended, Her sorrows all have ceased, And let us say in reverence: May her soul rest in peace.

A FRIEND.
