BASEBALL REVIEW

Barney Joy, a Star Hawaiian Pitcher, With Frisco Team.

HE MADE GOOD IN PRACTICE

"Naughty Nick" Altrock of Chicago Americans is in line for Pitching Championship of His League This Year, Say the Sharps.

Barney Joy, the first baseball player imported to the United States, has arrived and has joined the Seals, the San Francisco baseball club of the Pacific Coast league.

Joy is a full blooded Hawaiian, being born in Honolulu twenty-four years ago. He is a giant, measuring over six feet and weighing 225 pounds.

For the past six years he has pitched for the Honolulu Athletic club team in the Islands. Joy was recommended to Manager Danny Long by members of a theatrical troupe who witnessed the Kanaka's work in the box.

The man from the sugar cane plantations arrived in Bakersfield, Cal., recently after a stormy trip on the ocean. He immediately donned a uniform and commenced training with the other members of the team practicing in the city.

The next day in an exhibition game, Joy was sent into the box to try out for three innings. The Hawaiian made good.

He struck out the first five men up, fielded the position like a champion and showed all around knowledge of the game. Joy is a south paw, with lightning speed. Charlie Street, who received his delivery, hardly expected any twirler would use such speed thus early in the game.

Manager Danny Long and Captain Kid Mohler were carried away with the elegant showing Joy made in the early games.

In later practice the Honolulu boy batted savagely and ran bases fast for a heavy man.

Organized baseball in Wisconsin will enter upon the season of 1907 with better prospects than ever before in the history of the state. The Wisconsin State league now is an eight club circuit, and it consists of Oshkosh, Madison, Fond du Lac, Eau Claire, La Crosse, Wausau, Green Bay and Freeport, Ill. Hawley will manage the La Crosse team again this year. The season opens May 9, with Oshkosh playing at Madison, Green Bay at Freeport, Fond du Lac at Eau Claire and Wausau at Eau Claire. Madison and Fond du Lac are new cities in the league.

Nick Altrock is widely believed to be in line for the premier pitching honors of the American league for this season.

son. Many careful experts state that Nick is the ablest twirler in the entire organization.

Anyway, Altrock's work for the Chicago American world's champions last season was of genuine top notch caliber, and it is safe to say he is the chief standby of Captain-Manager Dave Jones.
