C. Y. M. A. Dramatic Club.

To produce "Captain Edwards," a military play, at St. Joseph's Hall on Franklin Street.

The members of the Catholic Young Men's Association of St. Joseph's Church are making preparations for a grand dramatic entertainment to be given on Monday and Tuesday evenings, November 11th and 12th, in the parish hall on Franklin Street. The play to be presented is "Captain Edwards," a military play, which has never before been seen in this city. The plot tells of the trials of a young man who had the misfortune to live in a Secessionist settlement in Kentucky, while believing that the Union was in the right. When the war breaks out he is driven from his home and friends and is forced to go to the north. He joins the federal army and is sent back to his home district. He has plenty of troubles, but in the end everything ends happily as it should. No expense has been spared to give the play an adequate and successful performance. The following committee is in charge of the affair: William F. Schleifer, Oscar Schuchart, George Minges, A. J. Sigi, Rev. A. Englebert, Charleshardt, Joseph T. Otto, George J. Ermattinger, Lawrence Glaser, John Hopp, Raymond Ernst, William J. Verhoeven. The production is made under the direction of Miss Katherine Burns.

Baker Theater.

For this city next week at the Baker Theatre, Klaw & Branger's offerings speak for themselves. One of the big features will be Joe Hart's Military Girls, one of the most pretentious acts of the kind in vaudeville. The act is headed by Miss Louise Mink and is composed of a bevy of pretty girls.

Julian Rose is a monologist who has been creating a stir in Chicago for the past two weeks.

Ralph Johnstone, the dare devil cyclist; Meel Emmy's Pets, a troupe of fox terriers, perfectly trained, and who are further distinguished by wearing diamond collars; Sydney Grant, a monologist of reputation and distinction who is one of the hits of the bill at the New York Theater this week; Henry and Alice Taylor, the latter a lady who is considered the best sharp shooter in England; Canfield and Carleton, in a funny sketch, "The Hoodoo Man"; Mills and Morris, two young ladies known as the "Minstrel Misses"; the Goltz Trio, with something new, spectacular, and sensational on the high wire, and some new and exclusive motion pictures will make one of the strongest bills of the season.

National Theatre.

At the National Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, "Kidnapped for Revenge," Chas. E. Blaney's latest melodramatic sensation with Will H. Vedder as its star. It is typically American, a story of the slums of New York dealing with intrigue, and a terrible revenge. There are four acts and ten scenes. The Perry boat scene being one of the novelties.

Will H. Vedder at the National

The new historical melodrama "Custer's Last Fight"—with its wealth of beautiful scenery and the largest dramatic company on the road, is the attraction at the National, November 14, 15, 16. The author, Hal Reid, has selected, as his subject, the most romantic battle in the history of our country and two of our bravest men—General George Armstrong Custer and Colonel William F. Cody, known to the world as "Buffalo Bill."

Lima, N.Y.

The funeral of William Flynn took place from St. Rose's Church, Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. The deceased was 66 years of age and is survived by his wife, five sons, Charles of Avon, John of New York City, and William, Frank and Eugene of Lima, two daughters, Mrs. Patrick Tubbs of Rochester, and Miss Margaret Flynn of Lima.

Mrs. Ann Fahy died at her home here Tuesday, October 29th, after a short illness, aged 79 years. She leaves two grandchildren, Henry and Catherine of Rochester and Mary of this place.

The bans of marriage were proclaimed Sunday between John Eichenger and Catherine Gleason, both of this parish.

AUBURN, N. Y.

The funeral of the late Peter O'Connor who died in Buffalo, was held from the home of his parents in Barber Street on Thursday morning with services at the St. Mary's Church. The funeral was attended by a large number of sympathizing friends of the young man. Burial took place at St. Joseph's Cemetery of the St. Aloysius Church will give a minstrel performance in the Grand Hall on Thanksgiving night for the benefit of the choir fund of that church. The show is under the direction of Choirmaster Frank Branick and will eclipse any show ever given in the city. The chorus is made up of well known singers with the end men among the cleverest in the city. The olio promises to be one of the features of the show.

The several choirs of the city are rehearsing their Christmas music to be given during the Christmas time. The choir will be augmented by new voices and at St. Mary's Church the Gregorian music will be sung for the first time in this city. The children of this church are singing the Gregorian music at the masses during the week.

The Willing Workers Club will hold their next party in Woodmen Hall on Tuesday afternoon for the benefit of the asylum. This party will be under the direction of Mrs. Joseph L. Coughlin of Nelson Street. Mrs. M. J. Dunn and Mrs. John Colbert entertained their friends at a euchre party in Woodmen Hall on Thursday night. Over 150 people were present and played in competition for the costly prizes that were given.

CANANDAIGUA.

Prayers were offered Sunday for the repose of the soul of Mrs. Bridget Powell.

The monthly subscription for the new rectory will be taken up next Sunday.

Chili Sauce.
Pare with a knife 12 ripe tomatoes and chop them fine. Peel two large onions and chop with three green peppers. Stir all together and add two tablespoons each of sugar and salt, one teaspoonful of cinnamon and one pint of good cider vinegar. Boil one hour and bottle the same as ketchup.

Scalloped Oysters.
One quart of oysters, one pint milk, one scant cup of butter before melted, pepper and salt, sixteen common crackers rolled fine; stir crackers, butter, two eggs and milk together, then stir in the oysters lightly; butter your dish, turn in mixture and bake light brown.

Compromises in Married Life.

"If marriage meant the wedding of a saint and an angel there would be no problems to solve, no perfections to attain, no progress to make. This is why there are no marriages in heaven."

On earth it is different; husband and wife are strongly human. No matter how lovingly united or how sweet their accord, they never have the same temperaments, tendencies or tastes.

Their needs are different, their manner of looking at things is not identical, and in varying ways their individualities assert themselves. At any critical moment if both express at the same time a desire to defer to the other's taste, the result is fore-ordained or happiness. This makes matrimony not merely union, but union and unity.

The spirit of compromise does not mean a continuous performance in the way of self-surrender and self-sacrifice; it does not mean ceasing to be a voice and becoming an echo; it does not imply or justify the loss of individuality; it means simply the instructive recognition of the best way out of a difficulty, the quickest lacking to avoid a collision, the kindly view of tolerance in the presence of weakness, and errors of another, the courage to meet an explanation half way, the generosity to be first to apologize for a discord, the largeness of mind that does not fear a sacrifice of dignity in surrendering in the interests of the highest harmony of the two rather than the personal vanity.—Delineator.

Proverbs Concerning Women.
A truth-telling woman finds few friends.

An ill-tempered woman is the devil's doornail.

Judge a maiden at the kneading pan, not at the dance.

Give your wife the short knife, keep the long one yourself.

A bad wife likes to see her husband's heels turned to the door.

One hair of a maiden's head pulls harder than 10 yoke of oxen.

A cross-grained woman and a snappish dog take good care of the house.

WOMEN IN BRITISH POLITICS.

They Work as Individuals, Also in Various Leagues.

Among the notable women in British politics is Mrs. Millicent Fawcett of the Liberal Unionists, a fine speaker with a clear voice and the author of various books, political and biographical.

Mrs. Cornwallis West, formerly Lady Randolph Churchill, is described as "a politician to her finger tips," says the World To-day. She has both canvassed and spoken frequently in behalf of her son, Winston Churchill. She was also the founder and editor of the Anglo-Saxon Review.

The Primrose League was organized in 1883 by Lord Randolph Churchill and others in memory of Benjamin Disraeli (Lord Beaconsfield). It has become a great conservative body, with more than a million members—men, women and children. At its annual festivals the leaders of the party make known their political purposes and enlist its assistance in carrying them out. A rival organization was instituted by Mrs. Gladstone in 1886—the woman's Liberal Federation—which has developed some strong women speakers. It draws together women of all ranks and is a large educative force politically.

In 1888 the Liberal Unionists followed suit in establishing a federation which differs from the other mainly in its opposition to home rule. It has thirty-six branches and a membership of from fourteen to fifteen thousand. These three organizations are influential factors in political affairs in Great Britain.

The Ladies' Land League was founded by Michael Davitt in February of that year as an auxiliary to the Irish Land League. When the latter was suppressed by Mr. Gladstone the women took entire management of its work until Mr. Parnell's release from prison, $850,000 passing through their hands in eight months.

HOME COOKING.

Pecan Nut Cake.
Two eggs well beaten, one cup brown sugar, one-half cup flour, one-half teaspoonful salt, one-half teaspoonful baking powder, one cup chopped pecan nuts. Bake in muffin pan, putting one half nut on top of each cake. Delicious to serve with ice-cream.

Germany's Nature Baths.

In the large German towns, and also those of German Switzerland, visitors will be struck with the frequent recurrence of the words "Lichtbad Anstalt," advertised on buildings. Investigation will show that the building on which this sign is placed is surrounded by a high fence, inside of which numbers of men and women will be found disporting themselves in the open air. These people are clothed sufficiently, but the clothing they wear is light to a degree, and it admits all of the air and sun possible. These air baths are a new scheme to restore health by returning to nature.

Raw Egg Removes Fishbone.
Swallow a raw egg immediately if a fish bone has stuck in your throat and it will remove it.
