Twenty Years. With this issue the Catholic Journal enters upon its Twentieth Year of journalistic life.

Undignified. It was to be hoped that with two such representative American citizens as William H. Taft and William J. Bryan for the presidency...

As Others See Us. When the head of the government of the great English Empire is afraid to grant permission for the Host to be borne in procession...

Both the republican and democrats in New York state have made creditable nominations for state office.

While the political bosses did not desire the renomination of Governor Hughes, there is no doubt that the majority of the rank and file of the republicans wanted him to head their ticket.

Opposed to Mr. Hughes the democrats nominated Lieutenant Governor Chanler who has made a creditable record as second official in the state...

There ought to be no campaign of mudslinging between Mr. Chanler and Governor Hughes. Rochester has been honored by the selection, on each ticket, of a representative citizen.

The republican nomination of former Assemblyman Edward R. O'Malley, of Buffalo, for attorney-general is a splendid reward for a progressive young man...

Now let the state campaign go on in dignified fashion and may the best man win!

But America today stands in peculiar need of that contribution which the Roman Catholic church is peculiarly fitted to furnish.

"This lesson the Roman Catholic Church is peculiarly fitted to teach. And within the reach of its influence are those who most need to be taught.

"The Outlook" congratulates America upon the evidences of spiritual prosperity in the Roman Catholic Church in this country.

Have you been called a liar yet? Who said Roosevelt would not run the campaign of 1908?

Here's hoping Rochester's first industrial exposition will win as many encomiums as did its treatment of the democratic state convention.

Congratulations to the new diocese of Hartford and its first bishop, Rt. Rev. P. J. Heenan.

Good Advice

A recent issue of "Church Progress" contains these two paragraphs of vital importance to Catholic parents:

"Wise Catholic parents will see to it that their younger children are enrolled in the parochial school, their older ones in the Catholic college or academy.

Well, the fine weather held out for the blessing of the graves. It is reported that this is the banner year, in point of attendance, for all the Catholic educational institutions of Rochester.

That was an inspiring ceremony last week Friday when the Soldiers' monument in Holy Sepulcher cemetery was dedicated.

Five Minute Sermon

The First and Greatest Commandment.

The first and greatest commandment was to love God above all things, with our whole heart, with our whole soul, and with all our strength.

We should therefore learn that our first and greatest duty is to love God above all things and our neighbor as ourselves.

Charity is the greatest of the virtues, the root, the support, and the crown of all the others.

Without charity, all the acts of devotion are nothing; without charity, patience, generosity, meekness, chastity, and all other good qualities avail nothing.

Without charity, we are objects of hatred in the sight of God.

Who said Roosevelt would not run the campaign of 1908? Here's hoping Rochester's first industrial exposition will win as many encomiums as did its treatment of the democratic state convention.

Both the republican and democrats in New York state have made creditable nominations for state office.
