One Hundred Women's New Fall Suits

Made to Sell in a High Grade at $35. While they last, choose at $25.00

There's a new "Richmond" in the New York garment field. And his productions are taking the big stores of that city by storm. So great has his output already become that to keep pace with his orders he utilizes the lofts of practically two big buildings. Every garment he has brought out this winter has been a "winner." He is shrewd, studious, conscientious. He makes sure of his models before he cuts the cloth. And he has the added faculty of producing Suits that fit the figure.

Up to now his output has been entirely disposed of in the New York and Brooklyn houses. And, had our Garment Chief not been a New Yorker by birth and experience, we would not have these hundred Suits to sell.

When the Head of our Garment Store was operating in a similar capacity for one of New York's biggest retail establishments, this manufacturer was an employe in the same department. But the intuition, the ability to manufacture, was his—and so he launched out for himself. The early association of Buyer and Employe have been remembered—and this purchase is an outcome of it. Hence forth this Garment Maker will find a ready market for his product, in Rochester—in this store.

$25 He has sold us One Hundred Suits which we may retail at $25.00—though the identical models are creating a decided sensation in the New York stores at $35.00. It is simply his way of letting you become acquainted with his product. He has made a concession of very close to a third in the price of this first hundred Suits—with reasonable assurance and confidence that you'll like them so well, he'll get many subsequent orders. To compare them with any other Suits in Rochester selling for less than $35 would be the height of folly. They are worth it by every fair standard of figuring style, material, workmanship, fit,

One of the Models is Illustrated Here

A faithful picture, showing the new 36-inch Coat that is semi-fitted, finished with black Satin piping and strapings together with satin collars and cuffs; lined throughout with guaranteed satin. Skirt has the new 9-gore modified sheath effect at both front and sides.

There is a wealth of materials to choose from, including the very fashionable striped Broadcloths in the newest of colorings, also Lymanville pan Cheviot, in black blue, brown and green. This latter fabric we believe will outwear most any other cloth, and always retain its newness of appearance and finish.

Sizes from 34 to 44

There is a size for YOU in the lot—since the skirts come in the various lengths, so as to fit women of both large and small stature, as well as misses.

Blessing of Graves

With a solemnity equaling in impressiveness the love and devotion which inspired it, the annual ceremony of blessing the graves of the dead in Holy Sepulcher Cemetery was performed Sunday by Coadjutor Bishop Thomas F. Hickey. It was witnessed by the largest assembly that has ever attended the ceremony.

The solemn procession through the cemetery began at 4:30 o'clock, following the vesper service in the chapel.

Following the procession Bishop Hickey addressed the throng that gathered before the chapel.

He spoke first of the great privilege of such an occasion and said that it afforded a glimpse beyond what is purely material into the realm of the spiritual.

He spoke of the sacred character of the ground dedicated to burial purposes, saying it was sacred because in it were interred the remains of those who believed in the Christian faith and had received Christian burial. It was also sacred because in it stood a chapel with an altar on which the great sacrifice of the new law, the sacrifice of Jesus Christ, was offered up.

"The Catholic church in her every act would impress her children with the lessons she teaches," continued Bishop Hickey. "To the casual observer this ceremony may appear to be but a beautiful sight, but to those who believe, it typifies the union of the Church on earth with the Church triumphant in heaven and the Church suffering in purgatory. It brings to every heart the knowledge of the life beyond, it makes men better able to bear the crosses of this life, because of the realization of the better life that is to come to the faithful and true."

The bishop then spoke of the lesson of gratitude taught by the ceremony; how it kindles anew the grateful love for the parents, brothers and sisters who have passed out of this life, recalling their many acts of service while living. He spoke of the great debt of gratitude due to the priests who lie in the section at the right of the chapel, and of the nuns, whose graves are at the left of that edifice. Then he spoke of the lesson of the day that should sink into the hearts of those taking part in the ceremony the brevity of life and the necessity of living in such a manner as to inherit the glory of the life to come.

"May God in His mercy find you ready when that day comes, that you shall enter the life eternal," said the bishop in closing, "and with the hope that you will live true Christian lives for him that he has arrived at his glory of God. I give you my benediction."

The action of the town of Greece in prohibiting fakers from selling refreshments at the gates of the cemetery was effective. Ten popcorn outfits were locked up in the cemetery custodian's barn during the afternoon, to keep their owners from attempting to use them.

Scarcity of Hickory.
Hickory, one of if not the most valuable of our native woods, has become so scarce that many substitutes have of necessity been found for it.

The wonderful increase in the demand for buggles and carriages of the finer class had much to do with the virtual exhaustion of the great American hickory forests. England, Germany, China, Australia, South Africa and the South American countries made strong requisitions on the American supply.

Years ago the supply of this fine wood north of the Ohio River had been exhausted. Despite substitutes and changed conditions, hickory remains one of the most valuable of American woods.

Birthplace of Chimneys.
Chimneys are modern, that is, chimneys with fireplaces and flues. None of the Roman ruins show chimneys like ours. There is none in the restored buildings in Herculaneum, and Pompeii. Roman, as well as Greek, complained that their decorations were smoked up. A kitchen in Rome was always sooty. Braziers were used in the living rooms. The chimney of antiquity consisted of a pole in the roof. The wealthy Romans used carefully dried wood, which would burn in the room without soot. The modern chimney was first used in Europe in the fourteenth century. The oldest certain account of a chimney places it in Venice, in 1347.

The Kates Don't Like Cats.
The Kates has his antipathies and one of his strongest is said to be for cats. He is alleged to have been the means of inducing the Berlin municipality to tax them.

Every pussy must now wear her medal as a sign that the tax has been paid on her behalf. The absence of the medal is to be taken as proof conclusive that the tax has not been paid, and pussy will be hurried to the lethal chamber.

Thirtieth Anniversary

At St. Michael's Church Tuesday morning the thirtieth anniversary of Rev. M. J. Hargather's ordination to the priesthood was celebrated. Solemn high mass sung at 8:30 o'clock, Rev. J. P. Schellhorn officiating as deacon and Rev. Leo G. Hofschneider as subdeacon.

After mass a congratulatory entertainment was given by the children of the school, who presented a purse to Father Hargather from the children and parents.

Rev. G. Leo Hofschneider presented gifts to him as follows: Altar boys, a beautiful set of breviaries and an umbrella, members of the C. Y. M. A., mahogany shaving stand; Young Ladies' Sodality, dictionary and stand; L. C. B. A., easy chair, and members of St. Anthony's and St. Leo's, C. M. B. A., Knights of St. George, solid quartered-oak banker's desk.

Rev. M. J. Hargather was educated at St. Francis Seminary, Milwaukee, and St. Joseph's Seminary, Troy. For the first two years of his priesthood he was assistant priest at the Cathedral in this city, from which he went to Greece and Coldwater as missionary. In 1888 he organized the present parish St. Francis Xavier in this city, and in 1896 he was sent to St. Michael's church.

Auburn, N. Y.

The Willing Workers Club of the Auburn Asylum held another very interesting meeting on Tuesday afternoon in their rooms in the Woodmen's Temple. A large attendance was noted and much interest was shown in the work. The club this year is anxious to do the other years of its existence in its charitable work in this city.

Auburn Council, Knights of Columbus held the first degree of the order on Thursday night. The degree was in charge of the officers of the council and was put on in fine style. After the degree work was over the house committee entertained the members with a real Dutch luncheon.

Many Auburnians attended the funeral of Mrs. Daniel Silke, mother of Rev. C. A. Silke, who died in Moravia last week and should sink into the hearts of those attending the ceremony. The services at the church were well attended and the following priests of Auburn were present: Rev. J. J. McGrath, and Rev. E. F. Dwyer of the Holy Family church, and Rev. Herbert Ragenbogen of the St. Alphonsus church.

Many friends of Paul McCarthy, formerly organist of Holy Family church, have received word from him that he has arrived at his new home in San Diego.

Mrs. Frank F. Hanlon has been appointed organist of the Holy Family church and has already taken up her duties.

Cook Opera House.

J. H. Moore, the vaudeville magnate, will offer three headline acts at the Cook Opera House next week, and five other acts of standard value. The act of first importance is that of Julius Steger and Company, in "The Fifth Commandment" a musical-dramatic playlet filled with heart interest and melody. The special feature attraction is "That" Quartette, unquestionably the greatest singing act of modern vaudeville. The added attraction is the new scenic, dancing novelty "A Night in El Paso," the offering of Lulu Beeson, assisted by Messrs. Ward & Weber. This act is said by the management to be the best dancing act of its kind ever brought to Rochester. The other steller acts on the bill are: "The Watermelon Trust" with Coates & Grundy, well known colored comedians, in the principal parts; Four Casting Dunbars, Abel & Irwin, singing and talking act; the Picaro trio, rapid fire acrobats; and the kinetograph pictures. The following week Manager Wiggins will offer for the first time in Rochester the celebrated English comedienne Lily Lena.

Personal.

A surprise party was given Mr. Jacob Staub at his home, 1458 Clifford St., Saturday evening, the occasion being his birthday. The rooms were tastefully decorated in pink and green and covers were laid for twenty-four. All present had a most enjoyable time.

It's Dollars In Your Pocket

If You Install a Furnace Connection

Ask your neighbor what a saving in fuel and what a convenience his furnace connection was to him last winter.

Our Plan

Is to have the furnace heat the kitchen and supply the hot water, thereby doing away with the bother of carrying fuel and emptying ashes, and you have but one fire to attend the furnace. This gives you the advantage of using your gas range throughout the year.

The connection is simply a coil passed over the fire-pot of the furnace, from the furnace to radiator in the kitchen, from kitchen to boiler.

This is a money saver for you. It's worth investigating
