

Legal Notices

STATE OF NEW YORK, OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE, Albany, July 25, 1928.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO. Chapter Resolution of the Senate and Assembly, proposing an amendment to articles seven and eight of the constitution, in relation to the election of the chief justice and associate justices of the court of appeals.

Section 1. Resolved (If the Senate concur), That articles seven and eight of the constitution be amended to read as follows: Article VII. The court of appeals shall consist of the chief justice and associate justices, who shall hold their offices until they reach the age of seventy years.

Section 2. Resolved (If the Senate concur), That articles seven and eight of the constitution be amended to read as follows: Article VII. The court of appeals shall consist of the chief justice and associate justices, who shall hold their offices until they reach the age of seventy years.

Section 3. Resolved (If the Senate concur), That articles seven and eight of the constitution be amended to read as follows: Article VII. The court of appeals shall consist of the chief justice and associate justices, who shall hold their offices until they reach the age of seventy years.

Section 4. Resolved (If the Senate concur), That articles seven and eight of the constitution be amended to read as follows: Article VII. The court of appeals shall consist of the chief justice and associate justices, who shall hold their offices until they reach the age of seventy years.

Section 5. Resolved (If the Senate concur), That articles seven and eight of the constitution be amended to read as follows: Article VII. The court of appeals shall consist of the chief justice and associate justices, who shall hold their offices until they reach the age of seventy years.

Section 6. Resolved (If the Senate concur), That articles seven and eight of the constitution be amended to read as follows: Article VII. The court of appeals shall consist of the chief justice and associate justices, who shall hold their offices until they reach the age of seventy years.

Section 7. Resolved (If the Senate concur), That articles seven and eight of the constitution be amended to read as follows: Article VII. The court of appeals shall consist of the chief justice and associate justices, who shall hold their offices until they reach the age of seventy years.

Section 8. Resolved (If the Senate concur), That articles seven and eight of the constitution be amended to read as follows: Article VII. The court of appeals shall consist of the chief justice and associate justices, who shall hold their offices until they reach the age of seventy years.

THOUSANDS WON ON CHOPPING FEAT

Champ of Vermont Undertaken to Cut Five Cords Between Summit and Summit.

FORTY-EIGHT MINUTES TO SPARE

Woodman Moot Was Thousands for Mr. Everts—The Contest the Result of a Washington Dinner Wagon, Watched by a Thousand.

Windsor, Vt.—Edward Moot of Westfield, champion wood chopper of Vermont, in the presence of a gathering of politicians and notables, chopped down, split and piled five cords of wood between Summit and Summit, winning $100 for himself and several thousand dollars for Maxwell Everts.

At a dinner in Washington, Mr. Everts, a loyal son of Vermont, declared that his state possessed a man who could go into the woods and in a single day cut down enough wood to make five cords of wood.

Mr. Everts and Mr. Coolidge were at the banquet where Mr. Everts made his boast, and when they twitted him he offered to bet large sums as he could make good.

During the event, Coolidge, Mr. Everts and Mr. Everts, the guests of Mr. Everts included President L. F. Lewis of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad Company.

A couple of minutes before the start Moot took a drink of brandy and milk and when the word was given his axe began to fly.

By 10:30 a. m., he had cut down eighteen trees ranging in length from sixty to seventy feet and from nine to thirteen inches at the base.

Then he started in to chop and split them, William his son began by handing him a "fresh cut" or splitting wedge which he called for them.

By 11:30 p. m., Moot had not only cut, chopped and split the five cords, but had piled one-third of it. Then he decided to work slowly.

When the pile was measured it was found that it contained five and eight cords. On the ground was nearly half a cord chopped and split which Moot did not bother to put in the pile.

Mr. Everts paid Moot $100 for his day's work. Moot also won a number of small sums, having handed himself to the limit of his endurance.

LEASES TO DISTRICT

Special Classes, Colleges or Other Educational Institutions.

St. Louis, Mo.—M. Louisa who lives in the fashionable apartment houses in the West had most given up their earned beef, steaks, sandwiches, and even griddle cakes.

And it is further agreed that between the parties that shall the (meat) cook or permit to be cooked in the said premises any odorous, offensive or other deleterious vegetable, or anything that shall produce an offensive odor or smoke, this lease shall be void.

The real estate agent says the cooling clause has come to stay, and looking must be limited to those things which do not give off an odorous, offensive or other deleterious vegetable, or anything that shall produce an offensive odor or smoke, this lease shall be void.

WYATT CHALLENGER WHO IS BUSTLING several apartments here to avoid the "small" issue with small-proof walls and passages between the different apartments.

NEGROES FAVOR DARK DOLLS. Artistic Baptists Want White They Change Boycotted.

Lexington, Ky.—At a recent meeting of the Colored National Baptist Association, composed of negro leaders from various sections, the following resolutions were passed:

Whereas Our publishing board at Nashville, Tenn., under the management of Dr. R. H. Boyd, is preparing to supply a long felt need in a factory for negro dolls; and

Resolved, That we do here and now give our indorsement and hearty approval of the negro doll factory, and not only urge the patronage of the people of our churches as Baptists, but of the race at large throughout the United States.

SEVEN AFTER 25 YEARS. As English Medicines and Compound Most Used to Build Life a Child.

London, England.—A remarkable case of sight restored after twenty-one years of total blindness is reported from Nottingham.

Edward Clay, a young musician and organist, who lost his sight in infancy through a severe attack of measles, is now able to see dimly, thanks to the treatment of a Manchester specialist, Dr. Mellor.

The cure was effected after Clay's case had been pronounced hopeless. The young man can distinguish the features of people around him and can read his way about without help.

NEW CURE FOR TUBERCULOSIS. Disease Treated Successfully With Mercury as Naval Hospital.

Washington, D. C.—That Tuberculosis may be successfully treated with mercury is the claim made by Medical Inspector C. T. Hildreth of the United States Navy.

By the Navy Department a paper written by Hildreth, U. S. Navy, on the treatment of tuberculosis with mercury, is being distributed to the Medical Inspector General, The Naval Hospital, Newport, Cal.

CONVINCED THAT MERCURY IS ALMOST certainly a specific in the treatment of tuberculosis in all its forms. It should be borne in mind that some of the cases therein reported were at the time that mercury treatment was commenced, apparently at death's door, and there can be no doubt that their lives were saved.

THE PET PONDIE

At a dinner brought his home to walk at the feet of an aged woman.

George looked at the girl, and then followed her glance to the object of her pleased regard. It was undoubtedly a stray dog, long-haired, and traveling at a slow, steady trot.

"Yes," George assented, "but I don't see anything beautiful about the beast."

"Oh, but I think it must be the most thing in the world to be a stray dog."

George's brow went up in astonishment.

"That specimen of dog breed there doesn't look very nice," he objected.

"But he looks nice—He is a fine dog; when he looks like that and comes when he calls him it is nobody to tell him."

"You should think it would be nice to be a stray dog," he questioned.

"I do get so tired of being a pet people in a pink hat," she retorted.

"I didn't know," he said, "that you had been long looking for a stray dog."

"There's such a thing in it, well taken care of," she said.

"I don't know," he said, "that you had been long looking for a stray dog."

"I don't know," he said, "that you had been long looking for a stray dog."

"I don't know," he said, "that you had been long looking for a stray dog."

"I don't know," he said, "that you had been long looking for a stray dog."

"I don't know," he said, "that you had been long looking for a stray dog."

"I don't know," he said, "that you had been long looking for a stray dog."

Send Us Your Printing