

HOUSEWIFE IDEAL PASSING.

Grant of Higher Education to Women Marks Deep Change in German Life.

German homes and German newspapers have been far more occupied with the Prussian Government's decree granting higher education to the women than by discussions on German and British naval armaments.

The introductory paragraphs of the decree of the Ministry of Education, which has been approved by the Emperor, recite the reasons for the change in the system. Modern life, says the decree, develops an increasing disinclination on the part of men of the upper classes to marry, and more girls in the upper and middle classes are prevented from becoming wives and mothers.

According to the scheme, girls are to be educated in all studies embraced in a specially arranged curriculum, beginning at a minimum age of six years. At the end of the seventh school year the pupils will begin to differentiate in their studies, those preparing for advanced instruction having special courses laid out for them, such as Latin.

Up to this time their education will have been carried on in separate schools, but in the university education will begin under conditions similar to those governing university students. Those who at the end of the seventh school year do not elect to specialize for a university course may continue the ordinary course until they reach the age of 16, after which they may leave school or take two years in modern languages, music and domestic accomplishments, or they may take four years special training as teachers.

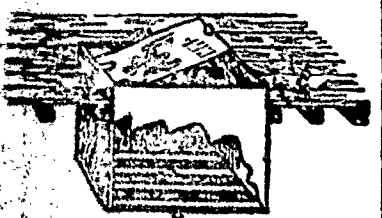

This scheme has been under discussion and preparation for a year. There has been an agitation for equal privileges for the sexes since the early eighties, and most of the other German States have already granted them.

Prof. Helene Lange, the noted educationalist, has been a leading advocate of this intellectual emancipation. Prof. Adolf Harnack of the University of Berlin said that women now have equal rights with men to enter all the technical schools, with the exception of the art academies, and that this prohibition is likely soon to be removed.

A CELLAR CUPBOARD.

Arrangement by Which Running Up and Downstairs is Avoided.

To secure the advantages of a cellar cupboard without the necessity of climbing up and down the cellar stairs, sink a box of any desired dimensions between the joists of the kitchen or pantry floor, allowing it to come a couple of inches above the floor.

THE CELLAR CUPBOARD

Door line C, to avoid the entrance of dust from the floor, says the Prairie Farmer. Stairs are nailed across the bottom of the box, which are then covered with wire netting to prevent flies and mice from reaching the contents, as indicated at B. A hinged cover, A, protects the top of the box.

For Planking Meats.

Dishes for planking steaks and other meats are offered in oak with nickel or silver coverings. Heretofore the housewife encountered no small difficulty in her effort to serve planked dishes after the fashion of restaurants, but now she has everything ready to use, and with a reliable recipe book she can prepare dishes every bit as delicious as the majority of hotel chefs. The plates come in several sizes, ranging from an oval just large enough for two persons to the generous family platter. Some of the nickel holders are quite plain, while others are embellished with openwork and tracery.

For Removing Dandruff.

Every night anoint the scalp with sweet almond oil. Rub it in and bind the head with a silk handkerchief by an oilskin cap. This will prevent its staining the pillow. In the morning wash it out with soap, warm water and a little borax. Do this until the scurf has disappeared. Then at night apply the following tonic with a vigorous scalp massage: Castor oil, 1/2 pint; pure alcohol, 1/2 pint; tincture of cantharides, 1/2 ounce; oil of bergamot, 2 ounces. Color a pale pink with a few drops of rose water. Apply to the roots.

ALEXANDRIA AT HOME.

Simply Everyday Life of the Queen of England—A Great Letter Writer.

Few people can realize the comparative simplicity of the everyday life of Queen Alexandra, especially when in Scotland or at Sandringham. While in Norfolk the Queen spends much of her time in the open air, walking, driving and doing short expeditions in her motor car.

After breakfast she and one or more of the several ladies who may be staying in the house make an expedition to kennels, stables and poultry yard to feed and interview the favorite dogs, horses and poultry of the establishment. In the afternoon a drive is arranged and the evenings pass cheerily with music and conversation. Dinner at Sandringham is always at 5:15.

It may be mentioned that the royal servants' liveries have a quaint old world appearance and are different in cut to those seen elsewhere. The coats are scarlet, made in the swallowtail style with dark blue waist-coats edged by narrow gold braid. The men wear no collars, but have gold studs and white satin breeches and white silk stockings complete their stately costume. All the royal men servants are over six feet in height.

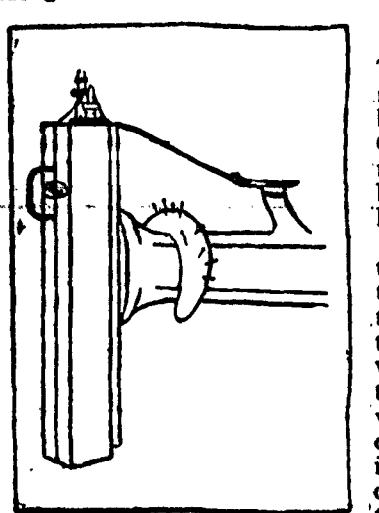

The Queen is an indefatigable letter writer. She has been known to write as many as forty letters in one day with her own hand, and Miss Knollys, her lady-in-waiting, often would get up at a hundred, all written in the Queen's personal supervision. Queen Alexandra's note paper is cream colored and rather rough, with the royal crown and address in dark blue and of the simplest design.

During the shooting season the Queen is a great deal of game to her own particular friends, and the hampers are labelled with the Queen's compliments. At Christmas time she often presents her intimates with a signed photograph of herself in a silver frame. Queen Alexandra is a keen photographer and has transferred some of her photographs to the camera.

A USEFUL PINCUSHION

Fastens on Sewing Machine and is at Hand When Needed.

At first glance the pincushion invented by a Tennessee man does not appear to be a very important addition to the thousands of labor and time saving devices, but second thought will show that it has its uses.

A USEFUL PINCUSHION

and that they are not so insignificant after all. It is a horseshoe shaped affair, with a bowed clamping spring arranged inside, and it fastens on the arm of a sewing machine whenever it is needed. The operator can thus have a cushion full of pins right at her hand where she can get them without stopping the machine or delaying her work for an instant. Only a woman who loses a great deal of sewing can appreciate the time and trouble that will be saved by this little device. Wash Star

Love's Laws.

He loves best whose love lasts. There's no fool like a bald fool. One good kiss deserves another. Kisses speak louder than words. Proposals made backwards of us all. The woman who deliberates is won.

Where there's a will there's a wedding. A fool and his money are soon parted. A little debutante is a dangerous thing.

Be sure you're right, then lose your head. 'Tis love that makes the man come 'round. A ring on the hand is worth two at the door.

The longest way 'round is the sweetest way home. People who live in a glass house shouldn't hold hands.

Carolyn Wells, in Hampton's Broadway Magazine.

That Stitch in Time.

Remember the truth of the old saying, "A stitch in time saves nine," and mend any worn places or torn parts in all garments before sending them to the laundry, and the time added to the life of the garments will more than repay you. What is only a small hole in a garment before it is sent to the laundry oftentimes will be a fair-sized rent when it returns.

A Use for the Dish Mop.

The best thing to clean a gas or gasoline stove is a string dish-mop. It is effective and saves your fingers and finger nails.

Canandaigua.

Prayers were offered Sunday for Mrs. Ellen McGreal of Rochester, Bernard McLoughlin of Honeoye Falls, Patrick Walsh of Newark and John A. Taylor.

High mass of requiem last Tuesday for Edward Casby.

Wednesday, Oct. 11, Miss Evelyn Barry of Chaffin St., was married to Frank Kirkmire of Naples.

During the past week Genevieve Fuller, Francesca Libin and Catherine Josephine Bement were baptized.

The subscription taken in the church last Sunday amounted to $280 and will be used to reduce the debt on the new rectory.

It is probable that the old church which has recently been fitted up, and rented will also be used for the holiday fair.

The Reading Circle will study Chivalry this week.

The various grades of the school are taking terms each week in preparing a short entertainment to which the mothers of the children of each particular grade are invited. After this an opportunity is given to the mothers to visit the other grades and witness the giving out of the reports.

There is a wide regret over the death of John A. Taylor, roadmaster on the Auburn and Batavia branches. He was first president of the Holy Name Society and took an active interest in all church work. The funeral was largely attended on Tuesday. Many clerical friends of the deceased being present.

Baker Theatre.

Monday night at the Baker Theatre will witness an elaborate revival of Marie Corell's famous play "Thelma" by Vaughan and his company. A great many of Miss Corell's books have been dramatized but none of them has met with the success that "Thelma" has. The play follows the book very closely and the action while not melodramatic, leads to climax as that will satisfy nineteenth of theatre goers. The play will be staged in a good manner that will make Mr. Glaser's previous efforts fade into insignificance. The scenes of the play being laid in Norway and the London home of Sir Phillip Errington, will afford Mr. Greenburg, the scenic artist, an unusual opportunity for the display of his skill. "Thelma" is laid in four acts. The first showing Norway, be served and all are invited to the land of the midnight sun; the same place in midwinter. Every reader of fiction is thoroughly familiar with Miss Corell's novel.

There will be a euchre party for the benefit of St. Edward's mission Wednesday evening, Nov. 18th at Lyceum hall. Lunch will be served and all are invited to attend. The funeral of Wm. Driscoll was held from St. Mary's church last week and was largely attended. Rev. Edward Dwyer read the requiem high mass. The remains were laid to rest in the family plot in St. Joseph's cemetery Rev. P. J. Smyth conducting the services at the grave. The bearers were James Wise, Joseph Burns, John Murphy, James McDowell, William Kinsella and Michael Dorsey.

The Willing Workers will hold a euchre party for the Orphan Asylum next Tuesday afternoon in Woodmen Hall. The forty hours devotion will open Nov. 29th at St. Mary's church. Branch 59, C.M. B.A. will hold their regular meeting next Tuesday evening at their rooms in Franklin Street. Rev. John B. Doran will open a fair for the benefit of his church in Scipio on Nov. 29th, continuing for the week.

Missionaries For Philippines.

A numerous band of Missionaries of the Sacred Heart, under the leadership of the Very Rev. Father Nysters, M. S. C., recently left Antwerp, Belgium, to work among the Filipinos of the Island of Mindanao. They have gone in generous response to an invitation from the bishop of Cebu, P. L., the Right Rev. Thomas A. Hendrick. The good Fathers will exercise their ministry in Surigao, the northern province of Mindanao. In this province alone, there are seventy-six thousand Catholics.

The Society of the Missionaries of the Sacred Heart, though young, is largely engaged, and has already accomplished much in the great field of foreign missions. To it has been intrusted by the Holy See the diocese of Palu, in North Australia, the Vicariates Apostolic of British New Guinea, New Pomerania, the Gilbert Islands, and the Peruvian Apostolic of Dutch New Guinea—all in the South Pacific. These many and vast fields of Apostleship represent three governments—Great Britain, Holland and Germany. Missionaries of the Sacred Heart have been for many years at work in this country, in the dioceses of Ogdensburg, N. Y., and Providence, R. I.

Next Sunday is Rosary Sunday. Confessions Saturday afternoon and evening.

Rev. Conrad Rebhan, C.S.S.R., of St. Joseph's church, Rochester, has been officiating at St. Patrick's church for a few Sundays.

Mr and Mrs James Eagen of Conesus are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son Mrs. Eagen was formerly Miss Clara O'Hara a member of our choir.

The Journal extends hearty congratulations to Ralph J. Crammer, the re-elected school commissioner of the second district Livingston Co. Mr. Crammer has succeeded himself twice and now is entering upon a third term. He has proven to the citizens of Livingston that he is a wide awake progressive commissioner and the man for the office and his friends join most heartily with him in wishing him every success this coming term. Edward J. Murphy visited Rochester friends last week. Mrs. D. Foley and F. A. Buxton are guests of their sister, Mrs. Thos. O'Meara at Niagara Falls. Raymond Blum of the University of Buffalo, and Edward Eschrich of Canisius College, were home to vote.

Free Courses in Psychology and Pedagogy at the

Rochester Business Institute

Will begin Tuesday evening, November 17th, at 8 o'clock. It is freely conceded that parents and teachers need training in practical psychology and the belief that employers, sales men, correspondents, bookkeepers, stenographers and business men and women in general need such training is fast gaining ground.

These courses are organized with this need explicitly in view, and they will be conducted by John F. Forbes, Ph. D., the regular instructor in this department of the Rochester Business Institute Training School.

All persons interested, whatever their occupation, are cordially invited to attend these lectures.
