

FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Essential to Take at Change of Life.

Place, St. Mary's, Ill. People of all ages are needed and always get the best results, have used it for all my family and recommended it to friends and strangers. It is not recommended for I have used it for a long time, it will do away with all those distressing symptoms such as palpitation, smothering palpitations, hysteria, nervousness, and sleeplessness (try it during the night) and will not injure you or child. It is the best tonic good for eyes on the stomach and for indigestion, gas or flatulency will relieve the distressing feeling of gas from 1 to 1 1/2 hours will cure any case of ordinary headache. This is the tonic wonderful to take at change of life (see try) others for this ailment, it will not disappoint you. Mrs. J. W. Warrick.

Jessie G. Madras writes from Chicago, Ill. Nov. 26, 1907: I suffered 7 years from palpitation of the heart, after having used Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic I feel entirely well. Prepared by the Rev. Father Koenig, of Peru, Ind., since 1878, and now by the KOENIG MED. CO., Chicago, Ill. 100 Lake Street. Sold by Druggists at $1 per bottle, 6 for $5. Large box, $1.75, 6 bottles for $9.

A Large Order.

The painter of portraits shook his head, but his visitor's jaw was firmly set. "Why can't you paint my father's portrait?" he persisted. "Because I have nothing to go by," said the painter. "You say you have no photograph or even tintype of the old gentleman."

"How about that picture of the prophet Elijah?" asked the visitor. "You say you painted that."

"Yes, but that is purely imaginary," explained the artist, patiently.

"Well, see here," said the man, the prophet Elijah had lived 2000 years, and fathers only been 40 years old. Now if you can imagine a man so well, why not try your hand on a more modern folk? Father was six foot tall, and had a prominent nose, a big nose, and a kind of a smiling mouth. Now if you can paint something that looks like that, I'm willing to pay well for it."

The Name of Wealth.

Lucas Cleve, the novelist, told the story:

An old nurse had a very pretty daughter. The girl met a millionaire banker at Broadstairs one week end. The man proposed and they were married. An excellent match.

Lucas Cleve saw the mother about time after the wedding.

"Molly has a very well hasn't she?" he said.

"She has that ma'am" said the old woman.

"Her husband is very rich isn't he?"

"Rich! Have you seen the duke's new ma'am, Molly's brougham, her coachman and footman, her motor car and her diamonds and pearls. Oh she lives high. Quite like the nobility and gentry, ma'am. Why, she sits at the dinner."

An Illinois Optimist.

Don't kick because you have to buy your wife's waist. Be glad you have a wife and doubly glad you have a wife to button a waist for. Men's wives have no waists to button. Some men's wives waist have no button on to button. Some men's wives have waists with buttons on to button don't care a continental whether they are buttoned or not. Some men don't have any waives with waists with buttons on to button any more than a rabbit. Launce Journal.

British Soldiers' New Outfit

An Aldershot correspondent writes: An important change is now being made in the infantryman's equipment. The old outfit is being superseded by the new "web equipment," which is sure to be heartily welcomed by the men. A great improvement has been made in the distribution of weight, the matching order neither the handbag nor the haversack strap is worn. The chest is left quite free and breathing is made easier. When in action kit nothing that is not essential to action will be carried, but the headgear will have to be added.

Cement-Protected Iron.

The use of cement to protect iron is not a new invention. At Brest the substitution of subaqueous concrete has brought to light iron bars which were thus covered, and which have remained in perfect condition for 20 years. At Rochelle a bridge erected in the 15th century was found to contain cement-protected iron, and the metal had not suffered from the effects of moisture.

Indian Philosophy.

Quah Parker, a Comanche chief, recently visited an ice plant in an Oklahoma town. He was much interested in everything pertaining to the plant. After he had been shown throughout the building, he remarked, "White man smart. White man very smart. White man smarter than God. God make ice in winter; white man make ice in summer."

"Aint He Cute?"

Recently a little Hoosier boy was seen to visit his aunt in the city, and seeing the parquet floors for the first time, was heard to exclaim, "Oh, auntie, look at auntie's patent-leath carpet!"

BAKER THEATRE.

A play of unusual strength and appeal is to be presented by Miss Bonstelle and her company at the Baker theatre on Monday night and all next week. The "Sacrifice" is a recent Parisian success, having drawn crowds to the Parisian theater where it was offered night after night for eight months having excited newspaper controversy, popular debate and private argument in the saloons of the great world-city, Gaston Devore, who wrote "The Sacrifice" found himself famous with a reputation extending all over Europe. Miss Bonstelle will play the part of Jean Duval, a role that might be given to the greatest dramatic actress of the day, and other members of the company in other roles will have great chance to make a successful appearance.

NOVEL USE FOR SCISSORS.

Popular for Carving Because They Cut Meat, Gristle and Bone.

"I thought I knew all about scissors," said the man. "I had seen tailors' scissors for cutting heavy cloth dressmakers' scissors for cutting flimsy fabrics and lace, and still other scissors for cutting paper, fingernails, grapevines, all kinds of metals and even for shearing sheep, but in spite of that wide knowledge of scissors I was puzzled when I saw the large, peculiarly shaped pair of scissors lying in the showcase.

"What are these scissors for?" asked the clerk.

"Carving meat," he said. "With scissors of this kind carving becomes mere child's play."

"I never saw anybody use them," said I.

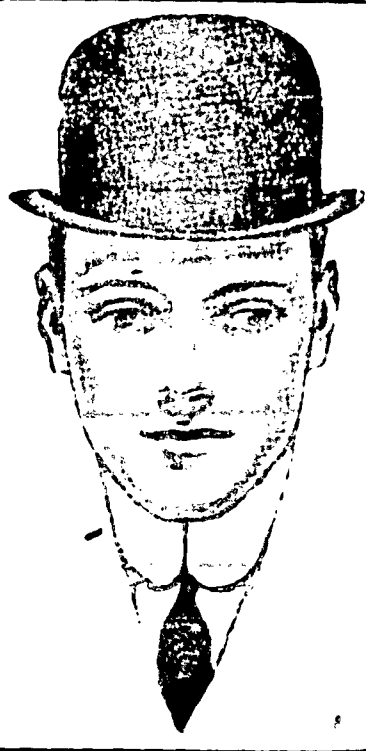

"Nobody does," use them," said the clerk. "That is, only a very few. In Europe carving scissors are popular because they cut right through meat, gristle, bone and all, but it takes a little practice to learn to manipulate the things and nobody in this country has patience enough for that."
