Baker Theater.

The Brotherhood of Man-mutual sympathy, mutual help and a fair chance for both worker and employer; this is the theme on which Charles Klein has founded one of his greatest plays, "The Daughters of Man" which Miss Bonstalle and her company will produce next week at the Baker Theatre. This production of the play has entailed much extra work, but both Miss Bonstalle and those who are associated with her this season have determined to continue the policy first laid down of presenting nothing but those successes which are out of reach of the ordinary stock company and its audiences. There is a strong lesson in the play for those who seek it; and for those who do not there is an exceedingly able presentation of the problems of Capital and Labor.

Cook Opera House.

Manager Moore will introduce three star acts at the Cook Opera House next week, with the big comedy and singing act the Empire City Quartette, in a prominent place. Ed. E. Reynard, perhaps the foremost ventriloquist on earth, will return with his new ventriloquial production. The comedy playlet next week will be furnished by Henry Horton, Louise Hardenburgh and comedy. Marion Garson, perhaps the best singer on the vaudiville stage today, will hold down a choice position on the bill. Among the other acts on the bill are: the Mangan troupe, acrobats; George McKay and John Cantwell, late stars in "The Merry-Go-Round," who will present a satire called, "On the Great White Way" which is highly spoken of by the press of the east. The Majestic Musical Four will also be a strong favorite in the running, as will Marshall's, novelty gymnastics and the Mooreoscope pictures.

Five Minute Sermon

The Jews Try to Stone Jesus.

That Jesus Christ affirmed His innocence and defied any one to convict Him of sin. This He did to convince the Jews of their injustice in refusing to believe His words and His doctrine. When a teacher combines profound learning with a spotless life he has a right to the confidence of those who hear him, for as a learned man there is no probability of his being deceived, as an honest man no one should suspect that he would deceive. Let us learn to live up to our teaching, our advice, and our corrections; so that when we reproach others, they cannot reproach us with inconsistency.
