The production of "Everyman" in the Cathedral hall, the first part of this week, was a success in every way and much credit is due to the players who portrayed so earnestly the different characters of the cast. It was indeed a treat to be present at this production which teaches the lesson of the worthlessness of everything in this world to the soul of man except his good deeds.

The large audience witnessed the affair in charge, Mrs. Cuddahy,

NEW ITALIAN CHURCH.

The construction of the second Italian church in this city will be commenced shortly. The new church will be erected in Ontario street. It will be placed under the patronage of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, and Rev. Orestes Canali will be pastor of the new parish. The structure will be of brick, two stories high, 65 feet wide and 120 feet long, with a seating capacity of 900 in the church auditorium, which will be on the second floor, as the first is to be used for school purposes. The parish was organized five years ago by Bishop McQuaid, and the members of the parish have been busy collecting the necessary funds since that time. Enough money is now on hand to proceed with the erection of the church, which will be pushed as speedily as possible.

Bishop McQuaid's Will Probated.

The will of the late Bishop Bernard J. McQuaid was admitted to probate in Surrogate Court Monday by Judge Selden S. Brown. Mohairs for Summer Service.

With the approach of summer, mohairs assume a far more important role among dress fabrics. Their lightness and durability, and dust-shedding properties makes them especially desirable for summer service.

Formerly to think of mohairs meant to confine one's self within small style limitations. The weaver's art has entirely overcome this handicap to popularity, and mohairs are shown in no less variety than other products of the loom.

It is a splendid assortment with which our Dress Goods counters have to entertain.
