

The Difference.

Geraldine was rubbing a silver spoon with enough waste of energy to have wielded a pile driver. Furthermore, a frown of discontent marred her exceedingly pretty brow.

"GRAPT" SYSTEM IN LATE WAR

Methods as Practiced by Russian Officers to Extort Money.

This incident of the late war in the east is told by a Russian soldier. After each battle the sanitaries would mark with red paint those wounded who were to be taken away for treatment and with black paint those who were to be left on the field and buried with the dead.

Here Worship and Maps

Here worship, too, was had a hand in the making of maps. Says St. Nicholas: We have seen the names of the names of every place on the map, including Kansas, and the names of the predecessors of the present owners of the counties.

Where Many Powers is Fatal

Man is the only animal which is always accompanied by disease. Except those creatures that are his companions and share his perdition. There is reason to believe that the denizens of the forest, the wild birds and the ocean, so far as they escape man's influence, live with hardly an exception, healthy lives.

Feeding School Children

In Paris the city government gives every school child one franc a day. This does not mean that the children or the parents are responsible for the cost of the meal. The responsibility of the parents for the meal is expected to be met by other hand, no jealousy or contentment can be felt by the richer children for their starved comrades for all are supplied with the same metal token which has to be given up in exchange for the meal.

Imprisonment For Libel

This from Berlin. A well-known woman socialist agitator Frau Tietz recently visited the adjacent town of Kopenick, a place known as "Berlin's wash kitchen," on account of its numerous laundries. At a public meeting there, mainly attended by washerwomen, Frau Tietz stigmatized laundry owners as "punches." This remark with all it meant, was regarded as libelous by the owners, who took action against the lady, and she was condemned to eight months' imprisonment.

Cartridge Waste in War

Great quantities of cartridges were wasted by Russian soldiers in the recent war. A single regiment at Liangyang used 1,200,000 cartridges, an average of 640 for each man, or about 50 per cent. more than the maximum allowance of a French infantry soldier.

IMPECUNIOUS ROYALTIES.

Instances Where Queens and Princesses Have Felt the Need of Money.

There have always been poor royalties, not only exiles, but princesses and princesses who lived under the thumb of some niggardly or intensely selfish man of the house. Louis XV. a man who spent vast sums on his own pleasures, cared little about his children and allowed his four younger daughters, suppliant princesses of the French royal family, to be educated on the cheap at a country convent. At twelve years of age one of them had not mastered the alphabet and the quartet remained dull, ignorant and uninteresting to the end of their lives.

People Who Eat Clay

Clay eaters are found in the West Indies, in Africa and some of the remote islands of the tropics. They are the most peculiar of any particular race. In some instances they have been known to eat mud, and in others to eat the earth where the edibles are found.

Prices of Wild Animals

A good Nubian lion is worth $100, a Senegal specimen little more than half that sum. A fine tiger is worth about $100, and a leopard about $50. The most beautiful and largest tiger trapped there is a female, and is worth $1,000.

The Science of Yawning

Yawning is beneficial. It increases the amount of lung ventilation in ordinary respiration. There is a certain quantity of air which physiologists call "residual air" left in the spaces of the lungs after the ordinary respiration. This in time becomes vitiated and affects the blood, and so it is a yawn, which is really a stretching of the respiratory chamber to its fullest capacity and the filling of it with freshly inspired air, which drives the vitiated air out.

Charred Bank Note Redeemed

Among the curios preserved in the Bank of England is a bank note that passed through the Chicago fire. The paper was consumed, but the ash here, together and the printing is quite legible. It is kept carefully under glass. The bank paid the note.

Mme Melba, the singer, can memorize an air by having it played over once.

Ice forming on telegraph poles sometimes increases their weight more than 500 per cent.

The diamond watch in Moscow is said to have been the pocket of a dollar vendor.

Five Minute Sermon

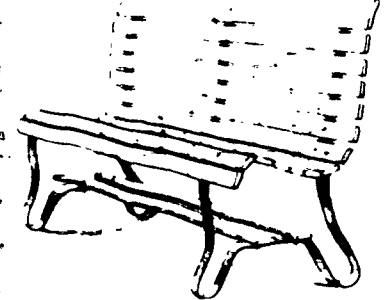

Christ promises the Comforter.

In to-day's gospel our Divine Master indicated that this sin was by saying, "because they believed not in Me." In spite of all the proofs, the Jews did not acknowledge Jesus as the expected Messiah, and the Gentiles did not even think of Him, nor had they so far accepted His doctrine. The Jews therefore sinned by their incredulity, their obstinacy, and their injustice, and these sins were the cause of many others, especially that of hatred, envy, and of murder. The Gentiles, on the other hand, were engulfed in the mire of their passions without knowing their miserable condition. But after the Holy Ghost had bestowed His gifts on the apostles the world would know the injustice of the Jews and the guilt of the Gentiles, then the whole world would be convinced that Christ was truly the Envoy sent by God, the Saviour of the world, the only One Who could lead us to eternal life.

Automatic Street Lighting in London

In some parts of London where the streets are lighted by incandescent gas an automatic system of gas lighting has been introduced and has proved a great success. In one such street, where the square is three hundred and sixty feet long, the lighting is controlled by this device. The plan has proved both reliable and economical and is especially useful in a city so subject to fogs. Directly the fog settles down making a dark night almost as dense as at night the gas can be lighted at once in every street fitted with the new lighters. The lights can be instantly extinguished when the fog lifts. An immense saving of expense is already reported from the districts using the device and it seems probable that its use will soon become universal.

Dangers of No Breakfast

The breakfast habit is harmless enough provided a hearty meal is taken before going to bed, but early in the evening. Late diners have no need of "breakfast" until noon. The French and other continental people discovered this ages ago, and have thrived under it. Barring the cup of coffee or chocolate the late dining Frenchman wants nothing to eat until luncheon. But the habit of avoiding early food and drink is a stimulating climate when the physical energies must be taxed during the morning hours is one of those silly notions which bear anemic results, visible in the complexion, the color, and eventually the constitution of those devoted to it.—Boston Herald.

South Africans Fond of Oatmeal

South Africans are distinctly an oatmeal-eating people, over 300,000 worth of this American breakfast food being imported annually into South Africa.

Advice

Enough good advice is given every day to make a heaven of earth and to forever remove the blight of failure from human endeavor.

True to Conscience

I'd rather fall by being true to my conscience than make a peep at success by being false.—John Jacob Astor's Daughter, by Leonard Maltby.

Getters Sleep on Paper Mattresses

Mattresses filled with paper are used by German soldiers.

FATHER KENNEDY'S NERVE TONIC. Has No Equal as a Nerve Tonic. Aton, Ia., March 14th, 1904. I was taken down with rheumatism about 1890. It made me helpless and a cripple. I suffered untold agony and it ran down my physical strength and made me very nervous. I tried one bottle of Father Kennedy's Nerve Tonic. I will cheerfully and honestly say it has no equal as a Tonic and leaves no bad reaction on the system and I would recommend it to all nervous people. M. M. Maltby.

Lady Smith, Wm., February 20th, 1904. My daughter Nellie became very nervous and the doctors said she had Wernicke's disease. Her medicine did not help her, so Mr. Kennedy of Daily, Wis., called my attention to Father Kennedy's Nerve Tonic which had cured his little grand daughter of St. Vitus dance. I procured a bottle which my daughter used according to directions and was all cured by her recovery before the whole bottle was used. M. M. Maltby.
