Inexpensive Separate Summer Dress Skirts.

Summer outfitting will at least require a look at the separate wash dress skirts.

What change of costume is possible with a few pretty waists and a skirt or two—dressy, comfortable, economical.

Wash skirts with the suits have taken possession of the larger section of the Cloak Room.

In an inexpensive skirt, linen furnishes an attractive material. This is in tan, blue and white. Many of the skirts are made up with panel fronts trimmed with buttons, strappings, folds, and embroidery. There are also sheath effects.

At a cost slightly in advance of the linen skirts there are natural linens, white reps, white brillantines, white vicillans and white serges.

It is quite impossible that you should not be satisfied with something you may select from the collection we have provided.

"Flaxon" the New White Goods.

No woman will ever regret having become acquainted with this beautiful new white fabric. It combines the height of daintiness with the maximum of durability at minimum cost.

It possesses a permanence of finish which rivals that of lawn and linen, its delicate linen-like surface and texture remaining after long wear and repeated laundering.

It is an ideal fabric for summer frocks, skirts and waists, and is equally desirable in the making of corset covers and light garments of all kinds.

Four qualities of plain white "Flaxon":
30 in. width, for 17c a yard.
36 in. width, at 20c, 25c and 35c a yard.

Several styles of fancy "Flaxon," all 32 in. wide, including satin and cord stripes, and satin and cord checks, at 17c, 19c, and 25c a yard.

Gefell and eight young ladies carrying the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary, which marked the closing of the May devotion. After benediction the entire congregation sang Holy God. At all the masses last Sunday Father Connors received a generous response in promises of funds for the building of the new church showing the sentiment of people for the most needed object and also the cooperation with our pastor on whom the burden rests. A number of the parishioners who have not as yet handed in their cards can do so next Sunday, and it is hoped by that time that all will be heard from so that an estimate of the amount promised will be known by Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock when a public meeting of the parishioners will take place in the school hall to talk over plans and to take definite action regarding
