St. Anthony's Mission

In the Diocese of Northampton, Fakenham, Norfolk.

THANKS A THOUSAND STATEFUL. THANKS TO ALL OUR BENEFACTORS.

Through the generosity of the Catholic public we have been enabled to secure a magnificent site for Church, Presbytery and Schools.

We have already built the Presbytery and Sacristy, the latter of which we are using for a Temporary Church until sufficient funds are in hand to build the Church.

I have no diocesan grant, remember, and no endowment except hope. Not a great kind of endowment, you will say, good reader!

This Mission is the sole outpost of Catholicism in a division of the County of Norfolk measuring 35 by 20 miles.

To those who have not helped, I would say: "For the sake of the cause, give something, if only a little."

Address: Father H. W. Gray, Catholic Mission, Fakenham, Norfolk, England.

Dear Father Gray.—You have duly accounted for the alms which you have received, and you have placed them securely in the names of Diocesan trustees.

For twenty-five years the Josephite Fathers have labored among the negroes of the state of Virginia.

ready nine Mission Stations have been established. These are supported by Saint Joseph's Mission House.

There are 400,000 negroes in the state of Virginia, but only 2,000 of them are Catholics; the others are ignorant of the blessings that Christ bequeathed to mankind through His church.

Our desire and efforts are to erect a new mission each year. Each mission station costs $2,500 to erect.

HINTS AT TRACE OF DARWIN'S APE IN US

If We Come from Perfect Man We Have Degenerated A Lot, Says Schurman.

OUR BRITISH STRAIN IS EVIDENT. Cornell's President Criticizes American Constitution in Referring to the Regulation of Divorce—Great Change in Religious Thought.

New York City.—Whether we came up from the ape, as Darwin reasoned or degenerated from perfect man, a Milton held, President J. G. Schurman of Cornell University, in addressing the Society for Ethical Culture in Carnegie Hall, said it is certain there is something radically evil in us and it is the business of modern culture to overcome it.

President Schurman spoke on "The Development of Religious Thought. He confined himself to the period from Milton to the time of Darwin whose centenary will be celebrated next month. The influence of them on religious thought was that of the British line, said the effect of Milton's advocacy was felt but it had a great influence in this country.

"I am the last man in the world," said the speaker, "to allude to the regulation of divorce as a bright feature of the American Constitution. It is a shame and a danger in the extreme in which it is now operated, but the other extreme would be just as bad. Milton advocated that under certain circumstances divorce should be allowed. We in America are enjoying to-day some of the best political principles which he favored. He was away head of his time in the advocacy of many of the things which we possess, and among them are some of the best things in the world."

"Milton had a simple theology which differs from that of most thoughtful men of to-day. His philosophy was based upon the Ptolemaic theory of astronomy, while the Copernican system, with the sun as the centre of the universe, is the accepted theory to-day. With the Ptolemaic theory it was easy for Milton to picture heaven and hell as above and beneath the earth but that pictorial representation in "Paradise Lost" would not answer to-day. So Milton's philosophy must be kept in mind in reading his work."

In referring to the change in religious thought President Schurman said: "In the eighteenth century there was a great earthquake in Lisbon. Not only was the earth torn asunder and thousands killed but the religious thought of the day was most profoundly stirred. Men of the greatest influence began to ask how the world could be governed by a beneficent Providence if thousands of lives were allowed ruthlessly to be swept away."

The Catholic hierarchy of the country at present consists of the Apostolic Delegate, one Cardinal, thirteen Archbishops, ninety Bishops, two Archbishops, sixteen Abbots and one Prefect Apostolic. The Catholic population of the twenty leading dioceses, according to the latest statistics, is as follows:

New York, 1,219,920; Chicago, 1,150,000; Boston, 850,000; Brooklyn, 700,000; New Orleans, 525,000; Philadelphia, 525,000; Pittsburgh, 425,000; St. Louis, 375,000; Hartford, 365,000; Newark, 365,000; Cleveland, 330,000; Springfield, 321,211; Detroit, 267,000; Scranton, 265,000; St. Paul, 240,000; Baltimore, 235,000; San Francisco, 250,000; Buffalo, 244,739; Milwaukee, 235,000; Providence, 222,000.

The theory of Milton was that man was created perfect; that he fell and needed redemption. So long as men believed our first parents were created perfect this theology would stand but the whole scheme becomes irrational and even superfluous if the first being was not perfect, but akin to the barbarian. I do not believe that those who will join in the celebration of the centenary of Darwin, next month, will contend that he has established the hypothesis that man and the ape sprang from a common origin, but all history and tradition tend to show that man's history is one of steady ascent.

"As for myself, I don't care if I came from savages or half brutes or from a perfect man. The important point is what I have arrived at, not what they were, but what I am. As the Puritan idea emphasizes the need of redemption, so how it is recognized by all, though we have our high ideals, that we are sinful creatures and we have a brutish strain in us. The problem is to get rid of this brutish inheritance. No demonstration of science will deny we are sinful. There is something radically evil in us, and it is the business of modern effort to overcome it."

"Notwithstanding the great advance in religious thought and the discovery of science, the great essential truths remain. Though the Bible is not regarded as inspired in every line and word, its value remains, and the old precept to fear God and keep His commandments still holds good."

BUY TORTURED IN HYPNOTIC TRANCE

While Under the Spell, Increased Loss Witnessed Pat Pepper in His Eyes.

IN AGENCY FOR HALF AN HOUR. Flery Product Put on Young Man's Face to Test the Genuine of the Hypnotist's Power—Pepper Also Way into the Tissue.

St. Louis, Mo.—While George Schneider, twenty years old, of Collinsville, Ill., lay under the hypnotic spell of Prof. G. L. Norwood, in a store window at Collinsville, he was unable to help himself, some incredulous witness to the exhibition poured essence of pepper into his eyes, nose and mouth. The youth suffered torment for half an hour, not being able to arouse himself until a jarring physician noted his suffering and had him brought to consciousness.

When brought out of the trance by Norwood at the direction of Dr. J. A. Spiegel, manager of the Opera House at Collinsville, Schneider fought for half an hour with four men before being subdued, such was his torture with the pepper burns in his nostrils and eyes.

The flery product, put on the young man's face by somebody desirous of testing the genuineness of the hypnotic trance, had eaten its way into the tissue, and when Schneider revived he thought he was burning up. His day's work on the part of the hypnotist was required to restore him.

Norwood has been showing at the Collinsville Opera House as a hypnotist and mind reader. Before going to Collinsville he was in St. Charles, Mo., where his exhibitions were conducted with his wife as the subject for the trances. Recently Mrs. Norwood became ill after one of the exhibitions, and was brought to St. Louis for treatment at a hospital.

Young Schneider was then chosen Norwood announced he would keep the lid in a trance over night, just to demonstrate his power, and this exhibition would be on view in the window of the Kings hardware store.

Doctors Spiegel raised by the window to see how things were progressing, and realizing one glance at the unconscious lid that something was wrong, Norwood was called, and brought the lid out of the trance.

The horrible crime was probably committed in thoughtlessness, and from sheer love of mischief, as the doctor said. The hypnotist was told that the victim should be found out and severely punished. People who perpetrate practical jokes without regard to the consequences to their victims should either be sent to the insane asylum or punished as criminals. A joke is a joke, but there is no joke in cruelty.

SURRENDERED 151 SKULLS.

Wild Formosan Tribes Giving Way Before Steady Japanese Advances. Victoria, B. C.—News of the progress of the fighting and killing of natives in Formosa by Japanese troops has been received here by arriving steamships. A despatch from the Formosan capital to the Asiatic of Tokyo says that forces sent to suppress the revolt at Kwaranko, reinforced by 800 of the subdued aborigines, attacked the headquarters of the rebellious tribe and burned their houses, capturing the supplies of rice and millet and also thirty fresh human heads.

The reinforcements sent from the capital arrived the next day and it was decided to attempt the final suppression of the revolting tribes. A telegram received at Tokyo from the military general of Formosa says: "Eight groups of the aborigines in the Giran district have been blockaded for many years and have at length had their supplies of salt cut off. Pressed by the advance of the attacking line since April, the difficulties of the tribe were aggravated and on several occasions they offered to surrender. The authorities doubting their sincerity ordered them to turn in the human heads taken as trophies as a token of their willingness to surrender."

Finally 600 of the aborigines, including their chief, came down the hill to the guard station and surrendered twenty rifles and 151 human skulls as ordered.

SLOW WORKING CONSCIENCE.

After Forty-one Years, Man Sent $10 to His Nightly Owner. Mr. Benfield readily recalled the incident and replied in the affirmative whereupon he received a check for $10, presumably his conscience.
