Ferrer.

It is evident that the Ferrer incident will not down Father O'Neil in his pertinent and forceful communications to the daily press has aroused the ire of Rev. Edwin Rumball and Mr. E. J Ward, who have tried, but failed sadly, to combat the scholarly rector of the Church of the Immaculate Conception

All over the country editors, public men and people in general appear to have reached the conclusion that they acted over hastily and that they were fooled by the Socialists and arch-infidels of Europe and this country into approving and eulogizing one of the most dangerous characters of modern times Even Mr Bryan's Commoner fell into the trap Coupled with his declaration in favor of prohibition, Mr. Bryan would seem to have taken himself out of the presidential possibilities

The Register of Toronto has this to say:

The American and Canadian public hear a great deal nowadays about the impartial daily press It is supposed to have risen above all prejudices, religious or otherwise We believe, too, that in the majority of cases that this is true Most of our daily papers are animated by the spirit of fairness They want the news, and have a great deal of respect for what is regarded as genuine news, namely, facts In every newspapor nowadnys there is what is known as a headliner His business is to create sensations, to make the unimportant look important, and to put the salient events of the hour out in bold type, but in tabloid form, so that he who runs may read He has to work quickly, and sometimes gets the wrong cue This has been well illustrated in the case of Ferrer, the Spanish Anarchist Both the Canadian and United States daily papers fell down irretrievably and made a laughing-stock of themselves, but few of them had the manliness and the fairness to correct the mistaken when it was called to their attention Father Phelan, of the Western Watchman, arraigns the St Louis press, and announces that on the Ferrer business "they have out-lunatiked the most lunatic screeds of Paris and Rome" The Commoner, the western organ of the Democracy, would have Ferrer's last words become a world's cry" The same has been true of the daily press in all of the leading American cities

There is a section of the criminal code which, we believe, applies to this Ferrer incident and to those who take part in demonstrations such as were held in Rochester and New York. Just to call attention thereto, we quote a part of the code referred to:

Section 160, Consolidated Statutes —Criminal anarchy is the doctrine that organized government should be overthrown by force or violence, or by assassination of the executive head or of any of the executive officials of government, or by any unlawful means. The advocacy of such doctrine either by word of mouth or writing is a felony.

Section 161—Any person who (3) openly, wilfully and deliberately justifies by word of mouth or writing the assassination or unlawful killing or assaulting of any executive or other officer of the United States or of any state or of any civilized nation having an organized government because of his official character, or any other crime, with intent to teach, spread or advocate the propriety of the doctrines of criminal anarchy, is guilty of a felony and punishable by imprisonment of not more than ten years or by a fine of not more than $5,000, or both.

Ridiculous.

In its editorial columns, the Catholic Universe of Cleveland, ridicules the idea of unity among any or all branches of the Protestant Church. "Protestant unity is a misnomer when it seeks to embrac more branches than one. There appears to be a determination to force oil and water" to mix

There was lately held at Upsala a conference of the representatives of the Church of England the Church of Sweden and the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States The representatives are said to have agreed on recognizing each other's faith, validity of orders and other important details

It does not appear difficult for representatives to recognize the harmony of contradictory matters They have formed a plan for affiliating Swedish Lutheran settlers here with the Protestant Episcopal Church The isolation is to stop by agreement The 2,000,000 Danish Lutherans are to get in closer line with the other American Protestant churches through the mediation and instrumentality of the Protestant Episcopal church Great! The commission is ready to report progress Principles must give way to politics Let us get together is the dominating cry Let us proclaim the essentials even if we pretend to stick to our tenets

The representatives may eliminate the declaration of Scripture Even if an angel from heaven come to preach a doctrine different from what I have preached to you, let him be anathema"

Such compromises ought to rouse thoughtful minds to the conclusion that they are illogical and nonsensical"

Men's Voices.

Writing in the Catholic Tribune of Dubuque, Iowa, of his recent visit to Rome Nicholas Gonner has this to say of the Sistive Choir

There are male voices only and yet there is a chastity and an angelic harmony in these melodies Here one can readily realize that Pope Pius X would insist upon having it understood that in Catholic churches wherever it is possible male voices alone should be heard Under Pius X the Church music at St Peter's is strictly in conformity with the demands of Holy Mother the Church, and all operatic music and profane wordly melodies are banned from the sacred edifice And the result of it all is that the music in St. Peter's is edifying and assists in prayer by uplifting mind and soul beyond earthly cares and sorrows

School for Souls

The Catholic Journal commented some weeks ago upon the retreat movement among Catholic laymen Victor Rousseau a non Catholic has this sympathetic study of the movement in Harper's Weekly

Imagine three lawyers two bricklayers three carpenters a schoolprincipal nine business men the president of a municipal department a plumber a printer a goldbeater and several clerks assembled in a small chapel in the heart of the Bronx upon a Saturday afternoon meditating upon the condition of their souls' Moreover they are meditating by routine wrestling, as it were, with their spiritual difficulties in unison, under the generalship of one skilful in such leadership, though obedient to the tactics of one greater than he, a famous fighter and memorable commander Ignatius Lovola They have withdrawn voluntarily from the world in order to consider during a week of meditation of prayer, and silence, how to confront it more manfully This is no ordinary sermon that Father Shealy, who is in charge of the work, delivers to these intent, uplifted faces no dull discourse of trivial prayer mongering One seems to feel the thumbs of God at work upon the clay of their souls"

We will see what we shall see when the School Board is reorganized in January

Father O'Neil wields a trenchant pen

Support the Catholic press It is needed these days.

"A public-spirited citizen, Mr. James Jerry White, of New York," says The Standard and Times, struck by the lamentable defects in the training of the public school system, has made the generous offer of a million dollars to be applied in furtherance of a general system of moral training Superintendent Brumlaugh has been requested to take up the consideration of the subject, and certain university professors are also named as having been asked to lend their assistance in devising a workable plan. If the public were asked to assemble in Fairmount Park to witness the erection of a substantial brick and mortar dwelling that would not be in contact with the earth in any way, by resting on foundations, they might well sa ythe secret of Aladdin's lamp had been discovered by the modern architects. So it is with the empiric hope of constructing a system of moral teaching independent of a religious basis. It is a mirage illusion, nothing more not less."

The American Federation of Labor made a mistake in taking up the Ferrer matter

Changes in Diocese.

Bishop Hickey announces a few changes of priests in the diocese the most important of which is the transfer of Rev George W Eckl for eight years assistant rector of Immaculate Conception Church to be rector of St John's Church Greece Father Eckl, who is one of the most beloved priests in the city of Rochester, succeeds Rev Father Boppel, who left the church at Greece to become rector of St. Boniface Church, which was without a rector owing to the resignation some time ago of Rev. Father Frederick R Rauber.

Rev. Timothy Hickey of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Springfield, Ill., has been chosen a member of the board of arbitration which will decide a dispute between the Jefferson Mine Company and Frank Hughes, president of the local No. 1911.
