

FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

What the Dominican Nuns Say:
Under date of September 4, 1928, two members of our community have sent Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic with favorable results. It has a most charming effect on the nervous system.

The sisters of the Good Shepherd at Peoria, Ill., write Sept. 2, 1928: "We used 2 bottles of Father Koenig's Nerve Tonic for a case of aggravated and obstinate insomnia, with extreme nervousness. The second bottle is now finished and cure has been brought when a physician worked in vain for 2 months. The patient sleeps like a child and the nervousness is less each day."

For sufferers from weak nerves Father Koenig's Nerve Tonic is indispensable. It makes the feeling of anxiety disappear at once, one sleeps better and feels like getting stronger. This remedy is also good for bad stomach. It could not be better. I shall recommend it to all nervous people.
Mrs. A. W. Winters.

St. Anthony's Mission

In the Diocese of Northampton, Fakenham, Norfolk.

THANKS A THOUSAND GRATEFUL (THANKS TO ALL OUR BENEFACTORS. Through the generosity of the Catholic public we have been enabled to secure a magnificent site of Church, Presbytery and Schools. We have already built the Presbytery and Sacristy, the latter of which we are using for a Temporary church until sufficient funds are in hand to build the Church. On no account will our good Bishop allow us to go into debt. Personally, I am glad, because to go into debt would mean ruin to this poor Mission, and would undo all the good that I have been struggling so hard to perform.

I have no diocesan grant, remember, and no endowment except hope. Not a great kind of endowment, you will say, good reader! But wait and see, I am by no means discouraged. Much has been accomplished in the past, and—much more is about to be accomplished.

I have hope in you, good reader. I greatly hope that you will help us to bring this glorious work, so nobly begun, to a successful and speedy issue; that you, in your zeal for the progress of Our Holy Faith, will extend a helping hand to me.

This Mission is the sole outpost of Catholicism in a division of the County of Norfolk measuring 35 by 20 miles. My people are poor and scattered, consequently the weekly offerings are necessarily very small. We must have outside help for the present. I am most grateful to those who have helped us, and trust they will continue their charity.

To those who have not helped, I would say: "For the sake of the cause, give something. If only a little." It is easier and the more pleasant to give than to beg. Speed the glad hour when I need no longer plead for a permanent home for the blessed sacrament.

Address:—Father H. W. Gray, Catholic Mission, Fakenham, Norfolk, England.

P. S.—I will gratefully and promptly acknowledge the smallest donation, and send with my acknowledgment a beautiful picture of the Sacred Heart and our Holy Patron St. Anthony of Padua.

EPISCOPAL AUTHORITY.

Dear Father Gray:—You have duly accounted for the alms which you have received, and you have placed them securely in the names of Diocesan trustees. Your efforts have gone far towards providing what is necessary for the establishment of a permanent Mission at Fakenham. I authorize you to continue to solicit alms for this object until, in my judgment, it has been fully attained.—Your faithfulness in Christ.

F. W. KEATING, Bishop of Northampton.

Help Us To Save the Negro.

For twenty-five years the Josephite Fathers have labored among the negroes of the state of Virginia. Already nine Mission Stations have been established. These are supported by Saint Joseph's Mission House. Others are badly needed to reach our unfortunate colored brethren. We appeal to the generosity of the faithful to come to our aid in this glorious apostolate. St. Anthony's Union has been established to support the priests who so generously devote their lives to the salvation of this people. There are 400,000 negroes in the state of Virginia, but only 2,000 of them are Catholics; the others are ignorant of the blessings that Christ bequeathed to mankind through His church. Our desire and efforts are to erect a new mission each year. Each mission station costs $2,500 to erect. Will you join St. Anthony's Union, and help in the salvation of the souls that cost the blood of Jesus Christ to save?

"Of all things the most divine is to co-operate in the salvation of souls."—St. Cyril of Jerusalem.

THE RIDE TO CANDY TOWN

BY ROBERT DONNELL

COPYRIGHT, 1929, BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

When Charley rode to Candy Town
Astride a Teddy bear,
He looked in wonder up and down
With many a hungry stare,
For all the streets were named for sweets,
And, oh, so many there!

They entered town by Gumdrop road,
Where all the candy shops
Were stuffed as full as any toad
With most delicious drops.
As Charley glanced he almost danced,
While Teddy licked his chops.

They turned a corner, when,
In view,
Before their very eyes,
Came Chocolate Bonbon
avenue,
Which filled them with
surprise,
For every shop was a chocolate drop
Of most amazing size.

But on they went with even jog,
Since shops are not to eat,
And soon they passed, with eyes agog,
Through Peanut Brittle street,
And every brick was a peanut stick
And doubtless very sweet!

But Teddy trotted right ahead
Through Candy Kisses way,
Though Charley pulled his ears and said:
"Hold on a minute—stay!

Lemme get down an' eat this town.
I'll finish up today!"
That Teddy bear plugged straight along
Until he chanced to see,
Surrounded by a merry throng,
A great big Christmas tree.
"Now I can climb and have a time,"
Says Ted. "Hooray for me!"

As Teddy started climbing up
His passenger slid down
And struck the bedroom floor kerplup,
And in his nightie gown!
Now, wasn't that a sorry bat
To get in Candy Town?

But, after all, the town was there.
When Charley oped his eyes,
High up the tree was Teddy
bear,
Of real riding size,
And candy sweets from all the streets—
A Christmas parade!

THE CHEERFUL WAX CANDLE

By ALICE M. BARNES
Copyright, 1929, by American Press Association

ONCE upon a time two little candles lay side by side in a big box. Both were pure white.
Said one: "I wonder what will become of me. Do you think we could be meant for a Christmas tree?"
For you must know that to be put on a Christmas tree is the best possible thing that can happen to a candle.
"Of course not," said the other, who was cross. "If we are meant for a Christmas tree it will be for some shabby little children—see if it isn't!"
"If we are," said the first, "I'll shine my very brightest, for the eyes of even poor children with only few pleasures in prospect are enough to rival little candles on Christmas eve."
"If we are," grumbled the second, "I am not sure that I will allow myself to be lighted at all."
Christmas eve drew nearer and nearer—sure enough, the two little candles, with many others of blue and pink and yellow and red, were bought for a Christmas tree.
On the day before Christmas, while it still was daylight, some young girls came to arrange the presents and make the tree ready for the evening.
"Oh, what a lot of pretty little candles!" said one of them. "They are such lovely colors—all except those two white ones. We will put those out of sight because the red and pink ones are prettier."
"Didn't I tell you what would happen?" said the cross little candle in a whisper.
"Yes, but wait," replied the other. "Just shine your brightest all the time."
"I won't," snapped the cross one. When evening came, ranged all round the tree were happy boys and girls. Soon every branch on the great tree blossomed with little lights. Some of the flames were faint, but many were bright. When the little white candles were lighted the cross one just sputtered a minute and then went out. The other shone so brightly that a gentleman standing near said:

"Oh, what a brilliant candle! But it is almost out of sight among the green branches. We ought to put it where it can be seen better."
"Put it on the very tip-top," said a little lady.
And that is where they did put it, on the very tip-top of the tree, where it nodded and gleamed in answer to the smiling faces around it.

The Barber's Joke:
Christmas morning and the barber very busy.
"I'd rather shave ten Germans than one American."
The Fabulous Beaver is the animal called broadly through the States.
"Good," he chuckled. "Don't you fight 'em yet?"
The Barber took a former hold upon the victim's nose as he replied:
"Ten Germans pay me a dollar and a half—only one American pays me a dollar."
And you could have heard the barber's moan:
"Papa!"
"If Santa Claus has come the night as grandpa," said a wee girl the other day, "I shik be'd be' fraid to come down the chimney over a hot fire for fear his corns would pop."

Santa Claus Remarks:
Mailed orders advice tonight.
"That 'without proper names two foolish boys want a strike against me," said Santa Claus.
"Must take two strikes a year. Who first an early one to see what children wanted here. They asked his name of 'Who was he? They criticized the last time. They said it made them very sad. Those presents come to waste! They asked him 'why he thought a boy would want to 'Tiddy bear' and they said it sounded like a bad name. Much better judgment there. They wrote him frankly what they thought."
A protest is made.
They told him that they thought he ought to sell out and retire.
They covered rooms of paper then.
To tell him what to do.
The now, the which, the what, the when. They carefully went through it. And then they told him what to bring for each boy in their town.
And for themselves: "Oh, everything! Was just what they wanted. They thought the 'Tiddy bear' was for me. To understand their scheme. And each one bought a bag to hold their presents. It would seem silly when they asked Santa Claus why just as pure as you are here. So he'd be' fraid to stay!"
