Suggestions About Hand Wrought Jewelry—Ingenious and Useful Handkerchief Case—Novel and Attractive Waist Hanger

Watch fobs are favorite presents to men from girls who are clever at designing and making hand wrought jewelry. Fobs of copper set with varicose, a pretty green stone, and mounted on tan suede, of a heavy quality are very smart. It is a fashion, too, to have belt buckles made out of old watch cases and from old picture frames, not to mention charming girdles from old fashioned chased and fretwork napkin rings. The ring is cut into perpendicular strips, the strips being fastened together with silver chains in an ornamental design. Old coins are often joined together for dog collars, and quilt buttons are set in metal bands for fillets. These are only a few suggestions for girls who are interested in arts and crafts work.

Useful Handkerchief Case.
A useful handkerchief case can be made by purchasing flowered ribbon with a satin edge. Get the ribbon the width of a handkerchief when it is folded into a square, allowing a little for the finish. Turn both ends over a little more than is required for a

For the Woman Who Cooks.
Few women can resist the appeal of a daintily made apron. For sewing or at a chafing dish an apron is indispensable, and many persons like to wear one around the house at light tasks that do not require them to be developed in more serviceable aprons.

A dainty affair of this kind, one that would make a nice Christmas present, is so simple in construction that any one can develop it. All that is needed is a square of thin material—Persian lawn, sheer muslin or fine barred dimity. The size of the square can be varied from a yard to forty inches or even more, according to the height of the wearer and the desired length of the apron.

Make an inch wide hem on the four sides and hemstitch it on one or both edges of the drawn threads, as preferred.

Hold the square to you with a point of the best line, and at the waist line shape it by several groups of five lengthwise tucks to form a small bib top. On each side of the point so formed put five of the material two inches and a half wide. These may be hemstitched all around, or they can be hemmed on the edges and finished in a deep hemstitching at the bottom.

This dainty apron is capable of many variations. In addition to the hemstitching, a bowknot design can be worked in the corner that forms the bib and at the bottom corner directly below it, or the four corners can be embroidered, those opposite the bib line taking a smaller motif.

An individual touch can be given by hemstitching as described and working in the bib corner a large oval medallion with a monogram in the center. Touches of color could be introduced in the embroidery with good effect.

A Novel Waist Hanger.
Here is a new shirt waist holder that is made by cutting white cardboard twenty-one inches in length and nine inches in depth in the form of the illustration. Cut a floral design from wall paper and paste on the front. Make two holes in the top for the baby ribbon loop, one yard being necessary, and the holder is completed.

FOR YOUR WEALTHY FRIEND.

The woman who wishes to make a present to a wealthy friend who has seemingly no need of anything, you can afford to buy will be sure to make a hit if she makes her three or four protectors into which can be slipped, delicate evening clothes.

Choose a close chesscloth in any pretty, delicate color. A soft gray is serviceable and wears without fading. Use the width of the material, doubling it across at the top and sewing the two sides and the bottom in a seam.

Cut a small hole in the middle of the top, fold and from it cut a straight slit about a yard long down the middle of the front piece. Bind around the hole and down each side of the slit with three-quarter inch white tape. The opening can be cut back and hemmed. If preferred, or can be bound with narrow wash ribbon in a contrasting color to the chesscloth.

Fasten tapes at each side of the neck opening and about six inches apart to the bottom of the slit. If the covers are intended as gifts and if there are several women in a family it is a good idea to work three initials on the chesscloth just below the opening. Use white mercerized cotton and pad well underneath to make the letters raised.

This marking is a convenience to tell whose frock the bag contains without opening it.

For the Traveler.
A dainty convenience for traveling is a little safety pin case made of linen and embroidered in a conventional design.

Two pieces of stiff paper or cardboard are cut the size of the oval in the design, and one piece is for the cover of the case, the other for the back.

The design may be transferred to the linen by means of carbon paper and embroidered in a plain Kensington stitch. The poppy is red and the leaves green, with binding and bows of red ribbon.

Cover each side of the cardboard with the linen and stitch on the ribbon binding. Two pieces of white, fannel with pinked edges are sewed in at the top to hold the safety pins. Pins of different sizes may be put into the fannel, and a few black safety pins will be found useful.

It is an attractive little gift and would be thoroughly appreciated by women at home as well as by the traveler.

Something For the Baby.
Something for the baby is one of the most important of Christmas gifts. A sleighbell ring will delight his young fancy, for it has gay ribbon, and when he shakes it the bells tinkle merrily. A small embroidery hoop is wound tightly with ribbon, and the strands of the ribbons are stretched across the hoop. A bow of the ribbon finished where the strands are sewed on, and a bell is sewed to the other end.

A practical idea is to take a hoop from a butter tub, make notches in the wood and tie it together tightly before winding with the ribbon.

It takes only a few minutes to make the ring, and the ribbon and bells are inexpensive. Any one who has a few moments to spare might make half a dozen or so and send them to some children's home or hospital, for there is always sure to be some very "wee ones" there.

Table Cover Design.
An attractive design for a table cover may be carried out in stencil and embroidery. A model was developed in monk's cloth of a warm tau shade stenciled in peacock blue and orange outlined in deeper shades of the same color. Tapestry dye for stenciling may be bought in any good selling art materials. Where the desired shade cannot be purchased it is easily obtained by mixing the dyes.
