

DOINGS IN THE SPORT WORLD

All Eyes Centered on Work of Rube Marquard.

Rube Marquard, the New York Yankees' $11,000 beauty, has now a quiet control of the ball...

Big Stake For South America. Horsemen would better pay attention to the stakes that are offered in South America...

Loco Weed For Feeding. Professor F. E. Sayre of the Kansas university is experimenting with loco weed for feeding...

Nancy Hanks to Be Done in Marble. The latest thing in the race horse world is the building of statues of famous horses...

Pitching Gun Used by Navy. Baseball candidates at the Naval academy this season are trying out a new pitching gun...

Ryan Looking For Fight. Tommy Ryan, the ex-middleweight champion, evidently has made up his mind to re-enter the ring...

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Rearing the Colt.

Colts should be reared in the best possible manner to the fall...

Deterioration of Oats.

No good farmer can afford to be without a good farming outfit...

Ground Limestone For the Soil.

Raw ground limestone is coming rapidly into use and while it is not favored by a few chemists...

Loco Weed For Feeding.

Professor F. E. Sayre of the Kansas university is experimenting with loco weed for feeding...

The Brood Mares.

When spring work begins the mares are usually needed in the farm work...

Whitewash That Lasts.

Make your whitewash as follows and you will find that it rubs off very little...

Sheep as Profit Makers.

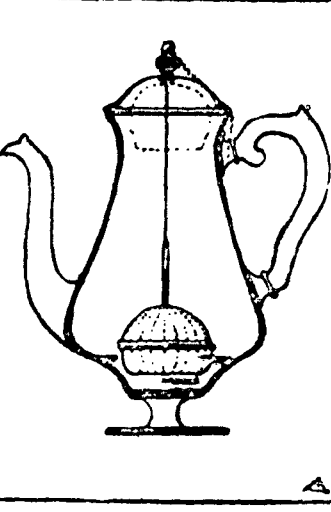

Sheep are profitable animals where provision is made for pasture and shelter is afforded in bad weather...

The Sex of Guineas.

The guinea cock is distinguished from the hen by a deeper and richer color in the neck and is more compact in shape...

HINTS FOR THE BUSY HOUSEWIFE

An Improved Pot For Making Coffee or Tea.

A teapot which will with a few alterations have been designed by two practical men...

Cleaning Hints.

To keep a comb or brush bright clean the brass as usual then rub it carefully with a little vasoline on a cloth...

Around the House.

A little grated cheese improves chicken soup. Cook all vegetables slowly to keep them tender...

Liver and Rice.

Boil one cup of rice in four cups of water until soft enough to mix to a paste...

Sillabub.

This is an old colonial recipe and makes a dainty and suitable dessert to accompany a heavy dinner...

Smothered Potatoes.

For a quart of sliced or chopped raw potatoes make a pint of sauce with a tablespoonful of butter...

Southern Corn Bread.

Sift one quart of white-cornmeal with two tablespoonfuls of baking powder...

Orange Float.

Add one cupful of sugar to one quart of water and boil five minutes. Add the juice and pulp of two lemons...

FOR THE CHILDREN

Hidden Telegrams.

In this game you are to imagine you have a distant friend with whom you have an understanding about an expected message...

Engineer Taught by a Clam.

A valuable engineering hint given by a clam is that a man should not be too sure of himself...

The Boy Hero.

All boys and girls can repeat by heart the lines beginning 'The boy stood on the burning deck'...

A Mystifying Trick.

Have two pieces of colored ribbon of exactly the same size and appear one of which being dampened may be secured in the palm of the hand...

A Puzzle.

In what manner can a person reckon up how much the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 up to 50 amount to when added together without adding them up either in your head or on paper?

A Boy's Essay on the Horse.

The horse does not belong to the cat tribe because his paws are hoofs. It breathes with its gills when it is young and chews the cud just like other people...

Snicklefritz and Ticklefingers.

Were two little boys. Snicklefritz got all the spankings; Ticklefingers got the toys. Whistletrigger was their father...

A Boy's Essay on the Horse.

The horse does not belong to the cat tribe because his paws are hoofs. It breathes with its gills when it is young and chews the cud just like other people...

Snicklefritz and Ticklefingers.

Were two little boys. Snicklefritz got all the spankings; Ticklefingers got the toys. Whistletrigger was their father...

A Boy's Essay on the Horse.

The horse does not belong to the cat tribe because his paws are hoofs. It breathes with its gills when it is young and chews the cud just like other people...

Snicklefritz and Ticklefingers.

Were two little boys. Snicklefritz got all the spankings; Ticklefingers got the toys. Whistletrigger was their father...

A Boy's Essay on the Horse.

The horse does not belong to the cat tribe because his paws are hoofs. It breathes with its gills when it is young and chews the cud just like other people...

PEN SKETCHES OF NOTED PEOPLE

Judge Norris, Who Led the Fight on Uncle Joe.

Congressman George William Norris whose broad parliamentary stroke opened the way for the elimination of Speaker Cannon from the House...

Through the long years of his exile he never heard from her, but his memory never faded from his heart...

As he toiled wearily up the hill he heard a feeble voice calling for help. In the fading light he discovered an old blind woman sitting by the wayside...

When they reached the top of the mountain they sat down, and the old woman, being very weary, fell asleep, but Ben Urisseff watched.

Just as the first ray of dawn glanced above the eastern summit of the mountain he saw by his pale light two blood red flowers supported upon white stems blooming near him...

Urisseff reverently raised it to his lips, and at the touch he felt new life and strength animate his body and course through his veins...

So these two people walked down from the mountain hand in hand, restored to youth and beauty, and through a long, happy life they walked together.

Ben Urisseff, with lips touched by holy fire, sang beautiful songs which reached the hearts of men, and he and his beloved Rachel were held in the highest respect and love by all men.

Once every century on the anniversary of the night of the crucifixion two flowers bloom on the spot where the blood of Christ sank into the ground. Any deserving hand may gather and gain from their touch new life, but only the believing eye can see and only the deserving soul may pluck them.

AT DAMASCUS GATE.

There lived in Constantinople in the year 1750 Ben Urisseff a Mohammedan high in authority and favor with the Turkish government...

In the springtime Ben Urisseff was sent to Jerusalem by the sultan's government. He had not long been in the ancient city of the Jews before he saw and loved a beautiful Jewish maiden named Rachel...

Moved by the beauty of the maiden, he did not seek to force his attentions by the exercise of his official authority, but disguised himself as a humble pilgrim and succeeded in making the acquaintance of the object of his affection...

Now Rachel although of Jewish parentage was a Christian and under her influence and amid the surroundings made sacred by the life and death of the Man of Galilee Ben Urisseff became a convert to the Christian faith...

His apostasy reached the ears of the sultan, and an order for his arrest was dispatched to Jerusalem. A friend of the condemned man gave him warning before the arrival of the messenger and he was able to make good his escape from Turkish territory...

Finally, when he had reached his seventy-third year, believing himself unrecognized and being filled with desire to visit once more the spot where his heart had first opened to a human and a divine love, he determined to return to Jerusalem.

Old and feeble and possessing no money to purchase transportation, it was many weeks before Ben Urisseff approached the Holy City. At the close of a toilsome day's journey, footsore and faint from fatigue and hunger, he reached the Damascus gate of the city but found it closed, for it was after sunset.

Feeling incapable of more exertion, he turned a way from the gate and, seeking a place of rest, started to climb the skull shaped mound directly east from the Damascus gate.

When she learned that it was night and that the gate was closed she begged him not to leave her alone. He was moved by her helpless condition and took her by the hand.

Thus the decrepit old man and feeble blind woman tottered up the pathway along which the Son of Mary had borne the heavy cross 1800 years before.

When they reached the top of the mountain they sat down, and the old woman, being very weary, fell asleep, but Ben Urisseff watched.

Just as the first ray of dawn glanced above the eastern summit of the mountain he saw by his pale light two blood red flowers supported upon white stems blooming near him...

Urisseff reverently raised it to his lips, and at the touch he felt new life and strength animate his body and course through his veins. Then he awoke his aged companion, and taking her hand, in which also appeared a red drop, he raised it to her lips, and behold, the semblance of age passed away!

HYG How THE Every Real Hair on a Man's Head Dear my self here I see small house of iron the m is out of it, great chief Whi arent As th handi "Suns it is l they i And adds witha To w stal e begin I'm g in g bo in th Micou ching But chief shine said mean!