

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Overall Will Work Hard to Win Thirty Games.

Thirty winners—count 'em, thirty! That's the mark Overall expects to reach in the present National League pennant race.

Last season Overall fell shy of the high water figure, winning twenty-one and losing ten games.

Overall, the one club in the league that most fans regard as the real favorite, will have plenty of chances to mix it during the season.

Trainer Mike Martin of the Reds, who has had ample time and opportunity to look over the fine specimens of physical manhood that are on the field.

It is very seldom that you run across a man built like the one who runs the Cincinnati Reds.

Becher is faster on his feet than any hundred and ninety-nine out of every thousand men in the game.

Becher's habits are of the best, and I expect to see him develop into one of the greatest players in the game's history.

Krueger Another Buckett. Are American league fans to see an incarnation of Jesse Buckett in the left field, the position the famous "Spider" usually filled in the circuit under Pat Tabouret?

Nap veterans see in Art Krueger, secured from Columbus, the almost exact counterpart of Jesse Buckett.

Lajtha, Fick and others who know Buckett when they got their first glimpse of the Columbus man were struck by the resemblance Krueger bears to the man who made his name for pitchers in the old days.

Larry said when he got a side view of Krueger he was on the point of going up and giving him a slap on the back. He thought it was Buckett.

Wolcott Carries Only One Sixth Mark. Although Al Wolcott, the light-weight pugilist champion of the world, has engaged in nearly 100 fights, many of them of long duration, he has developed a defense that has enabled him to prevent having his beauty spoiled.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Draining Muck Soils.

Muck soils are sometimes very good after they have been drained and cultivated for some time, says Orange Judd Farmer.

A Lesson in Farming. As the farmers of America they have an interesting subject before them when they take up the subject of muck soils.

Cultivating Muck Land.

Many failures are made by trying to cultivate muck land, yet there are thousands of farmers in the north-west who do not cultivate enough of their land.

Take your feet and young tender cabbage. Chop both the after parting the heads. Put into a casserole a piece of butter the size of an egg.

Becher's Habits.

Becher is faster on his feet than any hundred and ninety-nine out of every thousand men in the game.

It is very seldom that you run across a man built like the one who runs the Cincinnati Reds.

Becher's habits are of the best, and I expect to see him develop into one of the greatest players in the game's history.

Becher's habits are of the best, and I expect to see him develop into one of the greatest players in the game's history.

Krueger Another Buckett. Are American league fans to see an incarnation of Jesse Buckett in the left field, the position the famous "Spider" usually filled in the circuit under Pat Tabouret?

Nap veterans see in Art Krueger, secured from Columbus, the almost exact counterpart of Jesse Buckett.

Lajtha, Fick and others who know Buckett when they got their first glimpse of the Columbus man were struck by the resemblance Krueger bears to the man who made his name for pitchers in the old days.

Larry said when he got a side view of Krueger he was on the point of going up and giving him a slap on the back. He thought it was Buckett.

Wolcott Carries Only One Sixth Mark. Although Al Wolcott, the light-weight pugilist champion of the world, has engaged in nearly 100 fights, many of them of long duration, he has developed a defense that has enabled him to prevent having his beauty spoiled.

HINTS FOR THE BUSY HOUSEWIFE

Curved Washboard Tends to Lighten Labor.

An invention to lighten the labor of the washwoman is a washboard designed by an Ohio man, and its advantage over the old style washboard lies in the fact that the front or rubbing surface is curved outwardly.

Cabbage and Feet.

Take your feet and young tender cabbage. Chop both the after parting the heads. Put into a casserole a piece of butter the size of an egg.

Becher's Habits. Becher is faster on his feet than any hundred and ninety-nine out of every thousand men in the game.

Becher's Habits.

Becher is faster on his feet than any hundred and ninety-nine out of every thousand men in the game.

It is very seldom that you run across a man built like the one who runs the Cincinnati Reds.

Becher's habits are of the best, and I expect to see him develop into one of the greatest players in the game's history.

Becher's habits are of the best, and I expect to see him develop into one of the greatest players in the game's history.

Krueger Another Buckett. Are American league fans to see an incarnation of Jesse Buckett in the left field, the position the famous "Spider" usually filled in the circuit under Pat Tabouret?

Nap veterans see in Art Krueger, secured from Columbus, the almost exact counterpart of Jesse Buckett.

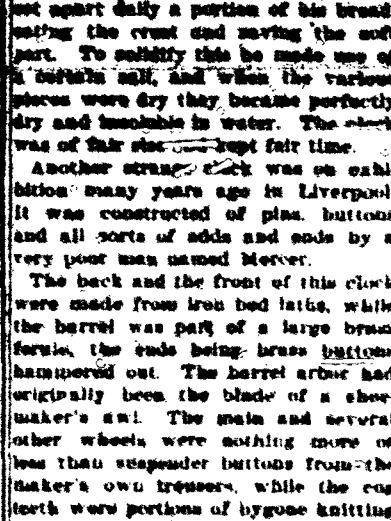

Lajtha, Fick and others who know Buckett when they got their first glimpse of the Columbus man were struck by the resemblance Krueger bears to the man who made his name for pitchers in the old days.

Larry said when he got a side view of Krueger he was on the point of going up and giving him a slap on the back. He thought it was Buckett.

Wolcott Carries Only One Sixth Mark. Although Al Wolcott, the light-weight pugilist champion of the world, has engaged in nearly 100 fights, many of them of long duration, he has developed a defense that has enabled him to prevent having his beauty spoiled.

HINTS FOR THE CHILDREN

Strange Clock.

Did you ever hear of a clock made of brass? Some years ago there was a man in Milan who devoted three years of his life to making a clock of brass.

Guessing Distances.

Almost every one knows that the head of an ordinary horse is as long as a barrel, but not many persons would have thought it so without measuring.

Becher's Habits. Becher is faster on his feet than any hundred and ninety-nine out of every thousand men in the game.

Becher's Habits.

Becher is faster on his feet than any hundred and ninety-nine out of every thousand men in the game.

It is very seldom that you run across a man built like the one who runs the Cincinnati Reds.

Becher's habits are of the best, and I expect to see him develop into one of the greatest players in the game's history.

Becher's habits are of the best, and I expect to see him develop into one of the greatest players in the game's history.

Krueger Another Buckett. Are American league fans to see an incarnation of Jesse Buckett in the left field, the position the famous "Spider" usually filled in the circuit under Pat Tabouret?

Nap veterans see in Art Krueger, secured from Columbus, the almost exact counterpart of Jesse Buckett.

Lajtha, Fick and others who know Buckett when they got their first glimpse of the Columbus man were struck by the resemblance Krueger bears to the man who made his name for pitchers in the old days.

Larry said when he got a side view of Krueger he was on the point of going up and giving him a slap on the back. He thought it was Buckett.

Wolcott Carries Only One Sixth Mark. Although Al Wolcott, the light-weight pugilist champion of the world, has engaged in nearly 100 fights, many of them of long duration, he has developed a defense that has enabled him to prevent having his beauty spoiled.

SNAPSOTS AT CELEBRITIES

Frank N. Hoftel, Banker and Steel Magnate.

Frank N. Hoftel, who was recently indicted in Pittsburg on charges of bribery and conspiracy, has long been prominent in the business activities of the Iron City.

Becher's Habits.

Becher is faster on his feet than any hundred and ninety-nine out of every thousand men in the game.

It is very seldom that you run across a man built like the one who runs the Cincinnati Reds.

Becher's Habits.

Becher is faster on his feet than any hundred and ninety-nine out of every thousand men in the game.

It is very seldom that you run across a man built like the one who runs the Cincinnati Reds.

Becher's habits are of the best, and I expect to see him develop into one of the greatest players in the game's history.

Becher's habits are of the best, and I expect to see him develop into one of the greatest players in the game's history.

Krueger Another Buckett. Are American league fans to see an incarnation of Jesse Buckett in the left field, the position the famous "Spider" usually filled in the circuit under Pat Tabouret?

Nap veterans see in Art Krueger, secured from Columbus, the almost exact counterpart of Jesse Buckett.

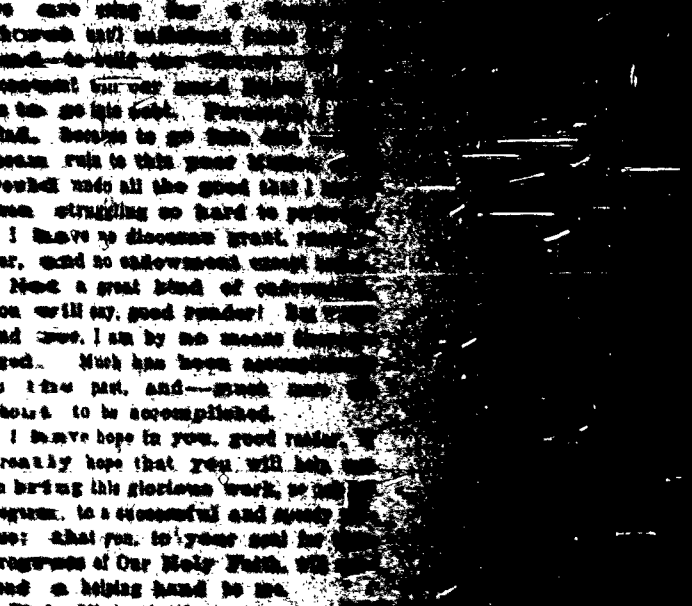

Lajtha, Fick and others who know Buckett when they got their first glimpse of the Columbus man were struck by the resemblance Krueger bears to the man who made his name for pitchers in the old days.

Larry said when he got a side view of Krueger he was on the point of going up and giving him a slap on the back. He thought it was Buckett.

Wolcott Carries Only One Sixth Mark. Although Al Wolcott, the light-weight pugilist champion of the world, has engaged in nearly 100 fights, many of them of long duration, he has developed a defense that has enabled him to prevent having his beauty spoiled.

SNAPSOTS AT CELEBRITIES

Frank N. Hoftel, Banker and Steel Magnate.

Frank N. Hoftel, who was recently indicted in Pittsburg on charges of bribery and conspiracy, has long been prominent in the business activities of the Iron City.

Becher's Habits.

Becher is faster on his feet than any hundred and ninety-nine out of every thousand men in the game.

It is very seldom that you run across a man built like the one who runs the Cincinnati Reds.

Becher's Habits.

Becher is faster on his feet than any hundred and ninety-nine out of every thousand men in the game.

It is very seldom that you run across a man built like the one who runs the Cincinnati Reds.

Becher's habits are of the best, and I expect to see him develop into one of the greatest players in the game's history.

Becher's habits are of the best, and I expect to see him develop into one of the greatest players in the game's history.

Krueger Another Buckett. Are American league fans to see an incarnation of Jesse Buckett in the left field, the position the famous "Spider" usually filled in the circuit under Pat Tabouret?

Nap veterans see in Art Krueger, secured from Columbus, the almost exact counterpart of Jesse Buckett.

Lajtha, Fick and others who know Buckett when they got their first glimpse of the Columbus man were struck by the resemblance Krueger bears to the man who made his name for pitchers in the old days.

Larry said when he got a side view of Krueger he was on the point of going up and giving him a slap on the back. He thought it was Buckett.

Wolcott Carries Only One Sixth Mark. Although Al Wolcott, the light-weight pugilist champion of the world, has engaged in nearly 100 fights, many of them of long duration, he has developed a defense that has enabled him to prevent having his beauty spoiled.