

SMARTNESS UP TO DATE.

Summer Fashions Will Be Much Better... Ribbon play an important part in the draped effects of the modes of the hour...

ONE OF THE NEW DRESSES.

The present type of dress. It is standing with an embellished bodice at the bottom and the cuffs and frill worked in the same shade as the bodice...

The blouse of this material to match the skirt is smarter than that of white. Here is a model that can be used either as a separate blouse or for an entire gown.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

QUANT CONCEPTS.

Some Picturesque Hats of the Summer—Curious Materials. Old fashioned chapeaux is used for covering some of the picturesque hats of the season...

TUCKED BODICULAR SKIRT.

latest style. They belong to the shepherd's plaid suit, to the navy blue serge or to the strawberry lines. Skirts have fancy buckles of some kind and are worn with gayly colored stockings...

A charming color scheme for six bodiculars is white monotony. They walk two by two. The first two wear white. These are followed by two in old pink. The last two wear old blue.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Styles in the New Season—The "Chanteclair" Stationery. While sleeves are short, it is considered better to cover the lower part of the arm with a tight under-sleeve of transparent material.

SIMPLE ONE-Piece DRESS.

One very good design has two narrow leather straps—two broad in width, bound at the back with a buckled with buckles, as is worn in shoes, the straps being in back and in front...

The "Chanteclair" stationery is decidedly prettier than some of the millinery named after this famous play. The correspondence cards, with maroon open to match, are especially charming.

Lingerie ribbons are wider this year than usual, so that when tied the bow is of considerable size. The little dress that is closed invisibly at the back is one of the favorites of the season...

JUDIC CHOLLET.

The May Manton pattern is out in blue for girls of four, six and eight years of age. Here is a model that can be used either as a separate blouse or for an entire gown.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

FROM HEWE AND THERE.

The Surplice Bodice Seen on Many French Fashions This Year. Simplified lines are used on a large percentage of the French dresses, the V-shaped opening being low and fitted in more or less, according to the character of the frock.

PRINCESS BATHING SUIT.

front slightly full into the girdle and collarless and you have nine out of ten of the smart bodices. The back of the new gown should fit possible be as good looking as the front. Almost any one can look well in the front, but how many rear views of frocks are perfect?

The princess bathing suits are very smart this season. Illustrated by a model made with close fitting body portion and plaited skirt so that it gives princess lines and snugness and at the same time is free and loose at the lower portion.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

This May Manton pattern is out in green for girls of four, six and eight years of age. Here is a model that can be used either as a separate blouse or for an entire gown.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

VANITY'S VISIONS.

Mary Garden Performs the Latest Jewel Shades in Silk Fabric. The newest fashion is the Mary Garden. It seems to be a mingling of all the sweet smelling flowers of the garden—a coat of white-rose, a branch of white lilac and lily of the valley, with a delicate odor of apple blossoms.

THE DRESSING ROOM.

Jewel shades in rich silks are popular. Burned tops in a wonderfully soft fabric.

During shade in a lovely tone of pale yellow. Ruby is the deep red of the late winter gown. The turquoise has heavily shaded, and aquamarine is an inimitable pale green.

These blue linen dresses embroidered with blue and coral silk are made for young girls. These are worn with lace gimples and are collared. The color of midday blouse is a summer favorite. This one is designed for misses and small women and will be found well adapted for outdoor sports.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE WORLD OF CHIFFONS.

Little Acquaintance of Brown Tulle Made For Sportswomen. Short waist coats are so in vogue in all sorts of designs. They generally come in sets of three pairs, two for the outer and one for the inevitable skirt.

FROCK INTRICATELY CLOTHED.

spike variety, ornamental details for their various points have been devised, however, which rob them somewhat of their savage appearance. The addition of odd bits of material on a dress is a new note—for instance, a bright red felt on broadcloth, the narrow patch or strip of it with blue edges and the one spot of color on a shepherd's checked costume trimmed with black satin.

The royal blue hue so dominant this season appears at its best in all the latest materials or lines. It is charming in charmesse, shantung, silk or linen, but undesirable in serge.

If one is buying material for the yard for making a pretty skirt it is wise to recall that the threads of unacquainted wool move easily than those of sheep fabrics. Fine cloth similar to rough poplin is displayed in the shops at 25 cents a yard. This comes in all the popular shades of the season.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

BIG CONGRESS OF MOTHERS

New National Organization to Convene in Denver Works for the Welfare of Children. Constructive force rises to battling for the future by endeavoring to improve the present.

FROM all sections of the United States, women will gather in Denver to attend the National Congress of Mothers June 10 to 15. In the beautiful "milk high" capital of Colorado the devoted mothers will spend a week in the discussion of matters pertaining to the welfare of children—out their own children alone, but the afflicting of others as well. The Congress of Mothers is a movement for the benefit of the nation looking toward the making of happy and useful men and women out of the raw material of childhood. The movement takes the urgent form of an organized campaign for the education of parents in the bringing up of children and for the protection and fostering of child life through local and national governmental agencies. Many nations of vital importance to family life and the future citizenship of the nation will be considered by the women in the Denver convention.

From the east, the north and the south the delegates will assemble at Denver, whence they will go to Denver by special train. From Texas and the far west and northwest special trains will carry the delegates to Denver. While it is not to be expected that the majority of these mothers are suffragettes, it may be taken for granted that all of them will welcome the opportunity with the Congress to study conditions in one of the four states where woman suffrage prevails.

Denver sits in the heart of the American fur trade, and it is not surprising that Judge Ben R. Lindsey, who presides over the trial of the man who shot the child, should be a prominent figure in the proceedings. Judge Lindsey says he owes his success in his fight for child labor in the National Congress of Mothers, which was the first step in the establishment of a permanent court and a probation system that is now in effect.

Organized in 1907, The National Congress of Mothers has been in existence since 1907. The "mothers" of the National Congress were Mrs. Frank A. Henry and Mrs. Mrs. Theodore W. Henry, the president of the National Congress of Mothers.

The organization has been established in Denver, Colorado, and it is the purpose of the organization to bring together the mothers of the nation and to discuss the problems of child life and to endeavor to improve the present.

The organization has been established in Denver, Colorado, and it is the purpose of the organization to bring together the mothers of the nation and to discuss the problems of child life and to endeavor to improve the present.

The organization has been established in Denver, Colorado, and it is the purpose of the organization to bring together the mothers of the nation and to discuss the problems of child life and to endeavor to improve the present.

The organization has been established in Denver, Colorado, and it is the purpose of the organization to bring together the mothers of the nation and to discuss the problems of child life and to endeavor to improve the present.

The organization has been established in Denver, Colorado, and it is the purpose of the organization to bring together the mothers of the nation and to discuss the problems of child life and to endeavor to improve the present.

The organization has been established in Denver, Colorado, and it is the purpose of the organization to bring together the mothers of the nation and to discuss the problems of child life and to endeavor to improve the present.

throughout the world. In thousands of homes little children's lives have been made happier and better because of that Congress and its results. Thousands upon thousands of parents have been led to a higher conception of their duty to their children. Other organizations have caught the inspiration of work for childhood and have been given not only sympathy but active help in bringing about better conditions. States have been aroused to their duty to the children, and the committee of the United States and the president have taken and handled the request of the mothers in behalf of their children.

Mrs. Frank A. Henry of Philadelphia has been president of the National Congress of Mothers since 1907. From 1907 to 1909 she was vice president of the congress. From 1909 to 1910 she held the office of assistant of the Philadelphia Congress of Mothers. She is a woman of very broad sympathies and is actively interested in several lines of philanthropic endeavor.

Work of the Congress. The work of the organized mothers' effort for children in all branches of endeavor. The advancement of the cooperation of home and school through the organization.

is a constructive force. The mothers of the nation are organized in a way that will enable them to bring about a better life for their children.

The mothers of the nation are organized in a way that will enable them to bring about a better life for their children.

The mothers of the nation are organized in a way that will enable them to bring about a better life for their children.

The mothers of the nation are organized in a way that will enable them to bring about a better life for their children.

The mothers of the nation are organized in a way that will enable them to bring about a better life for their children.

The mothers of the nation are organized in a way that will enable them to bring about a better life for their children.

The mothers of the nation are organized in a way that will enable them to bring about a better life for their children.

The mothers of the nation are organized in a way that will enable them to bring about a better life for their children.

The mothers of the nation are organized in a way that will enable them to bring about a better life for their children.