A Good Time to Paint the House

For painting the house there is no season better than the fall, if you would have the enduring results. During the cold months the paint has a chance to soak more thoroughly in the wood so that by the time the summer sun has come around again it is in condition to withstand the sun's rays.

Another very practical reason for painting the house now, and getting the paint here, is that the price of paint is rapidly advancing although we have made no advance in our prices. We handle the New England paints--none better made--black and 44 shades.

- 1-2 pt. cans, 18c. 1 pt. cans, 30c. 1 qt. cans, 50c. 1-2 gal. cans, 90c. 1 gal. cans, $1.70.

We also have a very extensive line of paints, varnishes, etc., for interior work of every kind, also floor wax, furniture polish, brushes and all needed accessories.
