

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Nat Cartmell Plans a Trip Around World.

Nat J. Cartmell, the former Pennsylvania sprinter, who has been coaching the University of North Carolina track team, plans to take a trip around the world, starting next summer.

Harvard and Penn Got Together. Relations between Harvard and Pennsylvania are rapidly becoming more and more cordial.

Longworth Smashes Daniels' Record. Longworth the New South Wales swimmer, recently clipped three and four-fifths seconds off C. M. Daniels' record for 1,200 yards making the distance in 17 minutes 42 seconds.

Runs One Thousand Mile Contest. Eugene Estoppy, a champion long distance runner, recently finished the world's most remarkable endurance run in the history of the sport when he negotiated successfully the last mile in his 1,000 miles in a 1,000 hours' race.

Many College Men on Athletics. Connie Mack can come very near getting in all college line in the field, and it is doubtful if any team winning a championship has had so many college men in its lineup.

Michigan Names Track Dates. Athletic Director Bartlett of the University of Michigan has given out the 1911 schedules for the Michigan track team.

HUMOROUS QUIPS

The Microbe's Serenade.

A lovely microbe met by chance At a swagging bacterioid dance...

O lovely microbe, I'll be true To you, my dear, my dear, my dear...

His epithet burned with love He swore to his eyes above...

O most precious to be of age I never met you here before...

One Lie All the Time. Satan I have called you in to explain this peculiar record...

Lucretia Borgia. "I think," said Lucretia Borgia on a matinee given to her suffering spouse...

Rehearsed. "Charles," when I asked her if she would be mine she put her arms around my neck and whispered that she was so happy.

Seems Reasonable. "To settle a dispute," said the caller, "I wish you would tell me what made her do it."

Unhappy Title. "Toss Mad at him?" Why he wrote a letter to her.

At West Point. The Prety Visitor: And who is that handsome officer?

A Little Knowledge. Dr. Marcus Herz of Berlin is credited with saying to a patient who read medical books diligently in order to procure for himself "be careful, my friend, some day you'll die of a misprint."

Realism. "That actress sheds real tears at every performance."

New to Her. "Miss," I sell you a patent vacuum cleaner?

Some Evidence. Mrs. Dashaway—Isn't she a rather sensible sort of girl, isn't she? Mrs. Gagg—I fancy she must be. At any rate, she has never married.

The Simple Life. Mrs. Knicker: You will have to get up to light the fire.

Beyond Words. Doctor—Are you ill? Let me see your tongue.

His View. Woggs—Where was your son educated?

What He Ran To. Bill—What is GIE's favorite cereal? Jill—Wild oats, I guess.—Yonkers Statesman.

HINTS FOR THE BUSY HOUSEWIFE

Nutmeg Grater That Aids Kitchen Economy.

A nutmeg grater that grates all the nutmeg desired by the hostess has been designed by a New York man.

Household Notes. A whisk broom fastened in a bag of cheesecloth is unsuitable for cleaning the corners of uncarpeted steps.

Bear Versus Vulture. Britain was in luck. A young deer ventured down the steep slopes of the mountain to quench his thirst in the stream which ran nobly through the rocky valley.

The Artful Fox. An old fox was so weak he could hardly get up for his prey.

Golden Dip. Trim a crust from six slices of bread toast on both sides and dip each slice in a deep dish containing a little hot milk.

Corn Bread. One and one-fourth cupsful bread flour, one cupful cornmeal (not the powdered meal), one level teaspoonful soda, two level teaspoonfuls cream of tartar, one of salt, three quarters cupful granulated sugar.

English Pork Pie. Cut lean fresh pork in strips, finger length, and put a layer in a pudding dish.

FOR THE CHILDREN

Jingles.

A JOLLY SEASON Isn't it a jolly season To forget our troubles? Care take wing and for some reason Vanish like merry bubbles.

POOR OLD FELLOW—has only one leg. Here is coming his peg-leggy pet. Always his hat to the right of his head. Never had any left side it is said. Likely he's also quite blind dumb and deaf.

HIS MOTHER'S JOY There was a little boy Who was his mother's joy And yet he was the terror of the neighborhood.

A Tame Beaver A tame beaver kept by the soldiers at a fort in Wyoming became quite famous for his sagacity.

Household Notes. A whisk broom fastened in a bag of cheesecloth is unsuitable for cleaning the corners of uncarpeted steps.

Bear Versus Vulture. Britain was in luck. A young deer ventured down the steep slopes of the mountain to quench his thirst in the stream which ran nobly through the rocky valley.

The Artful Fox. An old fox was so weak he could hardly get up for his prey.

Golden Dip. Trim a crust from six slices of bread toast on both sides and dip each slice in a deep dish containing a little hot milk.

Corn Bread. One and one-fourth cupsful bread flour, one cupful cornmeal (not the powdered meal), one level teaspoonful soda, two level teaspoonfuls cream of tartar, one of salt, three quarters cupful granulated sugar.

English Pork Pie. Cut lean fresh pork in strips, finger length, and put a layer in a pudding dish.

SNAPSHOTS AT CELEBRITIES

Martin A. Knapp, Head of the Commerce Court.

Martin A. Knapp, presiding justice of the commerce court, is a native of New York and a graduate of West Point.

Hammerstein's Barroom. Oscar Hammerstein at the "Barrow" in New York that presided by day for the operatic pastures of London made an amusing speech.

General Lehmann. Frederick W. Lehmann of St. Louis who succeeded the late Edward H. United States solicitor general of the United States is regarded as one of the great lawyers of the middle west.

Senator Oehltree Fined. Senator Joseph Oehltree in Washington said apropos of Christmas cheer.

A Famous Battle. The battle of New Orleans—Jan. 8, 1815—was fought between a force of 12,000 British, under Sir Edward Pakenham, and Jackson's 8,000 Americans.

When Oehltree Fined. Senator Joseph Oehltree in Washington said apropos of Christmas cheer.

A Famous Battle. The battle of New Orleans—Jan. 8, 1815—was fought between a force of 12,000 British, under Sir Edward Pakenham, and Jackson's 8,000 Americans.

When Oehltree Fined. Senator Joseph Oehltree in Washington said apropos of Christmas cheer.

A Famous Battle. The battle of New Orleans—Jan. 8, 1815—was fought between a force of 12,000 British, under Sir Edward Pakenham, and Jackson's 8,000 Americans.

When Oehltree Fined. Senator Joseph Oehltree in Washington said apropos of Christmas cheer.

A Famous Battle. The battle of New Orleans—Jan. 8, 1815—was fought between a force of 12,000 British, under Sir Edward Pakenham, and Jackson's 8,000 Americans.

When Oehltree Fined. Senator Joseph Oehltree in Washington said apropos of Christmas cheer.

A Famous Battle. The battle of New Orleans—Jan. 8, 1815—was fought between a force of 12,000 British, under Sir Edward Pakenham, and Jackson's 8,000 Americans.

THE BROKEN ENGAGEMENT

How a Busybody Interrupted a Love Match.

July 15.—Well, it has come at last. Walter came out from the city yesterday, and after tea we climbed the hill and sat in the summer house.

When we went back to the house we felt obliged to go into the library, where the family were. I felt so happy I wanted to tell them all about it.

July 18. Miss Graves came yesterday. She is to be with us a week. I wish she had stayed away. She listened peacefully to all I had to say about Walter and our engagement.

July 19. I wonder how she knew that the man was always to blame. Walter is unfortunately away on business.

Sept 20. I am very miserable. I was suspicious of Walter when he returned and showed it by being cool to him that is, I wasn't at all demonstrative.

Sept 22. Miss Graves told me she had heard that Laura Goodwin and Walter had once been on the eve of an engagement. She has convinced me that there is something in this matter.

Nov 12. It is all over. Our engagement is broken. Walter's visit to Laura Goodwin last September did it. At least that started it.

Dec 31. I am so mad that I would like to tear the shingles off the roof. That woman, that thing, that meddlesome creature, Amelia Graves, has ruined me. Just listen to this:

Dearest Helen, I have the great joy to announce to you my engagement to Mr. Bruce Spellmeyer (what a horrid name), my lover that I told you about. But I didn't tell you that his wife was dead.

Jan. 1.—Well, I'm happy once more after months of misery. I wrote a humble letter to Walter last night, and this afternoon he came in radiantly happy.

Jan. 1.—Well, I'm happy once more after months of misery. I wrote a humble letter to Walter last night, and this afternoon he came in radiantly happy.

Jan. 1.—Well, I'm happy once more after months of misery. I wrote a humble letter to Walter last night, and this afternoon he came in radiantly happy.

Jan. 1.—Well, I'm happy once more after months of misery. I wrote a humble letter to Walter last night, and this afternoon he came in radiantly happy.

Jan. 1.—Well, I'm happy once more after months of misery. I wrote a humble letter to Walter last night, and this afternoon he came in radiantly happy.

Jan. 1.—Well, I'm happy once more after months of misery. I wrote a humble letter to Walter last night, and this afternoon he came in radiantly happy.