Monstrous

According to a well-informed Roman correspondent, the recent encyclical of Pope Pius X against the Portuguese law against the church is a strong document. The Holy Father says the law repudiates the religion so long professed by a majority of the citizens of Portugal.

As this, there are worse features. The hierarchy is entirely repudiated and excluded from all part in the organization of worship, to which corporations totally dependent upon civil authority are nominated.

Real estate men say that there is no better investment to-day than Rochester real estate. The peculiar part of the statement is that the real estate men are not talking through their hats as promoters but are telling the truth.

According to the Western Watchman, 'Fashionable women are mothers to all babies but their own.'

When on vacation, a Catholic paper, magazine and book make splendid companions.

Charity!

A case in point as to the way in which some persons, really, contribute to the poverty conditions they themselves are posted as relieving, comes from New York city and from the United Charities building there, that 'charity bee-hive' of the world.

Directors of the United Charities petitioned the owners of their building to pay the porter a living wage but the manager would not have it so, saying that $45 was the standard wage per month for porters, whether married or single, and that if wages of employees were raised along the line dividends might suffer.

Not Well Informed

We have referred to the effort made by the 'Religious Weekly' of Philadelphia, to defend the exclusion of Catholics from official position in the Young Men's Christian association. Here is another situation from the same paper.

Do not whine because you do not advance. Perhaps, you have chosen the wrong evocation, perhaps you are not putting as much energy as you should into your work.

Better not let your boys and girls go to picnics unless you go along or some older person is of the party.

Ret. Rev. John A. Shepard, of Jersey City, charges that too many women of today sacrifice modesty to style. Too true, Monksignor.

Moving pictures are all right in their place, but a little intelligent supervision and inspection will do them no harm, or the community, either.

What's the use of dumping your money in wildcat schemes when you can invest it safely in home enterprises or real estate?

The Watch Below

Those whose privilege it may be to inspect a flag or other large passenger ship will be wise to leave their watches at home, says the Standard Telegraph.

Rosetti and His China. Ford Maddox Hueffer tells in 'Memories and Impressions' a story of Rosetti and his china collecting.

Morphine and Morality. Morphine stands unequalled as a purveyor of the moral sense. Whiskey may disturb the imagination and judgment, causing many foolish and unwise actions to follow its use.

A Tale of Two Hairs. Of the (and) D'Orsay's not very brilliant 'wit' this is from Fenimore's biography.

Not His Ain. It was a very fashionable concert, and the artists were very well known ones.

A Friendly Tip. 'It's going to keep on climbing until I reach the top of the ladder,' said the candidate who had just been elected to a petty office.

A Straightforward Answer. J. B. Lippincott once ventured to ask Guido, the novelist, how he came to know so much about clubs, camp life, barracks, gambling houses and other places which are only visited by men.

Good Sailing. Jack—Once more, Molly, will you marry me? Village Belle—For the thirtieth time this hour I tell you I will not. Jack—Well, thirteen knots an hour ain't bad, sailin' for a little craft like you.—London Tit Bits.

Suggests the Steak. Jack—I tell you it takes a lot of courage to propose. Heck—Yes, I suggest that many of your husbands suggest have any afterward.—Boston Transcript.

In politics what begins in fair usually ends in folly.—Coleridge.
