

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Zimmerman of Cubs Has Tie Hobby.

Photo by American Press Association.

One of the leading hitting sensations of the season, Heinie Zimmerman, is an odd fellow off the field. His biggest hobby is neckties. He carries at least 100 ties on every trip to the Chicago Cubs...

Baseball House at Cornell. With the big job of grading the fifty-acre on the new Cornell alumni field tract practically completed at last, plans for the first of the group of buildings to be constructed there are in the hands of contractors...

The first building to go up is the baseball house—the first building devoted to baseball to be built by any college, the committee believes.

The baseball building is to be a shell-shaped structure of steel trusses and terra cotta, about thirty-two feet high, giving a clear playing space of 10,000 square feet.

The second of the buildings that will be erected, the training house, will house all the members of the athletic teams who may be in training at any time.

The completion of the whole alumni field project depends on the amount of money collected from the alumni. Eventually the university is expected to build a gymnasium on the tract, and when this is completed the full project will have involved the expenditure of about a million dollars.

Pitcher Willis Lost Great Game. Vic Willis, for thirteen years one of the star pitchers in the National league, showed his old time form the other day when, pitching for the Tri-county league, he let Port Deposit down without a hit and then lost the game, 1 to 0.

Two errors gave Port Deposit the winning run in the ninth inning. Willis had his famous drop ball, which was a terror for years to the best batters in the country, working to perfection. His control was also perfect, as he did not give a walk during the nine innings and fanned eight men.

Berna to Quit Running. Anxiety to show his ability to business has compelled Ted Berna of Cornell, American two mile record holder, to hang up his running shoes for all time. He was graduated before he made the Olympic trip.

Though he didn't figure much in the distance events, he helped America win the team race. Cornell will miss Berna in future intercollegiate championships, but they have Jones for another year. Berna assisted Jones in winning the big meet for Jack Hunkley two years ago. He is a natural runner, and it's mighty bad for the game that he has made up his mind to quit at a time when he was showing his best form.

1916 Olympic Games in Germany. Now that Germany has been awarded the 1916 Olympic games the American athletes can look to the 1916 Panama-Pacific exposition carnival of sports to be held in San Francisco as a good preliminary tryout. These will be the annual Amateur Athletic union contests.

HUMOROUS QUIPS

Mr. Grouch.

He got up with a groan, and he scolded his wife. He told her that she had the look of his wife.

He scolded the driver upon the front man. He scolded and spluttered concerning the car. He scolded the children and scolded their mother.

He scolded because there was dust on his chair. And because there were shirts in the office boy's hair.

The stenog came in after his work was begun. He had called for her twice—she went in on the rug.

Did he scold when she, trembling, began to explain that a wreck at a crossing had halted her train?

Did he scold at the girl's as he scolded at his wife? Did he show his impatience? You bet your sweet life!

Perhaps we should say, but we think him a brute. The stenog was not youthful, nor was she a saint.

Knock's Barometer. Secretary of State Knox, it is said, while passing the "Suffrage" plate one day in his youthful days displayed his characteristic quick wit.

"Nothing," said the man; "I have nothing." "Take something then," said the youthful Knox; "this collection is for the poor, you know."

Explosion. Beside Boarder, "But why do you call the house 'Mamma View'?" There isn't a glimpse of the sea to be had.

Rather Plain. Maud—I'm told I get my good looks from my mother.

Ethel—I wouldn't repeat that if I were you. Maud—Why not?

Ethel—People will think your mother was stingy.—Boston Traveler.

A Young Misogynist. "You have been a very naughty boy today, Harold," said his mother, "and I shall tell your father when he comes home."

"Oh, of course!" exclaimed Harold. "You never could keep a secret!"—Atlanta Journal.

His Grouch. "What's the alpha sulking about?" asks the head keeper of the menagerie.

"He feels slighted. He's about the only quadruped that hasn't been mentioned as some sort of a political emblem."—Washington Star.

Easy Money. "Why don't you marry him? He is rich and old."

"Old! He may live for ten years yet!" "Marry him and do your own cooking."—Houston Post.

Not For Beverly. Intimate Friend—You're doing your own cooking now, are you, Beverly?

Young Bride—Yes; exclusively my own. Beverly—er—takes his meals at a restaurant.—Chicago Tribune.

Its Object. "We girls have formed an anti-kissing club."

"Well, has it stimulated the young men of the neighborhood any?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

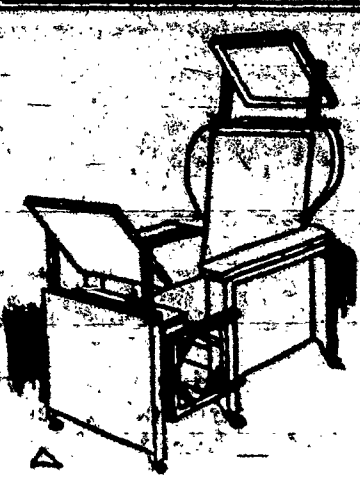

An Indication of Age. "What makes you think he is past forty?"

"I understand he has come to the conclusion that golf is a fine game."—Detroit Free Press.

HINTS FOR THE BUSY HOUSEWIFE

A Handy Mirror Chair For the Use of Invalids.

A Tennessee man has designed the chair here illustrated for the use of invalids. A mirror is hinged on a sort of footboard in front, and another mirror swings on a revolving base in the back.

These mirrors can be so arranged that anything reflected in one is seen in the other, and the occupant can see a person approaching from practically any point without turning his head, wherefore it would seem that the chair was designed chiefly for paralytics. The chair is on rollers, so that it can be moved about easily.

Baked Stuffed Peppers. Wash six large green peppers, put them in boiling water five minutes, cut off the stems, remove the seeds and stuff with one cupful of cold meat minced fine and an equal amount of stale breadcrumbs.

Red Vegetable Salad. Take about a pint of beans, boiled and cut in fine pieces, add to these an equal quantity of cold boiled potatoes. Also cut in small pieces. Let stand for an hour or more on the ice until the potatoes become red.

Creamed Oysters. Mix one tablespoonful of flour very smoothly with a little cold milk or cream, stir into one pint of boiling cream and allow it to cook ten minutes, but take care not to let it burn.

Parsley For Paralyzing. First, chop the parsley very finely; then screw it up in the corner of a clean cloth, hold it for a few seconds under the cold water faucet and squeeze it as tightly as possible; then shake it out of the cloth, and it will fall like a green powder.

Lemon Raisin Pie. One large cupful of seeded and chopped raisins. Turn two cupfuls of hot water on them and cook ten minutes.

String Bean and Beet Salad. Cut one pint of cooked string beans in halves and scrape and cut into dice three cold cooked beets.

Raisin Cake. Two eggs, one cupful of sugar, half a cupful of butter, one cupful of raisins, half a cupful of milk, one tea spoonful cream of tartar, half a tea spoonful of soda, not quite half a tea spoonful of all kinds of spice, a little salt, two cupfuls of flour.

Cary of Umbrellas. If you want your umbrella to last double the usual time make it a rule to pour a few drops of oil into the top notch about once a month.

Lemon Pudding. A cupful of sugar, two heaping table spoonfuls flour, cupful of milk, juice and rind of a lemon, yolk of two eggs, small piece of butter. Beaten whites of two eggs stirred in last. Bake slowly for an hour or more.

A Pie Baking Hint. When making a pie the juice from the fruit very often soaks through the under crust and spoils the appearance of it. This can be prevented by brushing the crust over with the whites of an egg.

FOR THE CHILDREN

The Kaitiaki.

The Kaitiaki, they do it all the time. The Kaitiaki says it's very simple. To catch a fish, first you must have a hook and a line and a bait.

Swimming this Time. For boys who can swim and dive the game of the duck and the fish is very enjoyable. The duck is a shallow tin with a hole in the middle.

Diving and turning under water is as simple as returning to the original diving place after other tricks by which this interesting aquatic sport can be varied.

A Nuisance Fable. "What an odd story one is making to be sure! How wanting in manners!" observed a stone to the worm close by.

"They have hoped for it," quietly answered the worm. "A couple hours of rain will do much to refresh the earth."

"They should rather make a fuss of me," said the stone. "Modest and assuming, I sit quietly where I am thrown. I have lain about for centuries, and yet I have never heard as much as a thank you."

"I cannot see a grain of justice in it," "Cease your complaint! The stone has been brief, but brief as has been its stay it has abundantly watered the fields and made the fruits and vegetables the better."

"I have lain about for centuries, and yet I have never heard as much as a thank you. It is not with out reason that the world is reviled. I cannot see a grain of justice in it."

Game of Prefixes. One of the players is sent out of the room. The others then decide upon some word which he is to guess when he returns.

Suppose the prefix "ex" is given and the word chosen is "express." It may be represented in various ways—an expressman delivering a package, traveling in a rapid train, and so on.

Where Silk Comes From. Two-thirds of all the silk used to the world comes from China. Wild silk, the product of a silk worm fed upon oak leaves, comes mainly from Shantung and Manchuria.

Wild silk has recently become more popular owing to the adoption of a new process of bleaching, which allows the material subsequently to be dyed in the most delicate shades of color.

This is an old English game. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Trunking the Trencher. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Trunking the Trencher. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Trunking the Trencher. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Trunking the Trencher. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Trunking the Trencher. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Trunking the Trencher. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Trunking the Trencher. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Trunking the Trencher. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Trunking the Trencher. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Trunking the Trencher. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Trunking the Trencher. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Trunking the Trencher. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Trunking the Trencher. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Trunking the Trencher. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Trunking the Trencher. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Trunking the Trencher. The children sit on the floor or kneel in a ring. A person in the center holds the trencher, a pie tin will serve, and when all are ready he truckles or spins like at the same time pulling the game of some one is shouting.

Advertisement for New York State Fair featuring 'The Restful Luxury' and 'H.B. Graves' with prices and contact information.

Advertisement for John H. McNarney General Insurance Fidelity Bonds, located at 101-102 Eltinger & Barry Bldg.

Large advertisement for W.B. Elastine Reduso Corsets, featuring a woman in a corset and text describing the benefits of the product.