responded last week to our appeal for young men and young women who wanted to prepare for positions in business offices as stenographers and typewriters, or as bookkeepers.

We have still a few seats left in different departments, not more than twenty-five in all, but we wish to occupy every seat with an earnest young man or young woman, because the pressure on us for young people properly trained for business is very strong.

New classes in Gregg Shorthand will be started on Monday, January 20th, and application can be made for a place in these classes by calling up Rochester Business Institute, 325 both 'phones, or by coming to our office in the Y. You can enter our commercial course (includes Bookkeeping, Penmanship, Rapid Calculation, Commercial Law, Commercial Correspondence) at any time.

You should be prompt with your application and prepare to enter Monday January 20th.

Men's Underwear Samples.

We have taken the balance of the agents' and manufacturers' samples of men's combination suits—garments worth from $2 to $3 and marked them all at $1.25.

Those worth from $3 to $5 are marked $2.50.

These suits are chiefly natural gray worsteds, in sizes 40 and 42, though at $2.50 there are some 36 and 38 sizes.

We hardly need to emphasize these values.

INDIVIDUAL INSTRUCTION

Here are a few reasons why individual instruction is better than class work:

- 1—You can enter school any day or evening in the year.
- 2—You work as independently as under private tuition.
- 3—You can progress as rapidly as consistent with good work.
- 4—You are not held back by the slower ones as in class work.
- 5—A teacher for every fifteen pupils.
