Musa Caravan

Seventy-five candidates were initiated into the Order of the Alhambra, Musa Caravan, Wednesday evening in Concordia Hall in Hudson Avenue. While many of the candidates were Rochester members of the Knights of Columbus, others were from Albion, Brockport, Canandaigua, Dansville, Lyons, Newark, Palmyra and Syracuse.

Joseph P. MacSweeney, grand commander, John McGrath and John P. Quinn were in charge of the degree.

The character of the degree of initiation represented the time of the Crusaders and Saracens. The scene of the degree was laid in Spain. Several prominent Rochesterians were placed under the obligations of initiation, among them being District Attorney John W. Barrett and Attorney John J. McInerney. The two baristers responded for the entering class.

In charge of the dinner was Dr. Walter B. O'Neil, who arranged a menu worthy of hungry Crusaders. Informal toasts were made by Frank J. Hughes, Andrew E. Tuck, John J. McInerney, and James P. Jones, grand knight of Rochester council. Music was furnished by the Alhambra Orchestra, with Geo. Minges and Edward Leinen as directors.

In Sickness or in Health

Whether your wife is well or lying ill in bed upstairs and your Bell Telephone is downstairs, she has to make an effort to answer your call or any other call.

Very often she can't answer the call downstairs at all and you have to talk through a third party.

You owe it to your wife and yourself to have an extension telephone put in her bedroom where she can talk herself.

The cost is less than 2c a day. Isn't it worth many times that amount?
