Resolutions.

At the last regular meeting of Division No. 1, A. O. H., the following resolutions were unanimously adopted on the death of Brother Bernard J. Burke:

Whereas, It has pleased our Heavenly Father in his infinite wisdom to remove from our midst Brother Bernard J. Burke, thereby causing our Division to suffer the loss of a good and valued member, and while we bow in humble submission to His Holy will, be it,

Resolved—That we sincerely sympathize with his afflicted relatives and earnestly pray that God may grant them strength to bear their loss with Christian resignation through life, heavenly rays of bright sunlight and consolation.

Resolved—that as a mark of respect to the memory of our departed brother, our charter be draped in mourning for the period of thirty days, and that these resolutions be recorded in the minutes of our meeting and a copy of them mailed to his relatives.

Holy Name Parade

Fully 12,000 men were in the Holy Name Society parade Sunday afternoon, which marked the fourth anniversary of the inception of the annual event in this city. The weather conditions were ideal from every standpoint and a crowd, that lined the curb from East Avenue to Genesee Street, stood several deep while the marchers passed.

The detachments, representing the various churches of the city and surrounding towns, gathered in the vicinity of East Avenue and Main Street East and just as the clock in a nearby department store was striking 3 o'clock, Chief Marshal Frank J. Schwab gave the order to march and the parade, headed by a detail of mounted police, got under way. Just one hour later the delegation from St. Patrick's Cathedral, which led the line of marchers, due to the seniority of the parish, passed the reviewing stand in front of St. Mary's Orphan Asylum, in which were Bishop Thomas F. Hickey, Rev. William J. Ennis, S. J., of Baltimore, Rev. Dr. M. J. Nolan, Rev. E. A. Rawlinson, chaplain of the orphan asylum, and James P. Duffy.

After passing the reviewing stand, the sixteen divisions marched down Genesee Street, thence to Clifton Street and into the asylum grounds, where a temporary altar, decorated with the national and papal colors, had been erected. When the last of the marchers had entered the grounds at 4:55 o'clock, Bishop Hickey proceeded from the reviewing stand to the altar, where he addressed the assembled multitude and pronounced the benediction. He was assisted by Rev. D. J. Curran, V. G., Rev. M. J. Hargather and Rev. E. A. Rawlinson.

While the paraders were assembling in the grounds a selected choir under the direction of Professor Eugene F. Bonn sang sacred songs. Boys from the orphan asylum also sang near the reviewing stand, while the girls were greeting the divisions in like manner in the rear of the grounds. The chimes in the tower of St. Peter and Paul's Church also tolled out a welcome to the marchers as they passed.

In opening his address Bishop Hickey complimented the men on their numbers and splendid example shown by them to others in participating in such a demonstration. He said that people must recognize the infirmity of man and that while there should be no name more sacred and revered, it is human frailty that permits the blasphemy of the Holy Name of God. Continuing, Bishop Hickey said:

"I thank you one and all for what you have done to-day, because you Catholic men, here in such large numbers, represent the men of this diocese, and I thank you for your loyalty in coming such long distances, at a great sacrifice, to join in this public demonstration of faith and religion in behalf of God and God's holy name. May He bless you, your families and your homes, and bring choicest blessing through you to our beautiful city, our state and our beloved country."

One of the features of other years, that of the music and bands accompanying the marchers, was missing this year. The absence of the musicians accounted for the shorter time taken for the parade to pass. Bishop Hickey, in his address referred to that phase of the situation. He said:

"You men marched to-day without music out of respect for the laws of our state. It was done as an act of conscience on our part and without hint or suggestion from any person or persons or source whatsoever outside of ourselves. It may not be generally known that, during this year, a law was put on the statute books of our state forbidding music on Sunday in demonstrations such as this. We can get along without music and we can get along without processions, but we cannot get along without authority and obedience to the law."

A Neckwear Offer Extraordinary.

It is only occasionally that an opportunity such as this presents itself. It is a neckwear offer extraordinary. We have brought together here in the neighborhood of 1,200 men's scarfs of most exquisite texture, finish and design. They are made of beautiful heavy silks in a wonderful array of rich, dark colorings and in a variety of patterns that represent the last word in neckwear perfection.

There are jacquard figure effects, two-tone satin, dainty tracery designs, bias stripes, as well as plain and moire effects in solid colors.

Look at them, feel of them—a handful of silk every one—and congratulate yourself that you are here to take advantage of this splendid offer.

We have yet to find nearly as good a value at $1. These are 67c.

Talking on the Bell Highway.

Time and distance are as nothing on the Bell Highway. Your voice goes anywhere and back without thought of distance.

To many places we have a number rate which is cheaper than the rate for calls for a particular person, and you usually save time if you call by number.

By referring to a Bell Telephone Directory you will find the number of the person to whom you wish to speak. Give this to the first operator. She will connect you at once.

You can always find out if number rates are in effect to the point you wish to reach by calling our Toll Operator.
