

FOR THE CHILDREN

The Pie That Kate Made.

This is the pie that Kate made. These are the apples so ripe and red. Cut into quarters and put to bed. In the wonderful pie that Kate made. This is the crust so soft and light. Put in the oven and baked just right. That covered the apples so ripe and red. Cut into quarters and put to bed. In the wonderful pie that Kate made.

The Burden Bearers—A Fable. Once upon a time, says an old story, Mrs. had no wings and therefore was unable to fly. One day an angel appeared with burdens appeared in their midst.

"Who will help me with my pack, ages?" she said. Up jumped the eagle "Allow me," he said in a most gentlemanly manner as he landed himself with the weightiest of the angel's parcels. His example was followed willingly by all the other birds, with the exception of the ostrich, who, lazy and selfish, took but one tiny package. And presently a marvel happened. As the kind birds were carrying along the angel's things they found to their amazement that the burdens were growing to their bodies. Probably they were at first rather frightened at this. But very soon they rejoiced, for their burdens turned to wings. The eagle, who carried the most, had stronger wings than any other bird. But because the ostrich had such a light load her wings were too weak to fly with, and that is the reason why, although she is a bird, she can do nothing better than run.

It is very easy to see the merit of this story. "Burdens borne for others become blessings."

Boy Scout Work.

One of the most interesting and significant features of the report of the national headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America for the past summer is the fact that 21,043 badges were issued to boys and that 1,441 of these were merit badges. It means, of course, that boys are steadily progressing from tenderfoot rank to second class and from second class to first class. And then they do not stop contented, for the field before the first class scout is such that he can go on indefinitely winning proficiency medals, gaining information about conditions, requirements and prospects in all branches of life.

A Literary Game. A good game to play is, Who wrote that? Distribute paper and pencils and tell your friends to write the answers to these questions. Give a prize to the one knowing the most correct answers.

- Who wrote "Fairy Ballads?" Who wrote "Sketch Book?" Who wrote "Tanglewood Tales?" Who wrote "Waverley Novels?" Who wrote "Old Curiosity Shop?" Who wrote "Uncle Tom's Cabin?" Who wrote "Home and Juliet?" Who wrote "Evangeline?" Who wrote "Snow Bound?" Who wrote "Little Boy Blue?" Who wrote "Neighborhood Poems?" Who wrote "Kin?"

Ocean Depths. The greatest known depth of the sea is in the south Atlantic ocean, midway between the island of Tristan d'Acuniz and the mouth of the Rio de la Plata. The bottom there reached was 40,236 feet below the surface, or more than eight and three-quarter miles. In the north Atlantic ocean, south of Newfoundland, soundings have been made to a depth of 4,580 fathoms, or 17,480 feet, while depths of 34,000 feet are known to be south of the Bermuda islands.

Corn in Many Lands. Although it is universally admitted that the true home and cradle of maize or corn is in America, it is now grown in all sorts of foreign lands and has a great many names.

The plant with its succulent ears sometimes called giant grass is called by botanists zea mays. In Great Britain it takes the name of maize or Indian corn. In Holland and Hungary it is called Turkish wheat, and in Egypt, Syrian durra. In the South African colonies it is known as mealies.

Fish Out of Place. What fish may be said to be out of place? A perch in a bird's cage; a skate in a cutter's shop; a pike on the top of a sandbar; a sole at the bottom of a year boot; whiting cleaning plate and a mackerel in a lady's neck.

NOTABLES IN THE LIMELIGHT

David I. Walsh, Governor Elect of Massachusetts.

For the third term in succession Massachusetts is to have a Democrat in the gubernatorial chair. David I. Walsh, who was recently elected to the office of Governor Foss, is the present lieutenant governor of the old Bay State. The campaign this year was a three-cornered affair, the Republican vote being divided between the regular and the "bull" moose contingent. This made easy sailing for Mr. Walsh, Governor Foss was also a candidate, but as he did not announce his candidacy until the last moment and ran as an independent he did not figure to any extent at the polls.

Governor Elect Walsh is a native of Massachusetts and is forty-one years old. He was educated at Holy Cross college, Worcester, and the Boston university law school. After receiving his law degree he began practice at Clinton, later removing to Fitchburg, where he has since lived. He got his early political training as a member of the Massachusetts legislature in which body he was a prominent figure for several years.

Maryland's New United States Senator.

An interesting and somewhat intricate legal question arose in connection with the election of Blair Lee of Silver Spring, who was recently chosen United States senator from Maryland by popular vote. Mr. Lee, who is a Democrat, was elected to fill out the term of the late Senator Rayner, which does not expire until March 3, 1917. The peculiarity of the Maryland situation is to be found in the fact that Governor Goldsborough had previously appointed William P. Jackson, a Republican, to fill out the identical unexpired term of the late Senator Rayner. Senator Jackson was appointed on Nov. 29, 1912, before the seventeenth amendment to the constitution providing for the direct election of senators went into effect. Mr. Lee was chosen under the new law by vote of the people. Under the old law Senator Jackson is entitled to his seat until the Maryland legislature meets and has had an opportunity to elect. This will be next January. There is no doubt, however, that Mr. Lee will be seated by the senate as soon as his credentials are sent to the government.

Senator Lee is a progressive Democrat and has been an active supporter of W.P.A. in Maryland. Bryan in all of his campaigns.

An Artistic Blacksmith.

James Craun who astonished the world by his reproduction of flowers in his Belgian blacksmith shop, works at a forge in Cranford, N. J. Not long ago he was doing common blacksmithing work. Art critics say that he has gone much closer to nature in his work than Van Boeckel. He uses no models, and works with only the simplest tools. He began his apprenticeship as a blacksmith in Scotland at the age of eighteen, but since 1896 has lived in this country.

Hard Luck For Fighters.

Joe Jennette, Frank Moran, Otto Kohler, Tommy Gavigan and Young Ahearn, the American fighters who went to Paris with Dan McKittrick, were seasick during the trip over, and they did not recover from the attack for two days after they had arrived there.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Des Jardien of Chicago an Able Center.

Des Jardien, the long, lanky center player of the University of Chicago football team, has been playing a stellar game this season. He is the tallest man that ever held down the center position on a varsity eleven. Coach Stagg says Des Jardien is the best center the west has had in many years.

Against English Rowing Methods.

Captain Duereg of the Yale rowing squad will in a few days make formal announcement of what is to become of the English coaching methods. Ever since the defeat of the Yale crew by Princeton on Lake Carnegie there has been a storm of protest against the English stroke from undergraduates and graduates. So strong has become the demand for a change that the rowing authorities had to take the matter under consideration.

Want Toner For Ball League President.

The eight club owners in the National league have decided on Governor John K. Tener of Pennsylvania as president of the senior baseball organization. Governor Tener is aware of his selection. He doesn't say that he wouldn't accept it. It is practically certain that he will agree to take the office if it comes to him unanimously and with a proviso that he is elected for a term of five years.

Recommends World's Series.

The American league has voted unanimously against the proposal to substitute a general interleague series for the world's series as now played. The magnates also discussed informally the demands of the Player's federation and pronounced several of them acceptable. A committee was appointed to represent it in a small convention to consider revision of the rules.

Orders Ahearn to Return.

Dan Morgan who sent Young Ahearn, the Brooklyn writer, to Paris with Dan McKittrick, has called to Ahearn to take the first steamer back to this country. Ahearn was recently knocked out by Baden the rushing fighter of France, in Paris, and Morgan claims that McKittrick used bad judgment in making the match on four days' notice.

Grand Circuit Stewards to Meet.

President H. K. Devereux has issued a call for a conference of the stewards of the grand circuit to be held at the Holland House, in New York, on Sunday morning, Nov. 23, at 11 o'clock. The object of a special meeting at this time is to formulate plans for next year's meetings in advance of the annual meeting, which, under the bylaws must be held on Tuesday, Jan. 13, 1914.

FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Epileptic Fits. Golconda, Nev., April, 1912. Since I took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic I had no more epileptic fits since the spring of 1911, and in June I began to work again. Before that time every body was afraid to give me work, because I had fits nearly every day in a few years, but now they all want me to work for them, because they know me and see how I am now. The Tonic is sure a Godsend for me and therefore cannot praise it enough. Walter Heard. Wonderful! Grandview, R. I., Wash., Aug. 1911. I had epileptic fits every two or three weeks since 13 years, of which doctors could not cure me, but since I took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic I had no attacks in two years and feel well so long as I take the Tonic. The effect is wonderful. Mrs. J. S. Grimm.

THE TURKEY'S LAMENT BY KING GOBBLER

I WONDER what I can have done To merit all this trouble— Shut up where I can have no fun And bent until I'm double! This morning all the folks rushed out And chased me over fences And here and there and round about 'Until I lost my senses. I ran toward the farmer's wife And thought she would befriend me. But even she—upon my life— Did nothing to defend me!

INSTEAD, she grabbed me by a foot With no consideration. Arid in this prison I was put Without an explanation. The farmer's sharpening an ax; The children talk of "dressing." Oh, my, I wish I knew the fustal! These rumors are depressing!

But all the future I can see Looks very, very murky. Just now I think I'd rather be A chicken than a turkey.

Thankfulness Some have a thousand and one things to be thankful for, but are not. Some have empty hands, and yet their hearts are full to overflowing. To kneel at an altar and give thanks on only one day in the year betrays little more than a habit. But, to have little and still be thankful every day—such are of the Great Spirit. Just to live and to do what we can to make things better—this is gratitude. Let us give thanks. Liebotschaner Pure Beer in its highest expression. Genesee Brewing Co. Phones 71.
