

Monstrous of the Crowded Car. A narrow car, seats filled with persons attempting to read newspapers...

Borrowing Money. "When one goes to the bank," we are told, "he obligates himself to the bank..."

No Lack of Mustard. It was an inopportune time to want mustard—Sunday at an hour when the delicatessens in the neighborhood were closed...

Curious Signs. A notable sign on one of Boston's busiest streets bears the remarkable legend, "One of Wood Dealers in Wood and Coal..."

A Human Wall. An ingenious method of preventing the escape of convict prisoners without resort to bolts and bars is used by the Dutch authorities in New Guinea...

Fearful. "You will find this fellow a tough proposition," warned the merchant. "Only one man has ever been able to collect from him..."

Memory. "Now, Elsie," said the schoolteacher to a small pupil, "can you tell me what memory is?"

"It seems to me that frothing is becoming dangerously prevalent in this country." "You're wrong, old man. No frothing of any kind seems to be prevalent in this country at present..."

The man is selling cabbage. His income is quite slim. But he will not get mad if I should get a head of him. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

"How do you suppose that gossip got current in the army?" "I suppose it was spread by the repeating rifles." —Baltimore American.

Oh, why should ladies wear birds' wings? Why should they prize lion feathers in their hair? —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Did your husband have any luck on his hunting trip?" "Splendid. Didn't you hear?" "No. What was it?" "He got back alive." —Houston Post.

He thought it was all right when I opened a can of sardines with it. —Wisconsin Sphinx.

He's disappointed in his love. The world seems blank to Peter. Oh, did he lose his turtle dove? —Cincinnati Enquirer.

Mistress—Are you a good cook? Applicant—Yes'm. I go to church every Sunday. —Judge.

"You should be grateful, O car." I heard the motor matter. "Because you know I rescued you—Yes, took you from the gutter!" —St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

"I think our servant is planning to go somewhere else to work." "What makes you think so? She seems to be quite contented here." "I know, but she told me this morning that her grandmother is not expected to live." —Detroit Free Press.

Bring the near Promised Land in sight. With life an' joy amazin'. But do not make the world so bright 'Twill go to blazin'. —Atlanta Constitution.

Toots—It takes an artist to mix a cocktail, according to the experts. Tanks—I dare say I've seen a cocktail mix an artist. —Puck.

The man who goes the happiest way is he, by a question. Who eats three honest meals a day And knows no indignation. —Washington Star.

Mrs. Goodsole—You say you are the author of several works on criminology. What was your pen name? Jerry Justout. We didn't have no names in de pen, lady, only numbers. —New York Globe.

Automobiles are doubtless nice, But woman's charming carriage On all occasions should suffice To drive a man to marriage. —Judge.

"Does advertising pay? I lost a five dollar bill on the street." "Well?" "I advertised, and so far I have received three five-dollar bills." —Kansas City Journal.

Most great men do not look the part. You'll notice every day. That when a man is very smart He never acts that way. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

"So you didn't marry the rich Miss Jenks after all. Was it your own doing?" "Oh, yes. You see, I took no for an answer." —New York Mail.

"Yes, ma'am," said Mary. "I heard the bell. But didn't answer the call, for—well, Ya know I've noticed it long before—My company knock at the kitchen door." —Judge.

Cobble—You can talk 1,800 miles without any instrument. Stone—If this keeps up, sending your wife on a trip to Europe won't do a particle of good. —Life.

In life things are not what they seem. There's many a crooked deal. And many a man wears an auto cap Who hasn't an automobile. —Florida Times-Union.

"I understand you furnished all the life at the doughnut party," she said. "No, not me," he replied. "It was my brother who took the cheese." —Yonkers Statesman.

Time the conversation seems. Lively topics wanting. Nothing doing till the terms Start their evil training. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Mrs. De Jones certainly has winning ways." "Ah!—I see you have been playing bridge there too." —Baltimore American.

Stray gossip you should never hawk. Don't be an old-fashioned hawk. For you can't scatter like talk Unless your tongue is busy. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

Fatalities Among Alpinists. In view of the fact that every man or woman who walks up a mountain with alpenstock in hand is a climber in the eyes of the public, it is not at all strange that the appalling avalanche fatalities in the Swiss Alps are laid at the door of one of the noblest of sports...

London's First Bank. Banking, seeing that it flourished in the ancient world—in Greece, at Rome and at Babylon—must, so far as England is concerned, be regarded as a comparatively modern business. During the so-called renaissance banking reappeared in Italy...

Love Song of a Bird. "Just before an April dawn," says W. P. Mycra in "The Courtship of Animals," "the cock capitalizes proclamations its love fever from a tree in a strange, unusual serenade..."

Father Hubbard. The nursery knows nothing of Father Hubbard, but in 1901 Thomas Middleton published "Father Hubbard's Tale of the Ant and the Nightingale." In the introduction he explains...

Ibsen and Love. Tennyson says that it is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all. Ibsen maintained—not in a general philosophical way, but with respect to the conditions he saw immediately around him—that it is better, if you thoughtfully romantically in love, to separate rather than to marry...

Just Alike. "Have you seen my umbrella?" asked the cashier of the bookkeeper. "What sort of an umbrella was it?" "It had a hooked end." "I have not seen it, but I had a nice one given me at Christmas, and the end was exactly like yours. It was hooked too." —Lippincott's.

Origin of the Eskimo. No satisfactory solution of the question of the origin of the Eskimo has ever been given. Whether they came from Asia or from North America, whether they are related to the more southern American Indians or to the Tartars of the great Asian continent, is still open to debate.

How Rows Begin. "Hubby, I dreamed last night that you didn't love me!" "How foolish you are!" "Foolish, am I? As if I could help what I dream about!" And the fracas was on. —Louisville Courier-Journal.

She Didn't Like Flattery. She—I hate flattery! He—Of course you do. Every pretty girl does. Then she drew a long, deep sigh and permitted him to put his arm round her waist. —Exchange.

Though wrong may win, its victory is brief. —Leonard.

Report of Condition of Lincoln National Bank OF ROCHESTER

At the Close of Business, January 13, 1914 RESOURCES.

Table with columns for Resources and Liabilities. Resources include Loans and Discounts, Overdrafts, U.S. Bonds, U.S. Deposits, etc. Total Resources: $17,082,951.26

Table with columns for Liabilities. Liabilities include Capital Stock paid in, Surplus Fund, National Bank Notes outstanding, etc. Total Liabilities: $17,082,951.26

STATE OF NEW YORK, COUNTY OF MONROE, ss. I, Peter A. Vay, Cashier of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 16th day of Jan 1914 CLARENCE S. GREENE, Notary Public

Correct—Attest Charles H. Babcock, William C. Barry, Chas. W. Weiss, Directors.

Advertisement for ED. PINAUD'S LILAC perfume. Includes text: "Let me send you FREE PERFUME. Write today for a testing bottle of ED. PINAUD'S LILAC." and an illustration of a man holding a perfume bottle.

Advertisement for The Block Light Co., Youngstown, Ohio. Includes text: "Have You Any Mantle Troubles? USE INNERLIN LINED BLOCK MANTLES AND YOUR TROUBLES ARE OVER." and an illustration of a mantle.

Advertisement for 3 IN ONE OILS. Includes text: "3 IN ONE OILS. CLEANS, POLISHES. PREVENTS RUST." and an illustration of a 3-in-one oil can.

The many good resolutions the young... The clean tablecloth catches the early grease spot... Most men who have money to burn carry fireproof wallets... Extremes meet, but they don't always speak as they pass by... The only sure thing about the weather is that it is always unusual... Ask the average man a simple question and he will make a speech... Lots of men are slaves to their money, but then the world is full of emancipators... Strangely enough, none of the oppressed has suggested government ownership of hens... Very few quarrels or misunderstandings are fixed up satisfactorily by means of a revolver... Take care of the pennies, and as for the dollars—well, some kind friend will take care of them for you... The man who can say "Yes" and "No" at the right time has the greatest command of language... Lots of things worth while can be accomplished in twelve months by a truly progressive community... A new plant, a new machine, a new serum may any day radically affect the course of social evolution... A Chicago hypnotist has opened a school for book agents. Most of them are post graduates in that art... A Minnesota college offers a course in sausage making. The students will certainly have a long grind ahead of them... It is said there is about $12,792,000,000 in the world. And 90 per cent of the inhabitants control the last six figures... The Cleveland physician who ran over a holiday man has discovered a new and promising use for the automobile... The happiest wife is not always the one who marries the best man, but the one who makes the best of the man she marries... It does sound better to say that we accepted the position than to say we nearly ran our legs off and told forty lies to get it... The unluckiest man is the one who the day after he has paid a tax on his income finds out that the cashier has run away with it... The times when a farmer's personal knowledge of finance was limited to a very faulty judgment of gold bricks are away back in the past... The German crown prince is said to spend much of his leisure time making furniture. At last we know what is meant by a royal good time... Dr. Wiley says Eric was created before Adam. The good doctor is evidently the one who can tell us whether the egg or the hen came first... When a man tells a woman of forty that she appears to be growing younger all the time she is likely to guess that she has met a cheerful liar... Lord Rosebery says England ought to have 500,000 more babies than she has. Can't the suffragettes be persuaded to do something about it?... A Moorish woman is not supposed to know her own age, which indicates that the proverb beginning "Where ignorance is bliss" has been translated... The New York gun men who assassinated Rosenthal now make the plea that they were "just bad boys." "Bad" is rather strong. Wouldn't "naughty" be better?... An exchange says that there are no less than nineteen "Bald mountains" in the United States. When a moon tale begins to shed its hair there's no cure for it... Nobel prizes are new only in name. Herodotus, the father of history, was given the Nobel prize of his day for literature at the Olympic games more than 2,300 years ago... A Kansas City man has invented a contrivance to dry a woman's hair, but the only way to button her up the back is by digital hysterics combined with more or less smothered profanity... A well known medical writer suggests that every policeman should also be commissioned a health officer. The idea being perhaps that the policeman should be authorized to arrest disease on sight... Modern children are taking a pledge never to be afraid, especially in the dark. Now, if they can only be got to take another pledge, to keep this pledge, the matter will be disposed of nicely... The Chicagoan whose name was Palispompingpappocankumospogloxonion and whose house burned down while he was trying to spell it over the telephone still has a good deal left to complain of.