To Men Who Wear Night Shirts

Pajamas are all right, mighty comfortable sleep garments, but there are a whole lot of men who do not like them, would be awake all night if they tried to sleep in a pair.

You are the men we want to talk to for a modern or two—you men who know the comforts of a good, roomy night shirt and don't want to feel dressed up at night.

Furnishing counters have a benefit particularly for you.

No, we haven't been robbing the cotton fields, though it looks almost like it. We have, however, about 2,500 night shirts which are wonderfully cheap.

There are three lots:

Take this one, there are 55 dozen of them.

is a big, roomy garment made of a very good cloth—has two rows of trimming down the front and pocket, and seams are doubled stitched. You can have it collarless or with a collar. The price, 50 dozen in the next lot. This is a night shirt made of heavy muslin, collar style with yoke and felled seams, 56c.

In lot three there are four numbers:

The shirts in one of them are made of Fruit of the Loom cotton.

No. 2 is made of a Peppercell twill. This is a good, heavy, stout cotton as you probably know.

No. 3 is fashioned of Berkeley cambric.

No. 4 is made of soft, fine nainsook and has three mercerized frogs.

These four numbers of night shirts have all the good points about them which you would expect in the best. They are 76c.

"Last Minute Trips by Telephone"

There is no other business aid that is so effective in helping you to keep last minute appointments as the Bell Telephone.

No matter how limited your time may be for reaching a business associate, a direct personal telephone message will get there on time, will save the hurry and worry of a trip, and in most cases prove as satisfactory as a personal call.

Do you "save last minute trips by Bell Telephone?"
