Law and Order

The boosters of anarchy and license who thought to make capital and secure free advertising by freeing Tarrytown of the presence of John D. Rockefeller have learned that their apparent surprise that the plain, ordinary citizens of Tarrytown are not greatly interested in the Standard Oil magnate, that they do not regard him as one of them but merely as a suburban commuter who has purchased a big estate outside the village...

Chickens Home to Roost

Pertinently comments the Sacred Heart Review: "Some of our non-Catholic contemporaries who are apparently all wrought up over the alleged oath of the Knights of Columbus are not in good faith. Their clamor to the Knights to come forth and deny that there is such an oath is bluff pure and simple. If every Knight in every Council in every State of this country were to swear on a stack of Bibles as high as Bunker Hill Monument that there is no such oath, there are some Protestant editors who would still go on believing that the Knights were lying. Knights of Columbus officially, and unofficially have declared that the alleged oath is bogus. The official organ of the Knights has again and again denounced the oath as an outrageous forgery. Men circulating copies of the oath in Philadelphia have been convicted in the courts of publishing a malicious libel. And still some of our Protestant contemporaries clamor for a denial. The fact is, they do not want a denial. What they want is a chance to fling mud at the Catholic Church, to insinuate the disloyalty and "general cussedness" of their Catholic fellow citizens. It is poor, cheap, dirty business to be engaged in. But it will react upon the smug hypocrites who are doing it, just as sure as there is a God of truth in heaven."

Good reading matter is an essential on a vacation trip. A Catholic novel, a Catholic magazine and a Catholic paper should...

Canadian Reasons These cogent reasons were advanced by the Deputy Postmaster-General of Canada in denying the Menace transmission through the Canadian mails: "The Menace" does not publish any news as an ordinary newspaper does, but devotes almost its entire space to this (obscene) sort of stuff, making it quite plain that this paper comes within the law prohibiting the transmission of indecent, obscene, immoral or scurrilous literature. "Under section 209 of the Criminal Code any one is guilty of an indictable offense and liable to two years' imprisonment who posts anything of an obscene, immoral, indecent or scurrilous character. This, however, is not a matter for enforcement by this department, and therefore the department has simply contented itself with acting within its powers as regards matter circulating through the mails. I have not the least doubt, however, that did any person choose to make this a personal matter, and take it under the Criminal Code, the editor of the paper, were it not for the fact that he is a foreigner and a non-resident of Canada, would be subject to the penalties of the Criminal Code."

"Was There an African?" It is quite possible that future development may show that President Wilson and Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan have been gulled and fooled by the past masters in diplomacy—the British men of the world—in the Panama tolls appeal act. Evidence has been produced to show that the Carnegie Peace Foundation expended $30,000 to promote the tolls repeal bill. Now how on earth is "universal peace" to be promoted by the denial of free passage of American ships through the American-built, American-owned Panama canal? And why should Americans pay so much attention to an alien who has wrung his millions from American workingmen. Certainly, if American ships may not go free through the Panama canal, as they may go free through the Mississippi and other American owned waters, to improve the navigation of which the United States government has spent millions of dollars, what was the sense of the United States building the Panama canal? Why on earth should the United States spend millions to build the canal, millions of indemnity therefor to Colombia, police it, fortify it and so on, only to give foreign nations a subsidy for stealing American markets? "There's an African concealed somewhere in the woodpile. As a matter of fact why should a Catholic parent want to send his boy or girl after they graduate from the parochial school, to a non Catholic high school, college or university? The Catholic students are are out of touch with their associates and the latter view them with suspicion. Moreover, there are better facilities for higher education offered in the Catholic institutions than in the non-Catholic."

Why cannot the United States laws reach the Menace when the Canadian postal authorities bar it from the mails and the customs authorities forbid its transmission as freight or express matter?

The Catholic Journal extends hearty congratulations to the boys and girls who are graduating these days or will be in a few days. They have passed the first milestone on the journey toward education and we wish them well whether they are to continue on in other educational institutions or to begin their life's battle in their chosen vocation. Here's life and prosperity to the boy and girl graduates of 1914.

Why cannot the United States laws reach the Menace when the Canadian postal authorities bar it from the mails and the customs authorities forbid its transmission as freight or express matter?

Knights to Help Lay Two Cornerstones

The Rochester regiment of the Knights of St. John will participate in the laying of the cornerstones of two new Catholic churches. Next Sunday afternoon the regiment will participate in laying the cornerstone of St. Francis's church in Bay St. On June 28th they will participate in the ceremonies of laying the cornerstone of St. Andrew's Church in Portland avenue. The line will be formed at the home of Commissary F. X. Foery, No. 1,040 Portland avenue, at 3.15 o'clock and the parade will move promptly at 3.30 o'clock.

When a British cabinet officer is called "the meanest criminal in the house of commons" one can only surmise what the spokesman thinks of the others. Great Britain is now also a billion dollar country. If the rank is to be measured by the national budget. But John Bull does not seem a bit proud of it.

A New York man gave his wife an obesity cure on her birthday. Now she wants a divorce. There are a few domestic instructions that can't be overlooked. A remarkable thing about a dance is the indifference of most young men to the fact that they have to be back at the desk or behind the counter at 5 o'clock the next morning.

FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC No More Attacks! I feel obliged to express thanks for the good effect which Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic had on our daughter, after she was treated by physicians 4 years and declared incurable, but after she took one-half bottle only of the Tonic the attacks disappeared and no more symptoms since, besides she feels better than before. We are so very glad of such good results, that we hope God will bless the Tonic for the future benefit of others, who may need it. Mrs. Rev. H. Dieter, Mrs. Ida Damon, of West Upton, Mass., says that she took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic because she did not sleep all right and feels better than for a long time. Mrs. M. Winkler, of Kenterville, Idaho, gave the Tonic to a 4-year-old girl which had also St. Vitus' Dance, and since then it quite well and healthy. A Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases and a Sample Bottle to any address. Poor patients also get the medicine free. Prepared by Rev. Is Your Home Piped for Gas?

Houses piped for gas sell and rent more readily, and for more money.

So far as rent is concerned, the small investment in housepiping will yield surprisingly large interest returns.

As for selling, you can add many times the housepiping investment to the selling price, and get it.

If you intend living in the house yourself, the added comfort and convenience will more than justify the nominal cost of piping the home for gas.
