The Footlight Club are now rehearsing Sol Smith Russell's funny, frolicsome, fiery farce comedy "A Bachelor's Romance" to be produced at our hall on three nights the early part of May, under the auspices of the Knights of St. John Bowling League. The author guarantees the spectators a laugh a minute. A finished production of high class wholesome comedy is assured under the directorship of Edward F. Hettig, who has met with former success and approval of many Rochester theater critics. A most competent cast has been selected for this play.

The "club banquet," which has continually been a by-word for the past few weeks and described by some of the members as the "Missing Link" of the Clubs hilarity, will be held by the St. Boniface Young Men's club at their club rooms on Wednesday evening, April 28th. "Everybody come—For a stack of Fun"—is the slogan of the committee, and it is hoped the members will answer the call. Hoffman, the caterer, who has a wider reputation in the popularity column than Roosevelt or Bryan, will arrange a toothsome menu. John Lawrence has been elected chairman of the Get-Acquainted Committee and will endeavor to keep in motion the grasping glad-hand of the club members and of their invited guests. Good music will be furnished on this occasion. Another important event, will be the distribution of the prizes to be awarded the winners of the seasons Bowling Tournament. On account of the rivalry between the various competing teams, a keen interest is manifested in this affair.

The bowling alley fans report that these clever pin artists have been hitting the maple at a terrific pace and consequently some enviable records will be established for the bowling enthusiasts.

There are thousands of housewives who can bear testimony to the fact that their labors have been materially lightened and time and money saved by the YEAR 'ROUND GAS KITCHEN.

The year 'round gas kitchen calls for the installation of a Gas Range, preferably the Cabinet "no stooping" type; a gas-fired Water Heater and a Furnace Connection to heat the kitchen and supply hot water for household uses during the winter season.

In the year 'round gas kitchen the work is easier and more dependable because you have no coal or ashes to bother with and the heat can be instantly and absolutely controlled by simply turning a key.

There is no temper-trying waiting and uncertainty because you get the maximum heat at a second's notice.

There is economy because the burners are so constructed that you can concentrate the heat and prevent the waste that is common to all other cooking mediums in general use.

'Phone Us

We'll send a representative to talk the matter over with you. We stand back of our claims for the year 'round kitchen by agreeing to remove the appliance we sell you if, after trying them, they do not justify our claims.
