HELPFUL HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES

Teakettle That Can Be Filled Without Removing Lid

An ingenious inventor has created a teakettle that can be filled without removing the lid.

The inventor has created a teakettle that can be filled without removing the lid. The kettle has a small opening in the lid that allows water to be poured in without having to lift the lid. This is a very convenient feature for housewives who are often in a hurry.

Restoring Kid Gloves.
 First have ready several bluish clean soft old handkerchiefs soaked in a solution of ammonia. Dip a piece of the handkerchief into the ammonia, rub it on the soap and begin washing the gloves, rubbing toward the fingers. When the ammonia shows signs of being soiled throw it into warm water to soak and take a fresh piece. Work all over the gloves in this way until the ammonia shows no sign of dirt. Then wring out a piece of clean handkerchief, but with no soap, and wash the gloves over again. Then they should be left between the folds of a fresh towel until the next day. The gloves will probably look awful when you uncover them, but put them on your hands and they will return to their original shape and color. If you have done the work well, will look almost as good as new.

Pearl Barley Pudding.
 Pearl barley is one of the cereals that is not much used except for thickening soups, but it is used with apples and baked to make a most nourishing pudding. Wash half a cupful of pearl barley and leave it in water overnight. In the morning put it in a saucepan on the back of the stove with a pint of water and a slice of lemon peel and let it simmer until within an hour of serving, then pour the barley into a deep baking dish, pare, core and quarter three apples, stir them in with half a cupful of sugar, a tablespoonful of butter and fill up the dish with milk. Bake in a moderate oven for an hour and serve with cream.

Dill Pickles.
 Wash sound, medium sized cucumbers and put them to soak overnight in a brine made of one cupful of salt to two gallons of water. Next morning wipe the cucumbers dry, put a layer in a jar, then a layer of freshly gathered grape leaves, another layer of cherry leaves and one of dill, then another layer of cucumbers, and so on until the jar is full. Cover with a fresh brine prepared the same as directed above, cover with a cloth, weight down with a board and stone so that the cucumbers will be well covered with the brine, cover jar and put in cool place.

Plain Doughnuts.
 Sift a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder with two teaspoonfuls of sugar, add a little salt, two-thirds of a teaspoonful of sugar, a teaspoonful of milk, a half milk and half cream. Beat the molding board with flour and with the hands pat the dough about half an inch thick, cut out and fry in half fat and half suet, sprinkle with powdered sugar or roll while warm in granulated sugar. Heat the doughnuts before sending them to the table.

Cherry Tapioca.
 Soak one-half cupful of tapioca in a little cold water overnight. In the morning simmer until clear. Into this stir one cupful of stoned cherries. Sweeten to taste or use one cupful of canned cherries. Cook. Place on the ice and serve very cold with whipped cream sweetened and flavored with vanilla.

To Peel Beets.
 An easy way to skin a beet without bleeding it and causing it to lose color is to put it in cold water as soon as it is cooked. Then draw the hand gently down each one and the skin will drop off without trouble.

Proper Kitchen Sanitation

Many housewives who think that they are doing everything that is possible to keep their kitchens clean and sanitary are often surprised to learn that they are not doing enough.

There are many things that can be done to make the kitchen a more sanitary place. First, the floor should be swept every day. This is most important, as the dirt in the room is the source of all the germs. Which is why it is so important to keep the floor clean. A broom should be used to sweep the floor, and the broom should be kept in a clean place. The broom should be swept out every day, and the broom should be kept in a clean place. The broom should be swept out every day, and the broom should be kept in a clean place.

The refrigerator is another very important part of the kitchen. It should be kept clean and sanitary. The refrigerator should be swept every day, and the refrigerator should be kept in a clean place. The refrigerator should be swept every day, and the refrigerator should be kept in a clean place.

The laundry tub should be kept clean and sanitary. The laundry tub should be swept every day, and the laundry tub should be kept in a clean place. The laundry tub should be swept every day, and the laundry tub should be kept in a clean place.

The kitchen floor should be swept every day. A very fine broom should be used for this purpose. The broom should be swept out every day, and the broom should be kept in a clean place. The broom should be swept out every day, and the broom should be kept in a clean place.

White oilcloth can be used to cover the top of a kitchen table, with some to spare. A length of a few inches more of the oilcloth will reach the top of the washbasin slightly and convertible to table use. The top of the refrigerator covered in this way will be taken as a pledge of the owner's clean interior below.

Paras Rugs.
 Rag rugs for your porch can be bought anywhere at from $1.50 to $10.00 depending on the size and style. These rag rugs are much the best for porch use as they are washable.

Keep plenty of flowers on the porch. Also all the new magazines, arranging them neatly on the top. If afternoon tea is to be served there daily, the rag rug can be kept on the table top. These attractions will earn you very little and will transform your porch.
