

Gilt Edge Champagne

Is considered one of the choicest Champagnes made, its consumption has had a marvelous growth, it is fine in color, has a beautiful spark, and exquisite bouquet which makes it sought after by all connoisseurs.

Red Gilt Edge, a Sparkling Burgundy

We were one of the first to make a red champagne in this country and like the Gilt Edge, it is fermented in the bottle and equal to that made in any country. To put our product in a class by itself we call it "Red Gilt Edge" as there are so many so called sparkling burgundies on the market. Distributors for Rochester, Fee Bros., E. M. THE BERSAGLIERI, CRACK INFANTRY

Italy's Plumed Troops Finest Riflemen In World.

Of the several corps that make up the Italian army none are more famous than the bersaglieri, Italy's plumed warriors, who are regarded as the finest infantry riflemen in the world. Originally formed in 1806 by General Alessandro de la Marmora as a portion of the newly organized Sardinian army they took part in the Crimean war and acquitted themselves splendidly. The dress of the bersaglieri is of the most picturesque type, consisting of a dark blue uniform with red facings, but it is the headdress which is the soldier's greatest glory. This comprises a low crowned black slouch hat with a very wide brim and decorated with drooping plumes of green cock's feathers. Although only paid at the rate of one penny a day, the members of this famous corps save up their coppers in order that they may be able to obtain for themselves plumes of better quality and richer hue than those provided by the government. Every member of the bersaglieri is a "plumed man" chosen for his stamina and strength. When out marching these soldiers don't walk but go at a sort of trot. So well trained are they and such are their powers of endurance that they can keep up this trot for hours. Every man of them is an athlete, and whether performing the ordinary functions of a soldier or going through the most intricate evolutions of military drill he displays a proficiency and an ability that could only come from long and careful training.

THE MASTER OF CHINA.

Yuan Shih Kai Denies the Reports That He Desires to Be Emperor. The report that Yuan Shih Kai was bent upon making himself emperor of China and thus turning the republic back to an empire caused quite a stir and wide comment. Such a course has been reported as advocated by Pro-essor Frank Johnson Goodnow of Johns Hopkins university, legal adviser to the Chinese government. But Yuan has come out declaring that he does not wish to be emperor and that none of his sons is fit to rule. This may or may not be a bluff, and it remains to be seen whether Yuan will refuse the kingly crown if it is offered to him. He has certainly on different occasions exercised the power of a monarch and an absolute one at that. Indeed, China is now a republic only in name.

BRIGHT BRIEFS.

About the only experience a man ever profits by is his own.

Any time somebody walks in triumph somebody else's neck is hurt.

One way to become a satisfactory guest is to postpone the visit.

China's experience is showing that republics are developed, not made.

What is called killing time is, in fact, neglecting opportunity for useful activity.

Keep at it. There is only the difference of one letter between rest and rest.

If your conversation is of the heavy kind be careful where you drop your remarks.

The things that we need the least are usually the things that we try the hardest to get.

About the time a fellow begins to think he is a budding genius along comes the frost.

Too many persons are unable to distinguish the difference between argument and assertion.

The meek may inherit the earth, but if the strong keep at it much longer the heritage will not be worth much.

Man was made to mourn, but probably it was never intended that he should spend much of his time at it.

If you want to know yourself observe other men's conduct. If you wish to know other men look within yourself.

Pen, Chisel and Brush.

Mr. William de Morgan published his first novel when he was sixty-six years of age.

Mrs. Alice Mumford Rogers, the well-known artist and portrait painter of Philadelphia, never sketches, as is the custom with most painters, but conceives the work as a whole and goes to work in the spirit of staking out a building.

Albin Polasek, whose recent effort, "Aspiration," was awarded the Widener medal for the best work in sculpture at the Pennsylvania academy, was born in Moravia, but came to this country at the age of twenty-two years. Later he began to study at the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia. In due course he was enabled as a Prix de Rome man to study the old masters of Italy.

Recent Inventions.

A shirt has been invented with a neckband adjustable to fit several sizes of necks.

An apparatus for automatically spraying oil from the bow of a vessel upon a rough sea has been invented in England.

The outer walls of a new safe are perforated to permit the gases of an explosion to escape and thereby thwart a burglar who tries to blow it open.

Gasoline locomotives have been invented in England that are safe to use in coal mines, their ignition taking place within tight boxes and their exhaust through water.

Pert Personal.

George Bernard Shaw declines the purchase of year bonds and buys them himself. "How typical Shawian!" he says.

Though in many respects an untutored man, Pancho Villa makes better progress than Carranza in learning his A. B. C.'s, New York Sun.

What's in a name anyway? Governors Igo of Tennessee and Brewer of Mississippi are such prohibitionists. Albany Knickerbocker Press.

Gabe of Virginia, the great negotiator of Europe with his pen, thereby putting all previous attempts in the background. Washington Post.

Short Stories.

"Tubby" cats are so called after a street in Bagdad.

Asbestos has been spun into thread so fine that it requires 32,000 feet to weigh a pound.

Gentlemen are requested not to comb their beards at tables" is the notice posted in a hotel in Switzerland.

An Alaskan cable was put out of commission recently by a whale becoming so completely entangled in it that the wire proved a death trap.

Enough portland cement is manufactured in the United States each year to build concrete forts at every needed point on the entire coast of the United States.

Telephone Calls.

After five years of work all the telephone lines in Melbourne have been put underground.

Telephone lines are to be extended to Tromsø, Norway, 200 miles north of the arctic circle.

The business of the New York police department last year required 5,800,000 telephone calls.
