protect workers in factories and as to arouse the indignation of mercantile establishments, the Germantown Gazette, owned by a Lutheran and edited by a Presbyterian. The Gazette gravely advises the bigots to "stop rocking the boat."

If the Industrial Commission proceeds along its advertised lines to try and bring employers and employees into closer touch with each other and the public at large it will justify the claim made that its creation represented one of the greatest pieces of constructive legislation enacted into statute law during a generation.

Forrest's Fall!

Doubtless, many friends of Jay W. Forrest in this city, Buffalo, Albany and elsewhere will be both surprised and shocked to read the following from a recent issue of the Menace:

"The Menace has been informed that a notorious organizer for bigots, expect to take a hand in this fall's municipal election and one day W. Forrest by name, has been flaunting before his audience in certain cities of the north what he claims to be a recommended nomination from the Menace ticket named in the primaries."

"We wish to brand this as a falsehood and state that Forrest there is more than a medium of no other man is in possession of a written recommendation of the nominations already proposed from the Menace. A man may have the appearance of being a good man today and a bad one tomorrow, and for that reason Catholics should be on their guard never writes recommendations. There is no necessity of standing on the Four Corners."

"We might state, in addition and shouting the fact, to all the world, but we can and should re-time that Forrest's name ever appeared in the Menace to our knowledge, to say nothing of a recommendation. From what we have heard of Forrest we wouldn't even want to meet him without first having deposited in voting booth. After that, it makes safe keeping all the money and other valuables we possess."

"We wonder just what ex-Governor William Sulzer, familiarly known as 'Plain Bill', thinks of Forrest about this time. There are a few others in and about Rochester who enjoyed close and familiar relations with Mr. Forrest who are said to have changed in their feelings toward him."

Any way, Delegate Alfred E. Smith's proposition to eliminate from the proposed new constitution that provision in the constitution adopted in 1894 that no public money ever shall be appropriated in aid of sectarian schools has acted as a fine counter-irritant to kill off some other proposals of the arch bigots."

Too bad that Charles H. Betts is not to go to Congress. The President of the Industrial Commission has acted in the legislative halls in Washington of the editor of the State are so well informed as to Lyons Republican would not have gone unchronicled, like that of another editor who sat in Congress not long ago.

The Knights of Columbus have called the bluff of a "rev. bigot" who was running for governor of Florida on a bigoted platform. They have challenged him to make good a series of slanders he has been working off against the Catholics and have deposited $500 in a local bank to be paid over to any local charity he names provided he can prove the accuracy of his charges to the satisfaction of a jury composed entirely of non-Catholics.

Cardinal Gibbons advice to keep calm in this critical situation is well and timely as are his Grace's every admonition or counsel. Down in Germantown, Pa., they are trying to run a bigoted campaign and have gone so far as to arouse the indignation of mercantile establishments, the Germantown Gazette, owned by a Lutheran and edited by a Presbyterian. The Gazette gravely advises the bigots to "stop rocking the boat."

Is it really true that the bigots intend to have a "preferred list" this fall on election day in Rochester?

The September enrollment in the L. L. Williams Rochester Commercial School is, up to date, the largest in the history of the school. The shorthand and commercial courses seem to be about equally popular. There will be a large number of additional registrations next Monday. The office will be open all day Saturday, the 11th, 27 Church Street. Both telephones. - Adv.
