SCOTLAND LIGHTSHIP.

Origin of the Name of the Famous Beacon Off Sandy Hook. Scotland lightship is so called because it marks the site of the wreck of the ship Scotland. According to an entry in the records of the United States coast guard at Washington, she was a British steamship of Liverpool, bound from Liverpool to New York with a cargo of merchandise, she stranded near Sandy Hook on Dec. 2, 1888, and was a total loss. The acting commissioner of the Bureau of Light Houses supplies this excerpt from the records of the Bureau: "Under authority of the joint resolution of Congress approved March 2, 1888, a light vessel was moored on April 17, 1888, to mark temporarily the obstruction to navigation caused by the wreck of the steamship Scotland. The work of removing this wreck was completed in 1890, and the light-house board decided that it had no authority for retaining the light vessel at that point any longer without further congressional authority. This authority was given by an act of Congress approved June 24, 1891, and light vessel No. 21 was accordingly placed in service on Sept. 19, 1891, being named 'Light-vessel No. 21 on the 4th day of September, 1891, when light vessel No. 21 was replaced on Dec. 2, 1891, by light vessel No. 41, which is still the regular station ship at this location. While the wreck of the steamship Scotland was being removed, navigation from the light vessel was interrupted to such an extent that it was known as the 'Wreck of the Scotland Light Vessel.' After the wreck had disappeared and another light vessel was placed there by act of Congress, not to mark the obstruction, but to mark the obstructions existing in the part of New York harbor, the light vessel was known as the Scotland light vessel, which name is still retained." Blessing of the Graves.

The annual ceremony of the blessing of the graves in Holy Sepulcher Cemetery will be conducted by Bishop Hickey Sunday afternoon. The bishop will be assisted by the priests of the city and the students of St. Bernard's and St. Andrew's Seminaries. If the weather is fair it is expected that at least twenty thousand Catholics who have friends or relatives buried in the cemetery will be present.

Governor Whitman does not underestimate the value of the political acquaintance gleaned by visiting country fairs and industrial expositions.
