FURS

Superior in Quality

A Fur Garment or a Set of Furs is something which, perhaps, you purchase only once in a year—so when you do be sure that your selection is of prime quality skins—carefully made—and of the latest style.

At the "Meng & Shafer" Stores you will find just such "Quality Furs"—moderately priced.

For here, every garment and set carries a guarantee of Quality—a guarantee of good materials and expert workmanship.

And now prices are lower than they will be later, for the scarcity of both skins and dyestuffs must cause an advance in the near future.

LITTLE CHATS WITH BELL TELEPHONE USERS

Have you ever visited a Bell Telephone Central Office? Have you any idea what goes on behind the scenes during those few seconds between the lifting of the receiver and the answering voice of your far-away friend?

A trip through a Bell Telephone Exchange is a most interesting experience. Many people in Rochester have learned that our latch string is always out and that we welcome the opportunity to show our patrons how their Bell Telephone calls are handled.

There is a mutual advantage in a visit to one of our Central offices. It makes for better understanding between us. The knowledge you gain of how to use the telephone and of our methods of operation should make the telephone more valuable to you and should aid us in our efforts to furnish Rochester with the best telephone service of which Science is capable.

Since there are so many people in Rochester who never have seen one of our Exchanges in operation, we are going to take this opportunity in a series of newspaper chats to tell them about these things that we'd rather have them see for themselves.

In our next chat we're going to tell you about "the most unpopular man in Rochester."
