About the New Dress Fabrics

Hard to find a woman who is not interested in the new dress fabrics at this time of the year.

Even at this early date it is possible to quite accurately gauge the comparative popularity of the materials that will enter into the making of the new outfits for spring. Style creators seem to be of one mind as regards checks. They are presented in every conceivable weave and color combination. Prominence is given to many a bold, dashing pattern, but for those who desire something less conspicuous there are numerous other quieter patterns in fine checks, checks with colored bars, checks in soft velour in tones of brown and tan, green and gray and black and white shepherd checks in an endless variety.

One of the Main Street windows contains a display of spring fabrics of our own importation. In order that you may better realize how stylish these London suitings are after the tailor has done his work we show here suits fashioned from these materials.

As the best way to familiarize yourself with these new ideas in spring styles we would suggest a visit to Dress Goods section, in Aisle E.
