Curious Dwarf Oak.
Known to ranchmen as chimney, the dwarf oak of the southwest presents a curious instance of the devious and inscrutable ways of nature. There the illigittan of the great oak family covers a great area in the plains of Texas bordering on New Mexico. The tree, it is said, rarely attains a height of twenty inches and are replicas of their giant brothers in other parts of the country. The acorns which they bear are as large as those of the common burr oak and present a grotesque appearance hanging from the little limbs of the low growing shrub or tree. The annual crop of mast is used for fattening hogs. When the acorns are ripe many wild animals and birds flock into the miniature forest to feast on the nuts.—Argonaut.

Told Almost All.
Here is a story told by one of our women lawyers.
"I told my client to tell me everything just as it had occurred—to hold back nothing—and then, being perfectly familiar with all the facts, I might be able to help him. After the story had come to an end I asked him if that were all."
"Everything—except where I hid the money" was the answer.—Buffalo News.

Islands.
There are about 100,000 islands, large and small, scattered over the oceans. America alone has 3,500 around its coast. There are 365 in the bay of Rio Janeiro, 10,000 between Madagascar and India and some 1,200 off the eastern coast of Australia between its mainland and New Guinea.

Legal Snags.
"Seems to me that the lawyers have it easy in life."
"Why so?"
"The rest of us have to surmount our own obstacles, but if a lawyer strikes one he applies to some judge and has it set aside."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Three Clocks.
The best three clocks in the world are at the naval observatory at Washington and the observatories at Greenwich and Berlin. The former two are the best and show a mean deviation of fifteen one-thousandths of a second a day.

Easy Mark.
Randall I just borrowed $5 from a friend, Rogers—Give me his address quick, Randall—Why? Rogers—a man who would lend money to you would lend it to any one.—Life.

It is not poverty, but covetousness, that causes sorrow. It is not wealth, but philosophy, that gives security.—Epictetus.

A BUSY COUNTESS

War Work Occupies Another Beautiful Woman.

POPULAR IN DUAL EMPIRE.

Like So Many of Her European Sisters, This Fair Austrian is Interested in Relief—London Women of Title Going In For Charity Theatricals.

In every capital in Europe women of title and social prestige are busy with war relief. Hospital ships and supplies, ambulances, workshops and actual nursing of sick soldiers are only a few of their occupations.

London society women have recently taken up charity theatricals. The Countess of Essex (nee Miss Adele Grant of New York, recently having given an extremely successful charity matinee at the Gaiety theater, with professional and society amateurs indiscriminately mixed up. Recently Mrs. Edith Wharton, the American novelist, was decorated by the French government for her valuable relief work. Last winter the German kaiser decorated Mrs. Gerard, wife of the American ambassador, for the help given families of soldiers.

Like all the other feminine members of the Austro-Hungarian nobility, the Countess von Szapary is actively engaged in war relief work. She is connected with some of the most prominent families in the dual empire.

DON'TS FOR BUYERS.

Some Restrictions Valuable For Those on Shopping Bent.

Don't buy a suit with a plaited skirt unless you have an elastic iron and lots of time or else a good maid.

Don't buy one that is a bit too small for the present style coat, with its flaring hem, looks especially bad in a size too small.

Don't, if you're over five feet six, get up and down stripes.

Don't buy a tan suit if you are tall. Some of the tan shades are again in fashion, and they are a pitfall for the unwary swallow woman.

Don't buy a suit trimmed with a light color if you must wear it constantly, for nothing looks worse than soiled trimming.

Don't, if the family Bible has you down for over forty—you needn't admit it get a suit because the saleswoman tells you it's girlish. Don't be a flapper at forty.

Don't, if you're under five feet three, get round about trimming.

Don't get a jacket that has sleeves too short or too long, for misfit sleeves spoil what may otherwise be a very attractive jacket.

Baked Shad Roe.

Parboil the roe from a large shad for one minute, drain, place in a baking pan, spread with one large table spoonful of butter, sprinkle with pepper, salt and a dash of cayenne, pour in one cupful of cream, bake covered for twenty minutes, then remove the cover, bake ten minutes longer and transfer to a heated platter. Beat the yolks of three eggs with one cupful of cream, add the strained sauce from the pan, cook and stir until slightly browned, place around the roe and garnish with water-cress and crisped bacon.

Kitchen Kinks.

Never allow fresh meat to remain in paper, for it absorbs the juices.

Always allow water to run from the kitchen tap in the morning until all that has been in the pipes overnight has run out.

Never allow opened fruits or vegetables to stand in the tin can.

Never stir anything in tin if avoidable or at least use a wooden spoon.

Never keep vinegar or yeast in stone crocks or jugs, since the acid attacks the glazing.

AN EMBROIDERED BLOUSE.

It is Said That Handwork Lingerie is Rivaling Crapes.

For some time hand embroidered blouses were kept under cover. It seemed a shame, too, for the hand work on a blouse always showed to good advantage. However, there is no longer any need to lament about the matter, for once more women are privileged to wear blouses which show the results of their labor in the embroidery field. But the embroidery is applied in a different manner. Instead of decorating the front of the blouse in plain effect, dainty little flowers hang in garlands from the shoulder line. The shoulders are outlined with a band of embroidery. One blouse showing this treatment was embroidered in blue, pink and green. It opened in the front, and the line of closing was finished with featherstitching and a few tiny white buttons embroidered in green also.

The application of the embroidery on the sleeves was quite a variation. A separate cuff finished each sleeve and was edged with green featherstitching, but where the sleeve joined the cuff garlands of the flowers embroidered in the delicate colors suggested above were embroidered up the sleeve for a space of four inches. A turnover collar of the blouse material was edged with featherstitching, and a tiny spray of flowers was embroidered in each point in front. The colors of embroidery cotton can be changed to suit the wearer's taste.

BATH SUITS.

Tip: About the Style and Material of Your Diving Duds.

Whether you elect to wear bloomers or tights with your swimming suit this summer, whether you favor a kerchief knotted back of each ear or a cap with a shady brim, whether you like to go down into the sea stock-footed or equipped with bathing shoes, one thing you must have—and that is a pocket in your bathing dress. Two pockets will be smarter, and there may be three or even four—two on the skirt for the hands to be thrust into as you walk up the beach and two in the waist for the safe keeping of your bath house key and handkerchief. A soppy wet handkerchief is better than none at all—so every bather knows—after a wave has gone over one's head, and after a plunge under water your handkerchief will be very handy buttoned securely into a breast pocket in your waist.

Palm Beach bathing suits, which, of course, foretell what all other bathing suits are going to be later on, are stunning affairs. Most of them are of silk and many are of silk jersey. One sees also a great number of pussy-silk bathing suits. This soft, beautiful lustrous silk has proved itself in salt water. A pussy-silk bathing suit worn almost every day last summer in the heavy surf on the south of Long Island shore came home in September without a tear or even a worn spot or a change in color.

Bathing suits of the most fashionable sort now are in two sections, a very short tunic, loosely belted or sashed below the waist, and knickers or close bathing breeches to the knee. One cannot call them tights—they are rather like the "close" knee breeches small boys wear, and sometimes they are slashed up the outer side for a few inches and laced together with cord or silk braid.

UN SOUND FOODS.

Points For Young Housekeepers About Shellfish.

HOW TO DETECT BAD MEATS.

If the Caterer For a Family Knows the Difference Between Fresh and Stale Foodstuffs Potomac Poisoning and Other Serious Ills May Be Avoided.

Smoked meats and fish are bad when they are meaty to the touch and have a rancid, sour smell.

Glassed-meat products are bad when they have a rancid, sour smell and when the color differs from the fresh product.

Good fresh pork is solid, has pure white fat and pink flesh. Do not buy pork that is soft and yellow.

Remember that lamb or mutton should be firm, close grained and light red in color, with fat that is white and hard.

Beef should be of a rosy red color, with cream colored, firm, elastic fat and scarcely moist when touched with the finger. Do not buy wet, fatty beef that is pale and purple.

All shellfish should smell fresh, and the shells should close firmly when put into water or touched with the finger. Shellfish should be alive when cooked.

Fresh veal is pale red (unless milk fed, when it is light), with firm, white fat between the muscles and surrounding tissues and scarcely moist to the touch. Bad veal is soft, mushy, sticky and has a very red tinge, while the fat has a grayish lead color.

Fresh fish should have red gills, moist, bright scales and clear eyes, and should be firm and rigid when handled. Stale fish is flabby, has dull scales, the eyes are sunken and covered with a film, the gills are pale or of greenish color, and the fish has a bad odor. All lumpy fish should be rejected as the growth may be cancerous.

To detect decomposing meats in cans before opening, inspect the ends of the can and if they bulge, discard the can. This bulging is due to accumulated gases of decomposition that push the ends outward by force of pressure. Leaking and rusty cans should also be discarded. Canned meats should be free from muck. The odor of such meats should be the same as when freshly prepared. If the meat in particular exposure to heat will make it possible to detect the foul odor.

contrasts. The one pictured has patch pockets, a belt flap and roll collar and comes in a light weight.

Penuchi.

Two cupfuls of brown sugar, one cupful of white, three-quarters cupful of milk, butter size of walnut and vanilla to flavor. Cook sugar and milk over moderate blaze until it forms a soft ball in water. Remove from stove, add butter and vanilla. Beat until creamy and place in buttered pan. Be sure and don't cook too long. Remove from stove as soon as it forms a soft ball in water. It burns very easily, so stir quite often, but not continuously.

Carrot Pie.

One cupful of sour cream, one cupful of sugar, one cupful of grated carrot, the yolks of two eggs, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg to taste. Bake in one crust and cover with meringue, when the whites of two eggs and four table-spoonfuls of powdered sugar

Working Buttonholes.

To make beautiful buttonholes, even on the shiest of summer materials, mark them first and stitch the outlines free around on the sewing machine. This not only adds to the durability of the buttonhole, but makes the working of it far easier.
