The Degeneracy of Modern War

What kind of a war is this? A hundred thousand men are being killed in a few days. The world is being divided into warring camps. The world is being divided into warring camps.

Could Eat as Well as Write

Dr. Johnson was a great tea drinker. It is stated that he would drink thirty or forty cups of tea during an evening. Yet he lived to a ripe old age and was healthy and vigorous.

Middle Aged Lovemaking

By ETHEL HOLMES

Amos Chidleigh sat at his desk one hot July morning mopping his brow. Then he said to himself: "Why should I stay in this hot town when I can just as well go where it's cool? Tomkins can run the business as well as I. I don't care whether there is any profit for a couple of months or not."

Woman's Love

It takes a hundred men to make an incampment, but it takes only the influence of one woman to make a home. I not only adore woman as the most beautiful object ever created, but I reverence her as the redeemed glory of humanity.

Survival of the Fittest Among Birds

The struggle of life among the birds and other wild creatures is so severe that the feeble and unformed, or the handicapped in any way, quickly drop out. Probably none of them ever does a full measure of life.

Remedy For Anger

The greatest remedy for anger is to lay it on the line. Anger is a fire that burns in the heart, and it must be put out by the action of the will.

The Expanding Stone

In the rock of St. Gowan's chapel, in Wales, was a natural cavity upon which the name of the "expanding stone" was bestowed by popular tradition because the stone always expanded to the size of any one who entered the cavity.

Henspecked Sparrows

Female sparrows are especially attracted toward their partners on the chilly autumn mornings when the fresh-fallen dew is on the ground.

Winning Both Ways

The Zulu women, who were warriors, were not only brave but also cunning. They would fight their way into the enemy's camp and then retreat, leaving a trail of destruction behind them.

The Old Greek Caravan

The old Greek caravan was a famous one in its day. It was a caravan of traders who carried goods from the East to the West.
