What Housewives Are Glad to Know

Home Cookery

Scrambled Eggs With Tomatoes.

Peel and slice thin a large tomato Add just enough water to cover and a teaspoonful of onion juice Cook until tender and very thick Then add a pinch of baking soda and a heaping teaspoonful of cornstarch rubbed smooth with a little cold milk, a tablespoonful of butter, a dash of sugar, salt and pepper to season Cook until thick and smooth, then add three well beaten eggs to which have been added two tablespoonfuls of milk. Cook until firm, stirring often Sprinkle with a little chopped parsley and serve on toast if desired

Roast Ox Tongue.

Rub a fresh ox tongue well with half a pound of coarse salt, and let it stand for three days, says the Country Gentleman Then wash it and boil it in boiling stock or water gently for two and one half hours, peel off the skin and brush the tongue over with beaten egg and cover it with plenty of fine bread crumbs Now roast or bake it for thirty minutes and brown it nicely basting it well with hot drippings Serve with brown sauce

Tomato Rarebit.

Rub one tablespoon butter smooth with one tablespoon of flour Add one half cup of thick tomato pulp, cooked and strained, and one half cup of cream Cook until thick and smooth Season with salt and pepper and a little sugar Then add one half cup of grated cheese and stir until the cheese is melted Place four squares of toasted buttered bread on a hot platter and pour sauce over and serve

Potted Cheese

Among ways of using cheese that is stale and dry is sandwich filling or potted cheese. Grate a pound of dry cheese so that it is fine, then mix with two ounces of butter, two teaspoonfuls of made mustard, salt and pepper to taste. Add just enough cream to form a paste, put into small glasses. It will keep some time in the cellar

Molasses Cake.

An egg, a cupful molasses, one-half cupful buttermilk, scant one half cupful shortening, a teaspoonful soda, two and one half cupfuls flour sifted, a little salt and ginger or other spice if preferred

Broiled Squabs.

Dress the broiler chickens split down the back and flatten, butter the broiler, lock over a clear fire until a delicate brown, turning often When done sprinkle with salt and pepper and spread with butter

Packing Butter For Winter Use

As a natural result of the preservation of [illegible] butter [illegible] the [illegible] to the [illegible] The [illegible] it the [illegible] and [illegible] makes the [illegible] of eggs and [illegible] each one of these jars down in the cellar bowl one at a time until thin as a [illegible] to drain off all the water possible while [illegible] Then pack in further jars filling each of them within one inch of the top

Bring out a white linen cloth which has previously been cut around in eight or nine inches larger than the jar tops, dip it in cold water Allow this cloth to lap over a little on the jars on the cloth [illegible] inch layer of fine dairy salt which will come even with the top of the jar, then cut a sheet of parchment paper to cover the salt and seal the jar over with paper down over it all

The jars should be filled and sealed at once Jars holding two to four pounds are preferable to most in stripes and they should always be earthenware Do not allow these jars to stand around a day or two to add another churning of butter as the butter already packed would begin to get strong especially if too much salt is used in winter weather

Working in the Sun

Most of us [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] cultivating transplanting and [illegible] to begin always at the same end of the garden rows and to work always [illegible] the same direction says one [illegible] Gentleman Previewing the method to suit the season and the time of day If the day is hot and you want to avoid the effect of the sun as much as possible turn your face to it If the day is cool and the sun's warmth adds to your comfort turn your back to it In garden work you are bound to stoop more or less, and with your back to the sun you present the broadest exposure of your person to its rays On the contrary, when you face the sun so stooping the rays strike mostly on your head, which of course should be protected by an ample hat, with perhaps a cabbage leaf in it.

Sectional Wardrobe That May Be Enlarged

A sectional wardrobe frame has been patented which consists of interchangeable units so fastened together that the size of the frame can be increased when desired by adding more parts, says Popular Mechanics. The four uprights of this frame consist of sections of twisted wire with ends fashioned in such a way that they interlock rigidly Crosspieces of lighter construction that join together by means of hooks and eyes extend between the uprights The top of the frame is so constructed as to assist in holding the sides firmly in position and will support a garment which may be hung from it

The article is designed to be draped with cloth selected to harmonize with the surroundings of the room in which it is placed When not in use the wardrobe may be taken apart and stored in small space

Popular Styles Of Table Linens

How old-styles of never failing interest The diagonal and horizontal striped cloths are still much used and are likely to be this summer, but for the banquet cloth the plain white damask, with the double four inch satin borders, is still a fashion leader

Initials on the embroidered cloths have become startling, which is to be expected for [illegible] they would look out of place These used on the white cloths are still the four inch letters, which are placed eighteen inches from the center of the cloth so as to be between the carver's platter and the edge of the [illegible]

Many Egyptian patterns are shown which are fully [illegible] and they promise to be very well liked

SOLITUDE

It is not good for man to be kept perpetually in the presence of his species A world from which solitude is excluded is a very poor ideal Solitude in the sense of being often alone, is essential to any depth of meditation or of character and solitude in the presence of natural beauty and grandeur is the cradle of thoughts and aspirations, which are not only good for the individual, but which society could ill do without —John Stuart Mill

HURRY TRIPS BY ACTORS.

Mansfield's Record Quick Jump From New Orleans to Chicago.

Envious persons have been known to poohpooh the actor who thinks that his life is not all cakes and ale. Many years ago we thought the limit had been reached when E. L. Davenport acted at a matinee in Philadelphia and duplicated the performance in New York the same night. Later came the sensational jump of Lawrence Barrett by special train from New York to San Francisco in less than four days and the Joseph Brook-Janauschek leap from Milwaukee to Philadelphia between Saturday midnight and Monday in time for a regular performance in the latter city.

Once Richard Mansfield's energies compassed a hurry trip between New Orleans and Chicago. On a Saturday evening he presented "Julius Caesar" in the Crescent City and on the next succeeding Monday evening he repeated the experience in Chicago. Meanwhile he had traveled a thousand miles and transported all the ponderous impedments of his well-remembered production of the Shakespeare classic This is how it was done:

A special train in ten cars was under steam in New Orleans at the close of the engagement. As soon as a scene of the play was worked off it was conveyed on trucks to the waiting special. When the curtain fell on the last act the players who appeared in it, without changing their costumes, were driven to the railway station, and the train was out of sight of New Orleans before midnight. Right of way was given for the entire distance, and relays of fresh engines were provided from division to division. Thus a new record between the gulf and Lake Michigan was made. The running time for the thousand miles was twenty-three hours.—Kansas City Journal.

FIRE PREVENTION.

How Our Enormous Annual Losses Might Be Reduced.

The average annual loss by fire in America is over half as much as the cost of building the Panama canal. This is an actual loss. Insurance, of course, restores nothing destroyed, but merely passes the hat for the benefit of the individual losers The loss to the community is total.

But little thought has been given to the communal aspects of the economic system of fire insurance, writes Dr Maynard M. Metcalf in the Scientific Monthly It has been viewed chiefly from the standpoint of the individual Insurance companies repay to individuals their actual losses, and it is simpler for the individual to gain security against loss by fire by hiring an insurance company to carry his risks than it is for him to prevent loss from fire by building fireproof buildings.

Suppose we should appropriate a quarter of a billion dollars, the amount of a single year's fire loss, to the organization and support of a bureau of fire prevention, calling to the work of this bureau the three best chemists, the three strongest physicists and the three keenest engineers in the world. How long would it be before they had found very inexpensive methods of protecting all buildings against fire, however inflammable their construction? The problem is childishly simple beside those which men of science are attacking daily and with success.

How absurd it is that we have fires today! They should long ago have become a thing of the past.

The Plumb Line In Porto Rico.

There are places where the direction of a plumb line is not vertical Irregularities of density in the crust of the globe may produce this phenomenon A remarkable instance in point was found in the Island of Porto Rico where the deviation from the vertical is so great that in mapping the island the northern and southern coast lines as shown in the older maps, had each to be moved inward half a mile Scientific American.

Raisins as Food.

As a producer of energy the raisin is a marvel. One pound of raisins in this respect, according to a doctor, will more than equal "a pound of beef or five pounds of fish, two pounds of eggs four pounds of potatoes, two quarts of milk, half a peck of apples or a dozen bananas." And the advantage of the sugar in the raisin is that it is almost immediately digested, assimilated and transformed into energy

Power of the Press.

The productions of the press, fast as steam can make and carry them, go abroad through all the land, silent as snowflakes but potent as thunder It is an additional tongue of steam and lightning by which a man speaks his first thought, his instant argument or grievance to millions in a day.—Chapin

PLEADS FOR BLIND

Calls Upon American Women to Help War Victims.

PLANS TO TEACH TRADES.

With Her Unceasing Zest For Good Deeds, Mrs. Whitney Makes a Special Plea to Help Alleviate Suffering in European Countries.

One of the latest steps taken by the sympathizers of the allies is an appeal issued by the B. F. B. (British, French, Belgian) Permanent Blind Relief fund with headquarters in New York, over the names of Lady Arthur Paget of the fund's executive committee and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, one of the honorary secretaries, calling upon the women of America for aid The appeal says in part

"Unless you act these thousands of women will be condemned for the rest of their lives to an existence of hopeless drudgery and hardship.

"For humanity's sake help these European women. They are your sisters even though you have never seen them "Six months' training will educate the blind men dependent on them in trades not requiring sight Even your

FOR THE SEWING ROOM.

Hints For Women Who Do Their Own Family Sewing

A chiffonier or bureau in the sewing room will be found indispensable One drawer is used for the stock room, and the small articles are kept therein, one is for patterns, one for pieces to use for patchwork, one for bias and one for clothing to be mended or fixed over

An old [illegible] used for a two pound sugar bag [illegible] thing to hold your work while sewing It takes the place of the old fashioned bird that is seen sometimes

If the pins are kept in a deep saucer one can pick them up or throw them down easily [illegible] getting a dress

Take a [illegible] of the desired length and width and drive a number of nails through two inches apart These will hold the spools of thread The numbers can be quickly seen and there will be no tangling with the scissors

Cream jars are excellent for buttons, as they can be classified and easily distinguished therein

An old sheet spread on the floor will catch all threads and can be easily shaken leaving the room tidy with no exertion
