Starting Trouble. "It's going to be war to the knife," declared the suburban man, who was feeding his chickens.

Advice. "There's one sure way to get along in this world."

Humiliation. "I tell you, sir, kissing the hand that smites you is nothing to what I saw in the hotel this morning."

STYLE TIPS. One is Rows of Silk Stitching Used in Trimming.

Just one whisper today about the new modes for fall. Paris openings are over, and the autumn styles are pretty well settled—the Paris styles, that is.

They look over the new modes and select those that appeal to them most, discarding others, and presently the selected modes appear with miraculous swiftness in the shops for everybody to buy.

One of these is silk stitching used as a trimming. The Paris frocks and coats are fitted by many seams and darts, all stitched conspicuously in more or less fanciful effect.

Alpaca is a surprise for the coming season. Both alpaca and mohair are being used by some of the couturiers in tailored frocks for day wear.

Silks for formal frocks and evening frocks, of course, and light wisps of satins and silks surfaced silks will be most in favor.

Autumn's Tulips. Here's a Stunning Daily For All Needleworkers. On a piece of fine linen circularly figured and feather-stitched are embroidered a hedge of yellow tulips and Fatigue Injures Temper. More than half of the ill temper and irritability displayed by women are due to fatigue, not only of the body, but of the nerves.

Keeping Posted. "I see Blanks always carries a volume of the encyclopaedia with him to read on the train instead of a newspaper."

An Extremist. "Mrs. X is a great stickler for form and ceremony I understand."

Judging From Experience. "Pop are bold ounces a distinct variety."

Ice-Coffee. Pour two quarts of boiling water over one-half pound of best coffee and let stand one-half hour, then strain off the clear liquor through cloth, add one quart of milk and one-quarter pound of sugar.

Bar and Beautiful. Bare and beautiful. The shading is true to nature and the design as rare as it is beautiful.

Colored Bead Belts. Belts have come back with a glitter and sparkle that will make them irresistible even to the girl who ordinarily does not care to cultivate a distinct break at the waist line by means of a separate belt.

A Disappointing Trip. "I heard that you were invited to take a four day automobile tour with Mr. and Mrs. Whitty?"

Remembered Too Well. Howard Del your aunt remember you in her will? Henry—She sure did. Directed her executors to collect all the loans she had made me.—Puck.

Drawing Bags. Drawing bags made of silk or of satin continue strongly in the lead. Some very effective numbers in other fabrics, such as worsteds, have been brought out.

CURIOUS BRIDGES.

One in Switzerland That is Famed For Its Roof Paintings.

Probably no town in the world has such strange bridges as Srinagar, the capital of Kashmir, in India. The city is built on the banks of the river Jhelum, which is crossed by many wooden bridges lined with old and dilapidated shops and houses with balconies and lattice windows.

The roofed Kapellbrücke at Lucerne is one of the most interesting. It crosses the river Reuss diagonally and has 112 triangular paintings beneath the roof, recording the heroic deeds of old Swissers and the sufferings of their patron saints.

One of the curious and ancient bridges in Europe is that at Croyland, in Lincolnshire, England, which is supposed to date from the ninth century. No road now passes over—and no water under it.

MUSIC'S UNIQUE QUALITY.

Wherein It Differs From Sculpture, Poetry and Painting.

Muscle finds its perfection in itself without relation to other objects. It is what it is in itself alone. It is non-definitive; it does not use symbols of something else; it cannot be translated into other terms.

The painter so draws his objects, so distributes his colors and so arranges his composition as to make of them his thought, and the greatness of his picture depends first of all and inevitably on his power of fixing his subjects with his technique.

Boorish and Urbane. When we speak of a person as "boorish" we mean that he is rude, ill bred and uncouth. We seldom stop to think that the word originally meant nothing more than "rustic."

A Vicious Dwarf. Belle was the favorite dwarf of the former King Stanislas of Poland. Born in 1741 in Lorraine, at the age of five he was twenty two inches high and at his death in 1794 thirty three inches. He was neither physically nor mentally active.

Colored Bead Belts. Belts have come back with a glitter and sparkle that will make them irresistible even to the girl who ordinarily does not care to cultivate a distinct break at the waist line by means of a separate belt.

A Plaster Hint. The wife of a physician who has occasion to run to the roll of adhesive plaster to cure less than mortal ailments finds it a durable as well as neat way of marking china when she lends a particularly good dish to an invalid, a party or a fair.

Remembered Too Well. Howard Del your aunt remember you in her will? Henry—She sure did. Directed her executors to collect all the loans she had made me.—Puck.

THE BELLE. A girle of silver lace, but by far the most interesting feature are the angel wings of pink tulle on the shoulders.

SUIT FABRICS.

A Chat About What New Suitings Are Like.

Do not gather the impression that broadcloth is the one and only material for suits. Broadcloth will be used extensively, for it lends itself pleasantly to the mode both as regards design and decoration.

There are wonderful velours for coat suits, and there is no question but that gaberdine and serge will be used. Paris is putting out some suits of alpaca, but it is hard to prophesy that this material will be used here for autumn suits.

The feeling is that if we are to use alpaca for suits this will not occur until early spring, but we are quite likely to use alpaca for dresses through the winter.

Tassels of silk trim many of the suits, and these are to be seen as well on dresses, blouses and even on neckwear.

There will surely be a big variety of fabrics and trimmings to choose from and many other smart types of suits besides the Russian styles presented today.

Colored Bead Belts. Belts have come back with a glitter and sparkle that will make them irresistible even to the girl who ordinarily does not care to cultivate a distinct break at the waist line by means of a separate belt.

THE HOLLYHOCK.

A Flower That is Intertwined With Our Colonial History.

The hollyhock gets its name from two words that indicate its origin in the Holy Land and its membership in the mallow family. But apparently it was known in India before it came to cheerful banners to the air in Palestine.

Wherever its first home was, it has become thoroughly acclimated in New England. We think of it as a characteristic New England flower. It decorates our colonial history almost back to the days of Governor Bradford and Roger Williams.

Some of the old colonial blossoms are shy and modest, but the hollyhock has the courage of its convictions. It knows its beauty, as it should, and has no mind to hide it under a bushel or beneath a hedgerow.

In two books of "popular quotations" there is no reference to the hollyhock, though the holly has its fair share of space. But it can afford to be thus ostracized.—Providence Journal.

FAMILIAR PHRASES.

A Few of the Many Gems We Get From Alexander Pope.

With the exception of Shakespeare, Pope is the author of more familiar phrases than any other writer of modern times. Here are a few of his gems:

"Shoot folly as she flies." "Hope springs eternal in the human breast." "Man never is but always to be blessed." "Whatever is is right." "The proper study of mankind is man."

The Blow on the Jaw. A man struck with any degree of force upon the mental area of the jaw, although he may be in perfect physical condition, instantly collapses and falls to the ground, says a medical journal.

How to Be Happy. There are two ways of being happy. We may either diminish our wants or augment our means. Either will do.

Dressing the Pillow. A little child not three years old, was sleepy, and his mother carried him to his crib, but the pillow had been removed by the maid for the laundry, and the child, looking up beseechingly into his mother's face, said pleadingly: "Please put a shirt on my pillow."

Remembered Too Well. Howard Del your aunt remember you in her will? Henry—She sure did. Directed her executors to collect all the loans she had made me.—Puck.

Holding His Own. "Stoney, isn't he?" "You've said it. Why, he holds fast to everything he gets his—but he on and even bolts down his dinner."

Heart of Midlothian. "The Heart of Midlothian" was not original with Sir Walter Scott. The name was first applied to the old jail in Edinburgh, which is the capital of Midlothian county. The jail was torn down in 1817.
