work carefully to keep it. For every other nation will be scrambling for oil gold.

Mr. Rockefeller, who is now thirty-eight years old, is the son of John D. Rockefeller and a nephew of John D. Sr. He was educated at Yale and after graduation became an employee of the Standard Oil Company.

Worth Knowing

When cooking very sour fruit such as cranberries add a very little salt to the water.

When there is a danger of a fire, get into a tub or a large metal container and pour water over you.

To toughen the skin of a hand, rub it with a mixture of water and a little common salt.

To which of the following would you like to belong? The club of the rich, the club of the famous, the club of the beautiful, the club of the powerful.

An excellent thing for a young man to do is to get a good education and then to get a good job.

Mother's Doll Story

Two Little Rag Dogs

THERE was once a mother who had two little rag dogs. One was named Tony and the other was named May.

One day Roy showed up at the nursery school. He had a nice nap and had a good meal.

While he was looking at the dog came trotting up the walk. He looked at Tony and May.

Roy felt that the dog was coming. So he raised the window and shouted to the big dog.

But he was too late. The big dog seized Tony in his huge mouth and tore a terrible hole in his rag side.

By this time Roy had run out with his papa's cane and scared the big dog away. So Tony and May were sent to a puppy hospital.

Halloween Suggestions

Next to Fourth of July and Christmas there is no time in the year which offers young folks so many opportunities for fun.

I am not going to plead in advance for the young folks who will get into the usual and inevitable amount of Halloween trouble.

What could be better than to put the old-time games in the category of the new and improved?

SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Corn and Buckwheat Good

Winter Feeds For Hens

An extra allowance of corn in the evening feed for hens when the weather promises to be severely cold is pretty good insurance.

Visit the houses at night and break up the habit some birds have of sleeping beneath the roosts.

It is sometimes very hard to part with a flock of surplus cockerels, yet those who raise chickens for a profit cannot afford to be "chicken-hearted."

It is poor policy to winter more male birds than are required for next season's breeders.

Keep the coop dark except at meal times, so there will be no inducement to exercise.

Removing Common Stains

Alcohol will not spoil the most delicate material and is safe to use in most cases where the source of the stain is unknown.

To remove iron rust and spots from white clothing cover the spots with lemon juice and salt and leave for awhile in the sun.

When fruit or seed stains have taken the color out of a piece of fabric, wash it with a solution of potassium permanganate.

A few drops of ammonia will remove ink stains from paper.

When a stain has been removed, wash the fabric with a solution of potassium permanganate.

CASTING A BELL

By F. A. MITCHEL

One of the fascinating though sad legends of the middle ages is about the casting of St. Mary's bell at Breslau, the capital of Silesia, in 1386.

They held them in importance to the edifice that held them. The composition and casting of one of them were matters of great skill.

Caspar Ulrich, who had served an apprenticeship at bell casting, was the nephew of the bishop of a cathedral in Brabant.

Bathing as a Means Of Conserving Health

The illness of the person is not the only reason for bathing.

It is necessary to bathe regularly to keep the skin in good condition.

Bathing helps to remove dirt and bacteria from the skin.

It also helps to relax the muscles and improve circulation.

Regular bathing is essential for good health.

Use soap and water for the best results.

Be sure to dry the skin properly after bathing.

Moisturize the skin to prevent dryness.

EVILS OF ALCOHOL

The first of all evils is that it is a great temptation.

It leads to many other evils, such as loss of health and happiness.

Alcohol is a poison that does more harm than good.

It is a great temptation that should be avoided.

Regular drinking leads to many problems.
