Materials for the Winter Coat

November with its chill winds is close at hand. Heavier outer garments will soon be a necessity, and although scissors have been busy for several weeks cutting the required lengths for new coats and dresses, there is no lack of variety in the assortment we have to-day.

Bolivia Cloth and Velours, soft, closely woven, light weight warm fabrics are very suitable for the full flowing garment that fashion decrees, and are deserving of first mention.

The velours may be found here in four shades of navy, three shades of brown, two shades of burgundy, also a garnet, plum and bottle green.

The Bolivias are shown in almost as many shades.

Other medium weight fabrics are English mixtures in a full range of colors, green, brown, gray, and black and white novelty plaids with blue and green grounds.

Beaver cloth in two qualities.

Cheviots in tan, brown, mahogany, in three shades of navy.

Novelty check velours in half a dozen color combinations.

Large block checks, and black and white checks flecked with color and black and gray stripes.

Among the heavier weaves are Melton Cloth in gray, blue and green mixtures. Boucle novelties in gray, green and brown with black.

Soft heavy reversible cloths with plaid backs in gray and blue.

Chinchillas in the staple shades.

Extra space is given this coating display in the rear of Aisle E. They are conveniently arranged, and your inspection is solicited.

A new comedy in 3 acts will be presented by the St. Boniface Footlight Club the early part of November. The play will be given at our parish hall for the benefit of the church and all efforts are being made to make this affair a big success. The St. Boniface Thespians are progressing rapidly at their rehearsals under the personal direction of Edward F. Hettig, who has successfully piloted their former productions. Special and novel scenery is being constructed and the complex situation and scenes demands a number of varied props and accessories and it is in carrying out these minor details both in scenery and acting that has added to their reputation on each successive production. These dramatic plays that are given by this club furnished a most satisfactory means of raising sums of money while at the same time giving the parishioners and outsiders an opportunity to enjoy a clever type of clean entertainment given by Catholic Thespians who diligently and zealously devote their time to this art. It is expected that both the young and old of this parish together with their friends will patronize the coming plays as well as on former occasions, which means encouragement to the players and also success in a financial way. Reserved seats for this farce comedy should be ordered at an early date and may be had by calling at the Rectory.

The members of the St. Boniface Young Men's Club Bowling League held a lively and active meeting at their community rooms on Wednesday evening when plans were mapped out for the coming season. Toppling the pins on the alleys has created a keen interest among the majority of these members and much competition and rivalry will breed in this indoor pastime the coming winter. A number of valuable prizes are offered at the end of each season to the holders of the best records and most skilful performers, the trophies being distributed at their annual banquet and roastfest. Pinocle, pool and billiard tournaments will also be held in the near future and smokers and socials will be given on various occasions, leaving but few dull moments in reserve for the members of this flourishing organization of young men.
