In the Arena of Sports

Pittsburgh's Strong Center.
Glenn Warner, head coach, has developed one of the strongest teams that has ever represented the University of Pittsburgh.

CAPTAIN BOB PECK.

Peck has had no trouble so far in more than holding his own in the line. In the recent game with Syracuse he played bravely with their greatest line men, tumbling them about with comparative ease.

To Review McGraw Case.
The John McGraw case will be handled by the board of directors of the National League when it meets in New York on the second Tuesday in December.

Sheldon Lost to Yale.
Chick Sheldon, captain left tackle of Yale, has probably played his last game at football. He is suffering from inflammatory rheumatism, believed to have been contracted while a member of the Yale artillery battalion in camp at Tokyama, Pa., during the summer.

Chief Fire Causes
A chief cause of fire is from gas. The lighting of gas should be done out of doors, and when the gas is in the room it should be turned off at once.

MUSIC IN THE NAMES.

Stevenson and the Tuneful Nomenclature of This Country.

To our house in Monterey Mr. Stevenson came often of an afternoon to read the results of his morning's work to the assembled family.

The name Arizona came out of his intense delight in the "sonful, tuneful" nomenclature of the United States, in which terms he refers to it in "The Amateur Emigrant."

CRUISING UNDER WATER.
Submarines Are Light Moving and Easily Controlled.
Ashore we make the mistake perhaps of thinking of a submarine as a heavy, logy body floating always for her life beneath an unfriendly ocean.

The Streets of Amsterdam.
Amsterdam in Holland, a city of ten miles in circumference, is mostly built on piles driven into the sandy soil, but the floating of the tide and the debris of the Amstel river have made ninety islands, and the city has more canals than streets.

Women on the Stage.
The earliest mention of actresses was in 1911 when Coray, in his "Crudities" gave this description of a production at the Theater of Venice, Italy.

Two Theories.
How do you account for Bliggins' nervousness?
"I don't know which theory to select. Those who like him say that his dyspepsia gives him a bad disposition, and those who don't say that his bad disposition gives him dyspepsia."—Washington Star.

A Risky Business.
The maker of a new sauce was liberally rewarded in ancient Rome, but if the product was not relished the inventor was required to eat of nothing else till he had discovered another condiment more agreeable to the Imperial taste.

MISS MANSFIELD

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN

Barradale was not able to get a vacation till October. On the 10th he went to a house a mile distant from a village, a house where they took summer boarders.

One morning when Barradale started out for his accustomed morning walk his landlady, Mrs. Stetson, asked him if he happened to go by the postoffice to bring the mail, adding that he was to give any letters that might come to her and no one else.

Having nothing else to do, Barradale took long walks, stopping for long rests—that is, when the retreating summer got the better of the coming autumn and it was warm enough to sit still.

There was no one in the house to interest Barradale except Miss Mansfield, and he longed to avail himself of her companionship.

At first she demurred, saying that he was a stranger to her, and she was not used to the society of men. Girls should be very careful with whom they associate.

"I am Mrs. Mansfield," he asked. "Mrs. Mansfield, I have been spending a month in the country, where I have met your daughter."

"You are the seventh person she has sent me to ask for her in the past six months. If I had known that a young man had gone to the same house in the country as she I would have warned him. Mrs. Stetson is very much to blame."

Most Common Causes Of Disease In Poultry

Diphtheria is generally caused by roosting or sleeping in a draft, or being confined in a damp place. The causes of ulcerated throat and canker are the same.

Diarrhea in chicks is often caused by sour food, bad water, damp quarters, filthy coops, exposure to cold or wet or too much green food.

Indigestion is caused principally by lack of sharp grit, overfeeding, unwholesome diet, injudicious use of grain or debilitated system.

Paint skins, half unslaked lime, etc., are often carelessly thrown about, the fowls eat it and sudden deaths from a "mysterious disease" are reported.

Grease spots may be removed by the application of carbon tetrachloride, according to H. F. Zoller, assistant in chemistry in the Kansas State Agricultural college.

Iron rust can be removed by fairly strong oxalic acid solution if allowed to stand on the goods for a short time, and often when it is exposed to the sunlight the action is a little quicker.

Light as Chaff.
The Usages of Foyalty.
A patriotic Scotchman was present at a meeting of a certain society, at which an eminent Shakespearean scholar dwelt on the virtues of the bard.

When Murphy Weakened.
Murphy was in the hospital and had undergone an operation. As he was recovering he remarked to the patient on his right, "I am thankful that's over."

MAKE YOURSELF A REALLY FORCEFUL MAN

Charles M. Schwab states in the American Magazine that integrity and personality are two important things in salesmanship.

"Integrity, incidentally, is one of the mightiest factors in salesmanship. If you have a reputation for making facts exactly, for never attempting to gain momentary advantage through exaggeration, you possess the basis of all successful salesmanship."

"Nothing is so plentiful in America as opportunity. There are more jobs for forceful men than there are forceful men to fill them. Whenever the question comes up of buying new works we never consider whether we can make the works pay. That is a foregone conclusion if we can get the right man to manage them."

THE WAY YOU LIVE.
Engage in nothing that trips you or degrades you. Your duty is self culture, self-education. You may not violate this sacred trust. You're in charge of profane it. You're in charge of wherewithal to abate your own members. Either subordinate your vocation to your life or quit it forever.—Amos Bronson Alcott.

Scolding a Bad Habit.
Scolding is society's habit. It is often the result of nervousness and an irritable condition of both mind and body. Scolding is a habit that is easily formed. It is an unattractive and unreasonable habit. Persons who once get into the way of scolding always find something to scold about. If there is nothing else they begin scolding at the mere absence of anything to scold at. It is an extremely disagreeable habit. It is contagious. Once introduced into a family it is pretty certain in a short time to affect all the members.

Must Efficiency Be Its Own Reward?

A business man went through a stage of stenographers—one more efficient than the others, and his business suffered because of their mistakes. Then he secured an efficient worker. The customers lost to him by former carelessness came back. He confesses that his correspondence has never been so well handled, and he takes pride in saying that he can go on business trips and his letters and customers will be as efficiently handled as if he were at the desk.

The Sober Man's Day.
This is the day of the sober man. The man who leads a clean, temperate life may not be brilliant, but he stands a better chance of succeeding than his more accomplished brother who turns his head with drink. Men of practical business have found after years of experience that it is better and safer to have about them men who are sober and who come to their work with clear heads than to have experts who cannot be relied upon.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

TOMORROW'S HANDLE.
Every tomorrow has two handles. One we can take hold of by the handle of anxiety or the handle of faith.—Barnes.
