

Practical Economy

Baking powders made from alum or phosphate may be bought for a trifle less than Royal Baking Powder, which is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes.

Alum powders are not only cheap, but they differ greatly in leavening power.

If a cheap baking powder is used for a fine cake and the cake turns out a failure there is a waste of costly materials worth more than a whole can of the cheap baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder produces the finest food, and its use therefore, results in an actual saving

A Salute That Might Have Carried Death in Its Train

In "Reminiscences" of William Statesman, a prominent New York politician, the author tells of a visit to a French town...

"As Mr. Statesman looked at the stern he said: 'Suppose you were in her shoes...'

"They obeyed with a will, and a few sturdy strokes...'

"Doesn't this seem a great deal?" asked a timid young woman of the steward.

"The vessel, ma'am," said the steward, "is trying to set a good example to the passengers."

The Art of Optimism

Live in the full of life. Intent on what you can do, not on what happens to you...

"I did not know that he was so stoutly...'

"There is all that is in the nature of the thing...'

"Bright Child. How long has your daughter been studying?"

"Five years, and she has made good progress...'

"Doesn't this seem a great deal?" asked a timid young woman of the steward.

"The vessel, ma'am," said the steward, "is trying to set a good example to the passengers."
