Martin O'Connor. Amanuensis

Why He Loved St. Patrick's 🖁

By P. A. MITCHEL

of hard work and perseverance made a you all the love of the O'Connors from "Ch, my goodness fortune. He left a sister in Iraland the day when the first O'Connor spoke charmed with a gasp who married Daniel O'Malley, and she of love to our first maternal ancestor " Bottom dropped out of the universe advantages, was better fitted for these ings for his aunit. replies. As the years rolled by and: "You're right," was the reply letters showed a better education than as a son should love a father" he wrote them in his father's name.

his father's absence and read a letter was on the subject of St. Patrick, Martin saw plainly that it had not "Please God he may be a priest" ocean and entered his heart

The next time Mr O'Connor gave some pure emotion ley Martin wrote a letter which was allie father, who was getting old, relied "To turn her out would be awful."

To turn her out would be awful."

To turn her out would be awful."

We needn't do that. We can fix it coived. One not knowing the relation affairs and wrote him not on any accord "so that she will go of her own accord "ship between the two correspondents." affairs and wrote nin not on any a specific that it had been of this letter Martin wrote that he had pletter Martin wrote that he ha son and rold him to reply in kind.

a considerable height Martin began to his sister's hand, with an occasional opening the window, do you-just, to "My dear boy," he began, taking me a ball at which I will introduce you to to a greater degree than Sam had acthink that he would like to investigate kiss Martin was the apple of his eye, let the odor out?" think that he would like to investigate kiss. Martin was the apple of his eye, let the odor out?"

hand, "and my dear little girl," taking society."

quired those of a gentleman, rested this aunt of his to whom he was mak and, although he was leath to lose the "Fanny has a bad cold, you know."

Fanny's band, "I have something to Sam held the check in his hand, her fingers lightly on Sam's arm, and her soul. He began to express to his its return. ground his father had often described door was opened and Patrick O'Connor like a dog and a cat at first catching to him where the O'Connors were saw his sister he exclaimed:

desirous of visiting the grave of this ago." iminent son of the church.

incestors, who, by the bye, had from daughter." suggested that it would be well for ing to his son, he said im to time his visit for St. Patrick's

"The very thing," said Mr. O'Connor "You may attend services on that an of St. Patrick's day?" niversary in the very church where Bishop O'Connor preached."

ing to be with his aunt on the 17th, once preached, and in the evening we: "That is, to equivocate or knuckle his veins knows is St. Patrick's day loved her and must take her back to fits or her strength. Per contra, I re-Before saying goodby to him his fa America with me as my wife."

"Be sure to make it plain to your aunt that I'm very fond of her, and "You remember that you asked me that was ever sprung on a Christian all that. You know how to say such to answer my nunt's letters to you people." things better than I do, and I rely on Well, Aunt Nora deputed Alleen to you to express my feelings."

"Trust me for that, father," said Martin. "I'll do it warmly."

A lefter came from the young man And there you are:" postmarked London stating that he cas about to leave for the home of niversary celebrated in Martin O'Conthe O'Connors the next day. Later a lor's family.

long leiter was received dec meeting with his aunt and how he spent St Patrick's day "in compa-'it sali, 'nith that beloved Woman who has written her brother such beau tiful letters I attended services, sitting directly under the pulpit where our great Blahop O'Connor preached those soul stirring sermons. Later we visited the plot where the O'Connors are buried, and I sat beside my aunt on a stone beneath which Fergus O'Connor, my great-grandfather, rests It seemed to me that the family affect tion for which our ancestors were marked was rising, a sort of etherea aroma. Something struck a respon-Patrick O'Connor came to America brating. So affected was I that I drew One morning my wife received a wasn ne was a mere lad and by dint pered in her car. Dear heart, I bear ter that seemed to paralyze her.

was separated from her brother for This part of the letter met with andear?" I asked. many years. He was used to sending enthusiastic response from Patrica, "Worse, Aunt Abigail will have to her money occasionally, and after O'Connor and all his family. The good live with us. She's written that her viet me all your glass."

while, when she had grown older, she man rejoiced that in his som he had friend with whom she has had a house. "No. Sh." putting his hand over it. One day Sam was running his can addiction, a leader in society and an analysis of the read and instantiant of the Trehornes.

O'Consor became more and more pros didn't think of it in that light. Mar. Aunt Abigaii arrived. We had previperous it seemed to his sister that his the is a very good boy and loves me ously considered our home entirely our came Martin's part to write these thing that happened seemed to turn my blood run cold.

check bearing letters to lds aunt, but upon that eventful analyersary. Al "Well," she exclaimed, looking about of thanks for a remittance. It was The Toy shows great enthusiasm could as well have put it up on that like patting the old lady on the back footboard. Once there, he stopped the largest of the season. It was not given written in Mrs. O'Malley's name, but for his church," said his mother hill, where you could see something?" But it did not squelch Uncle Rober' car just as it was about to plunge over at the town residence of the Iddletons, been written by her. It here the im If the cathedrals Martin visited in Aunt Abigail. I p there we would squelchable gratified in it, and it was overflow He seemed to be totever dawding always afraid they'll breathe a little wife arose from the tarb. She is and tobiahong the tichest upholstery the hostess, who was receiving with ing with kindliness as well. It seem about the grounds in which these hory fresh air. I'm not I sheep with my woman, wes dreading a fraces and I and wraps. She fainfed the moment the greet of honor beside her. An in ed to Martin that an emanation from a edifices stood, and the depth of his wholow open, and like to have a gale, was not anyfous to have a break or by the danger had passed and remained troduction between Sum and Miss Trelovely girl and been walted across the feelings seemed to come through his blowing in right on me. You should so early in the gameaunt, who was always exciting to fifth have fronted your house to the south."

his-son a check to send to Mrs. O Mat. Martin's time abroad was united of her," I said to my wife.

it he wondered at this unusual denion could not do so even with les wife find a way to get rid of Uncle Robert stration of affection, but set it down to However be could think of to way to Perhaps they may both go to get rid the fact that his sister was growing head off his sister's visit and prepared of each other strailve, he handed the letter to his day had gone by three months before of yours. Suppose we try it?" her uncle, the other presumably to to blin than the month of whiles and down upon us bug and buggage lifs aunt, which grew warmer and dust Still, he had written that he "My dear boy," he exclaimed, pat some subject which was a per with debt she might one him in love with his aunt or whether he about the return of Martin October to think that I in to have a home with and Panny and I were getting impa wrote a she k for $1,000 payable to the hand of one lady after another, he whenever he saw one delivered by the own most tree and to go there as spon sick."

postman written in the well known as he had reached home. He would say a her earthly part was as beautiful as " him that it might be ready against breathe the cool air of heaven." father a desire for a trip abroad and. Martin arrived in the evening and room went Fanny. Half an hour after ing hard to appear much disappointed unkind and ungenerous in him to re. Sam was later called away to be in especially to visit the green isle where drove to his bachelor quarters, where my uncle arrived dinner was announc even shocked his ancestors had lived and died. He the O'Connor family were waiting for ed. I was watching our guests when became very pathetic over a plot of him and his aunt. When the front they entered the dining room. It was aunt is also going."

minent son of the church.

"I'm not Nora," she said on throw, cle Robert's rulled Aunt Abigail.

Mr. O'Connor, much pleased that his ing her arms about Mr. O'Connor, "I'm." "This wouldn's voting craze"— on should take this interest in his Aileen O'Connor, your sister's adopted was beginning. ime immemorial been stalwart church. A bewildered look came over the cors, consented that Martin should go man's face, then an idea seemed to broad in the early spring, and Martin be boring its way into his brain. Turn, enough. I object to your calling wom-'Mart."

"Well, dad, what is it?"

"What made you suddenly so fond "Well, to tell the truth, ded, in the morning Alleen and I went to mass in and not attempting to straddle"-Martin sailed early in March, arrang the church where Bishop O'Conner "Sir!" which every one with Irish blood in sat on his temb, I telling lier that I down, defending the cause with all "And what's all this about your aunt?"

reply to the replies. The result was that I fell in love with my aunt and Alleen fell in love with her uncle

St. Patrick's day is the principal an

Antidote

It Was Based on the Principle That Like Cures Like.

By WILLIAM CHANDLER

"Oh, my goodness gractous!" she ex-

"Well we'll have to make the best i of it."

own. With the coming of our relative

One day Martin opened the mail in occur from Martin and every book this house down in a hollow it must ture." "We live here winter and summer, for the simple reason that he was untithe slope old and as persons age their affection to shou as much affection as possible. Your plan scene rather impractica sight of each other. Both seemed to "Voting what, sir?" "Craze, madam," raising his voice. "I'm not deaf. I heard you well an's suffrage a craze."

"Are you an advocate of woman's

"I most assuredly am."

a principle standing by that principle train."

serve the same privilege for myself. Woman's subrage I consider the most abominable, diabolical, illogical rot

"And I consider it one of the holiest

'ล บ์ธes'' --

'nele Robert, "that there's a good deal onted together in this new idea of die: what's his name who is proving that the less we eat the more work we can do is going to create a revolution."

"Have you adopted his idea?" asked Aunt Abigail spitefully. Considering that I had just filled Uncle Robert's plate for a second time this was unkind. "I have not, madam, for the reason that I am not yet satisfied that his views are correct. I'm nothing if not scientific. I must see a thing proved before I adopt it." "Would you prove woman's suffrage before adopting it?" This was quite bright of Aunt Ab gail

"I admit, replied Uncle Robert, that to prove it before adopting it Sam had met Jennie Williams at a would be impossible. It isn't neces barn dance, and then and there had pose of calling a truce and preventing in youthful breasts. Jennie was a good, Miss Traborne made inquiries among Aunt Abigail from firing a return shot, girl, a pretty girl and in every respect her friends and learned that the lady cially an old man," snapped the aunt old toper me, was fired at Uncle Robert.

for the stomach's sake ' " press of a young girl, and a very in company with his aunt was any cri freeze in cold weather "

There was real terion he hade fair to be an archigishop "Freeze! Nonsense! Some people are last, to prevent an open repture, my tume, the car being a handsome one hie in care of her brother and sought

"Let them go their own guit My Sam opinion is that one or the other will. "I was paralyzed with fear."

aloned Alicen to express for her her appreciation of her brother's interest in her and assure him that his sister had not lost any of her affection for him during their long separation.

Alicen, feeling that she was writing that she was writing that she was writing that the could satisfy his demonstrative path had not lost any of her affection for him during their long separation.

Alicen, feeling that she was writing that she was writing that the could satisfy his demonstrative path had not lost any of her affection for him during their long separation.

Alicen, feeling that she was writing that she was writing that the could satisfy his son but if she were get his hands on at the cats. Now, it has occurred to me to bring him here from a sister to a brother, did not with him this would devolve upon him has occurred to me to bring him here must needs be encumbered by all her been wrecked. I will see that a new Was he dreaming? Had he gone to the part of the part of such make as you daft? Had he gone had been born into of earing for my father's brother h your loss . For saying my life isk any. There before him, robed in a cloud his old age it would break my heart boon, and it evenly power it shall be of slik and lace, smiling at him, was suspected the old lady had employed that his parents could not understand, you' I'm me anywhere A garret is bent for the denonement, when one bearer, and handed it to him. an amantients doesn't appear, but one in the first place he animous ed that he good enough for a broken down old day under same to me and said that he ... The first thing you will need," she the loving coder like me. Them, but warmed his heart to thing is certain—the letters he receive had decided since he had been away coder like me. Thew, Somebody's would like to have a few words with said, "is clothes, I mean clothes for shered him, but warmed his heart to the decame in time so affectionate that from home to live thereafter under his been smoking here. Do you smoke me and fanny alone. He looked very daily wear and for evening dress her as never before. He had seen her whenever he saw one delivered by the own toof free and to go there as spon. announce his departure. He was a dress yourself as a city man. Then go try girl, now she appeared with all hand he appropriated it to himself, and take his aunt with him for a house since you've come, uncle," I said.

Fanny made faint hearted attempts to granted

If is quite keeper. The only comfort to be decome, uncle," I said.

Oh, don't mind me. I can stand one's feelings, and to appear ungrate anything else you may need to fit your horne took her brother's arm and Jennie. likely that Alicen did the same with rived by his parents from this was by anything, got to stand it. I've made ful would break his heart I called self to appear in society. As soon as walked away, leaving Sam and Jennie those letters that came from America. his father, who was relieved to know a dead failure of life and don't deserve l'anny into the library, shut the don he reports to me that you are sufficient standing together. Jennie, who had When love's quicksfiver had attained that he would not have to sit helding anything else. You don't mind my and waited for the old man to speak ally equipped for the purpose I will give acquired the manners of a lady even am going to leave you."

This was indeed a surprise.

ness of both of us. It did not seem in a ballroom.

that we could live under the same roof ing to shed tears. Then he added ab ruptly. "We are both going to leave you to morrow

"Yes, both We are to be quietly his country love married at a o'clock and leave on a 'Goodness gracious!" from Fanny "Great Scott" from me. But we shall be gone only a few days." "And then?" exclaimed Fanny and I reathlessly putting a hand on each of our head, who spent her summers at her coun-country clothes, came along in the we return to spend the rest of our try residence, half a dozen miles from wagon. ives with our dear niece and nephew. Jennie's home. Mrs. Treborne would and folded her in his arms. Heaven helps those who help them send her auto for Jennie in the morn. "Jennie," he said, "the only advanselves. At any rate, heaven came to ing and send her back in the evening, tage city people have over us is in "Aunt Abigail." interposed my wife, our relief. I inherited $20,000 from the girl spending the day at such in their clothes. In all other respects we do let me help you to this little bit a maternal uncle. Of this I put $5,000 ferior work as was required. The day have the advantage of them. I'm goof wing. You're not eating enough to in a house for the old couple and in after the parting between the lovers ing to save up and buy you a swell leed a sparrow."

Costed the rest in an anulity for them. Jennie went to her daily work and costume and dress you up in it once a

From Farm to City

How a Country Boy Became a Lion In Society.

By ESTHER VANDEVEER

Sam Atkins was a farmer boy.

would be impossible. It isn't neces barn dance, and then and there had of twenty, at once fell in with her sary to prove it. Any fool can see commenced the union of hearts that mother's plan to give Jennie the ad "Uncle." I interrupted for the pur-grows stronger quickly when planted vantage that was afforded her lover.

would sometimes depute her adopted one to make up for his own andemon is to give up her house the 1st of May. "No. sif." putting his hand over it one day Sam was running his car iddiction, a leader in society and an would sometimes depute her adopted one to make up for his own andemon is to give up her house the 1st of May. "not at ail, sir I drink just one glass on the road and just about to turn into acquaintance of the Trehornes.

That the boy could have for so much only relative, and, of course, she exceptions. The truth is that she be his father's sister."

The truth is that she be his father's sister."

The woman had not been very well she had not been very she had not been ve "Nothing is so disgusting to me as at just beyond the Atkins farm, and her be, except by a long period of coach The shot, white it applied partly to was avident she dreaded, for as she Mrs. Iddleton issued invitations for a me, was fired at Uncle Robert.

passed Sam she was crying: "Over the built at her city residence. Sam was avident she was crying: "Over the built at her city residence. Sam was an acknown.

er the stomach's sake."
"Yes," retorted Aunt Abigail "and she had passed him he gave chase ther. The Trebotne family were invitpackage of books came across the her, "how did you ever come to build I know that the devil can quote Scrip passed her, shut off power in his ma ed, he beling their guest. Jennie Wil chine, jumped out and as the other liams have been a swamp once when you This was so well turned that I felt car went by him jumped on to the The iddleton ball was one of the very unconscions for hair a minute. During horne resulted, and the girl remained As soon as l'anny and I were about this brief interval Sam cast a glance with him till the date ling began, and I can't stand this We must get rid together we sat down and houghed. at his own modest car, which had been he was obliged to ask her to be his "Did you ever see mything work wreeked against a tree, then at the partner more beautifully?" I said, slapping in sumptious appointments of the one Mes. I

he had saved

scruple to express all the affection her self. As to embracing his sister sit as a foil for your aunt. She can't post trusband's relatives. I told my uncl. one is sent you of such make as you daft? Had he died and been born into the comfort may choose. This is simply to replace mother world? Mr. O'Conner When the recipient read with his arm around her waist, he such a man and when she's gone I'll that if I were deprived of the comfort may choose. This is simply to replace another world?

quiet her aunt and agreed with her; Sam protested that he had done noth. He was brought to himself by his for those of their own blood ripens It was the month of June when Mar ble to me, Billy, but I have a good dent that my uncle was a triffe hard to get ing that my one else would not have partner tugging at him to turn him. for those of their own blood ripens | It was the month of June when Mar ble to me, Billy, but I have a good deal that any most was a trial and to the partner tagging at that to be back on Jennie and bow to the opposition of the same time done under the circumstances and the back on Jennie and bow to the opposition of the back of the partner tagging at that the back of the back of the back of the opposition of the back of t but Martin still barped upon it in his. So I wrote Unclo Robert offering a her aunt had on her. It is true that and he said that he had always had a Sum did not recover from his sur letters, and each the mouth of roses home temporarily and if he liked it accasionally there would be a just a fancy to ming of or a brief season prise during the dance. He blundered up between Martin O'Connor and though it seems to appeal very strong as long as he fixed. He accepted eager the hostPities and we would find the among persons of wealth. If the lady at every turn, but, fortunately for him. Affect, the one writing supposedly to ir to the young note was no more than by and it was not long before he was two shatting quite and addy. But this would give him an opportunity to at others blundered as well, for the lan was when they happened to strike tend a ball she would have repaid any cers had not been danced before in warmer till the letters between the could not possely reteirn till June and that me off the back how you do re toth. As soon as they drifted into. She looked him over from head to unfamiliar with it. It was not till the brother and sister became almost lover, there appeared to be some especial real mind the of your father! He and I opies on which they disagreed the foot, evidently taking in his natural last figure in the dance, the grand ke. Son for the delay were inseparable as boys, and I've car coar of buttle recommenced. fitness for taking a place among the chain, that Sam recovered his senses. Whether Martin was really falling. There were a good many times field you on my shoulder often. And Several weeks passed in this way elife, then went to an escritoire and Then, while passing round, graspling ing a semi brotherly love and see if how from his home, he fitted up a house "Just the thing to cure her. Let her announce which will surprise you doubtful whether to accept or return together they went to sents lined it. The lady saw what was on his against the wall. There Jennie told Up went the window, and out of the "Oh, uncle" we both exclaimed, try mind and told him that it would be her story.

fuse her the privilege of rewarding troduced as the lion of the evening; "Yes, I am going away, and your him for preserving her very existence, but, despite the flattering words that "Your kindness has brought about a a fashionable dancing school and, after him that repelled him Nothing seem moldering. An O'Connor had been at "I'pon my word, Nora, you're not a crouch for an encounter. Neither spoke great change in two lonely lives. For giving him such a function as he had ed sincere. makenop, and Martin expressed himself bit older than you were thirty years to the other for some time after taking a time it seemed to both of us that we never sat down to before, sent him off Sam remained there a week, and seats at table. Then a remark of Un must thwart your plans for the happi to prepare himself for an appearance it was the most miserable week of als

all would be

and find the dancing master, Jennie wagon. to her room to weep.

"And then," resumed the old man a Mrs. Trehorne, a wealthy woman road when Sam, who had donned his ployer asked her what was troubling have you as you are.

This man granders are supplied to the story and received sympathy A day or two later while lennie was plying her needle Mrs. Treowne said to her: Jennie, how would you like to go to the ball that your sweetheart is to Jennie looked up at her questioner with a radiance that was a more speaking reply than words. Then ber employer said that she had been thinking of the matter and resolved to do for her what was to be done for Sam. She told Jennie to drop her work, go home and prepare for a removal b another lecality.

Mrs. Trehorne sent Jennie to her daughter in the city with a letter unfolding her plan and asking her to prepare the girl for an appearance to society Miss Sophle Trehorne, a girl was approaching a turn in the road to attend a ball in high life as he could eyes were fixed in terror on it. On ing, and even then he would smack the outer curve was a slope, which if of the country. The result was that Letters showed a better education than as a son should love a father own. With the coming of our relative me, was fired at there is, was fired at the relative me, was fired at there is, was fired at the relative me, was fired at there is, was fired at the relative me, was fired at there is, was fired at the relative me, was fired at there is, w

The skirmishing went. Then he saw that the woman driving rant with entertaining rooms on the

Mrs. Iddleton had arranged to open her ball with an old square dance, the "Why didn't you shut her off?" said lancers. Miss Trehorne led Sam from forming in the center, and her brother "Do you think you can get on now?" conducted Jennie in the same direc Mrs. O'Malley concluded that her become impossible to tear himself possible, than your Aunt Abigail. He said that he couldn't live in the same world. I've been taking lessons. This as this set was formed, and Sam, be at in his old age. It was couched in away from her. He would not over a dictatorial old carmidgeon, with a star and was going to is the first time I have been out alone." In our of his natural element, was so finded Alicen to express for her her with him to visit her dear brother.

With a cat and was going to is the first time I have been out alone. In our of his natural element, was so finded a consented to go to Americal his own. He is as poor as a church to Fanny and said she could not possible to the requirements of an entire time. The music started up as soon said that he couldn't live in the same world. I've been taking lessons. This as this set was formed, and Sam, be had consented to go to Americal his own. He is as poor as a church to Fanny and said she could not possible to the requirements of an entire that her become impossible to tear himself possible, than your Aunt Abigail were said that he couldn't live in the same world. I've been taking lessons. This as this set was formed, and Sam, be at and was going to is the first time I have been out alone." In our of his natural element, was so find the couldn't live in the same to the first be same of the live in the same of the years, and nearly all the dancers were came to Jenute The hand pressure.

Jennie Williams

So Sam yielded. She then wrote the were said to him, he was bored. There name and address of the proprietor of was a hollowness in everything about life. It seemed that all his time was Sam went right away to his sweet taken up trying to avoid breaking in heart and told her of his adventure upon good manners. He was intro-He paused, and I thought he was go and its result. Jennie looked grave duced at clubs, but he did not see that and told him that he would never be the men he met there had anything to satisfied again with country life, that do but drink cocktails and smoke. He he would aspire to marry some girl was taken to functions, but it seemed whom he would meet in high life and to him that the people there were manover between him and ikins for showing the fashions. At the end of the week he told Mrs. Iddleton Sam protested with his lips, but not that she had repaid any debt whe "I believe in any one who advocates short wedding trip on the 10 o'clock by his looks. So wrapt in the future might owe him and he was pining for was he that he scarcely heard what a breath of country air. She offered to Jennie was saying. They parted, Sam send him home in her auto, but he to go to the city to buy new clothes preferred to "get a hitch" on a market

Jennie had returned to her home the Now, Jennie was an excellent seam day after the ball. The day Sam re stress and was doing some sewing for turned she was taking a walk down the

"I'm inclined to think," remarked strangely enough, they are quite con-appeared so disconsolate that her em-mouth. At all other times I'd rather line fuln shot De

YOU

abon

sma' sewi o Ho rub and tic v # fati

ZBW over of all and ( the s minu oggs BAUCE hoilit thick

grate

Okla

poun

At w That

Inter